HIGH SCHOOL NIGHT

Graduating Exercises With Attractive Program

JOHN J. ROGERS, the Valedictorian.

Harvey N. Shepard of Boston the Orator—Other Addresses—The Valedictory Delivered by John Jacob Rogers—The Graduates and Star Scholars—Two Presentations

The inclement weather last evening, while it might have threatened misfortune to the elaborate summer toilettes of the young ladies, and thereby caused temporary worriment, could not for long depress the spirits of the bright young graduates of the Lowell High school, who, as the class of '99, last evening, entered into the vast arena of life, finely prepared for the battle to come, and most auspiciously introduced to the great world.

It was graduating night at the High school, and all Lowell was astir, for High school graduations have long ago taken their place among Lowell's greatest of events. For days past there has been a mad hunt for the coveted tickets of admission, and when the hour for the affair drew near last evening, all roads led to the Opera House, the scene of the exercises, and at eight o'clock the capacity of the theatre was taxed.

The exercises were of a characteristically high order and the elaborate program was carried out with finished preparation, the inevitable nervousness of the young contributors to the exercises disappeared before the hearty applause of their enthusiastic friends. The members of the graduating class were seated upon the stage in well arranged tiers forming a most attractive picture, the beauty of which was enhanced by the graceful arrangement of flags and the national colors upon a white background, with stately palms hedging the front of the stage from the auditorium.

The exercises opened promptly at eight o'clock, and then the progam was as follows:

THE PROGRAM.

1. March.
American Orchestra.
2. Overture "Tannhauser" ....Wagner
American Orchestra.
3. Chorus "Praise Ye the Father"
..... Gounod

Praise ye the Father,
His power is everlasting;
Praise ye the Father,
Give thanks for all his benefits;
Sing forth your praises,
Let ev'ry heart be joyful;
Praise ye the Father,
Great Ruler, kind and merciful!

Praise be to Him,
Who hath shown His mighty pow'r.
Let ev'ry voice sound His praise
With exulting strains of gladness!
Great is the Lord,
Let His name be praised forever;
Come ye forth with your hearts attuned to sing.
Arise, and praise ye the Father.
Glory to the Father!
To the great and mighty Ruler!
Glory to the Father.
Who alone hath the pow'r to save!
Loudly let the chorus swell!
Loudly let the tuneful anthems ring!
Love and joy be now in every thankful heart.
Oh, praise ye the Lord!

4. Salutatory, "The Three-Fold Destiny"
Ella Maude Coffin.
5. Chorus "'Tis Morn" ..Adam Geibel

'Tis morn and the shadows of the night are fled away
While the skylark sings at the break of day.

O'er the eastern hills now creeping,
Comes the sun, the God of day,
Waking nature from her sleeping,
Making all things bright and gay.

Come, while the skies are smiling,
Come ev'ry care beguiling,
Let us the hours be whiling,
In pleasure and peace away.

Come gather fragrant flowers,
Come then to woodland bowers,
Thus all the happy hours,
Shall be spent till the close of day.

6. Address.
Hon. Harvey N. Shepard.
7. Concert Waltz, The Angel's Dream.
..... Tobani
American Orchestra.
8. Presentation of Picture by Class of 1899. Mr. Carl D. Burtt for the Class of '99.
Presentation of Picture by Class of 1899. Samuel Fay Barrows for Class of '99.
Acceptance for the School. Mr. Frank K. Stearns, member of the school committee.
9. Valedictory, "Discipline"
John Jacob Rogers.
10. Chorus "To Thee, O Country." National Hymn. Words by Anna E. King. Music by Julius Eichberg.

To thee, O country, great and free
With trusting hearts we cling;
Our voices tuned by joyous love,
Thy pow'r and praises sing.

Upon thy mighty, faithful heart,
We lay, we lay our burden down
Thou art the only friend who feels
Their weight without a frown.

For thee, we daily work and strive,
To thee we give our love;
For thee, with fervor deep, we pray,
To Him, who dwells above.

O God, preserve our Father-land
Let peace, let peace its ruler be
And let her happy kingdom stretch
From north to southmost sea!

11. Presentation of Carney Medals. Honorable Mention made of those who have attained a scholarship rank of 90 per cent.
Supt. A. K. Whitcomb.
12. Walther's Prize Song. From "Der Meistersinger." ..... Wagner
American Orchestra.
13. Presentation of Diplomas.
His Honor, Mayor Jeremiah Crowley.
14. Singing of Class Ode.
Words by Helen Estelle Bowers. Music by Joseph Hayden. German composer, 1732-1809.

Classmates, now the bond we sever
That has held our lives as one;
Sadly comes the thought that never
Can these happy hours return.

Though our hearts are filled with sorrow
As we clasp the parting hand,
Hope points out a bright tomorrow,
Bids us onward turn our gaze.

What the future holds is hidden;
None can lift the mystic veil.
We to do our best are bidden,
Calmy then to wait the end.

Heavenly Father, may thy blessing
On this waiting class descend,
And the love past all expressing,
Guide us till our task is done.

15. "America."
16. Finale, "The Charlatan" ...Sousa
American Orchestra.

The literary portion of the program began with the salutatory, a thoughtful essay on "The Three-fold Destiny," delivered without manuscript by Miss Ella Maude Coffin. The lesson it imparted was that the graduates must not seek in distant places the duty of life that may be found close to their own door.

The salutatory was followed by the singing of "'Tis Morn," by Geibel, and then Principal Cyrus W. Irish, who was master of ceremonies, introduced as the speaker of the evening, Hon. Harvey N. Shepard of Boston.

Mr. Shepard spoke in part as follows:

"Of the privileges to speak, which have been given to me, there is none which I shall remember more gratefully than this. When I recall the many distinguished men who have made Lowell their home and when I look about upon the great industries which in less then three generations you have established here, I am glad to be permitted, even for an hour, to make one with you. More than all, I am glad to speak to you, young men and young women, who now are to step over the threshold from the life of preparation to the life of action. I rejoice in the enthusiasm and in the courage with which you look forward to the future.

"Soon the Twentieth Century will have begun. The first pages of its history will be written largely by you and by those like you in the future who now become graduates. It is a glorious opportunity.

"However brilliant the Nineteenth century it probably is as a tallow candle to the splendor of the sun of the Twentieth Century. It would be folly to indulge in prophecy but the achievements of the present are a sure warrant of the future. Into this arena you are to enter. Here you are to fight the battes of life. Envy will assail you, malice will smite you, and treachery will try to entrap you. Many a fond ideal you will find to be an illusion, will grow weary and at times almost disheartened. But be not cast down. However much noise petty and mean men may make, they are in the minority. The best men prevail in the end, and they will bid you a cordial welcome and help you on to victory. Do not join the ignoble mob ever swaying from one side to the other and ever ready to give the hemlock cup to whoever would be its teacher and leader, but make truth your guiding star, be of sincere convictions and have the courage to stand by your beliefs though the heavens should fall.

"You will take up different and many occupations, trades and professions. Choose carefully and then make the most of your choice but do not let it become your whole life.

A perfect machine is possible only because men work constantly at distinct parts. Their very narrowness of occupation tends to a like narrowness of mind.

"On the other hand, one should not look down upon his calling. If it be pursued merely as a grim necessity then man is a slave. We can find in it not only our own support but a satisfaction of the genuine need of another.

People Who Trade With Us
Find Us Very Accommodating

For one reason or another it is not always convenient to pay all cash for furniture, carpets or a range. Sometimes the purchase has to be made a little before the time one expected, or you have been "boarding out" and that takes about all the money you earn. (The difference between that and "keeping house" would make the weekly payments) or you don't want to take money out of the bank just then and lose the interest. Whatever the reason, come to us, pay about a third down and we'll accommodate you, and we won't charge you any more and no interest. Of course we prefer to sell for cash; but we want your trade either way.

HARVARD HONORED

Admiral Sampson, Gen. Wood and Others by Degrees

Pres. Eliot Announced Gifts Amounting to $1,250,000 During the Year—Jules Cambon, French Ambassador to the United States Also Present—Other Features.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

CAMBRIDGE, June 29.—Nine rapid-fire "rahs" for "Dr." Sampson.

Eighteen more for "Dr." Wood.

Harvard rendered its decision yesterday on the controversy as to whom the honors of the Santiago naval battle belonged and "everything came Admiral Sampson's way."

The only hero of commencement day who could claim a louder tribute of acclaim was General Leonard C. Wood; and so demonstrative did the scene in Memorial hall become at one time that the Rough Rider who never quailed from Mauser bullets or Cuban sanitation problems blushed with embarrassment and seemed fearful of raising his eyes from the strawberries piled in front of him as he delivered his address.

M. Jules Martin Cambon, the French ambassador, was another lion of the day who, created a doctor of laws in the morning, returned thanks in his native tongue at the banquet, speaking in French at the suggestion of the toastmaster, who assured him the graduates would understand him just as plainly as though he used the classical tongues.

Harvard did the graceful thing toward Yale by creating her president-elect, Arthur Twining Hadley, a doctor of laws; but he was unable to be present to respond for himself and the "Ells."

THE GRADUATES DINNER.

The "graduates' dinner" in Memorial Hall was the crowning event of the week to the alumni—to the "old boys" as the poet Holmes styled them—to the "fellows" as Horace Davis, a 49er, addressed them. By classes they had tramped across the campus and under the trees.

Massed in the doorways, out of the rain, the undergraduates cheered class after class as they passed with the nine Harvard "rahs" followed by the year of the class; and when some athletic hero of former generations was recognized he was singled out and cheered by name.

The ladies who looked down from the balconies could trace the generations of graduates by signs as unmistakable as though each man were stencilled with the date of his graduation.

At the right hand of the toastmaster there sat in order, President Eliot, Ambassador Cambon, Alexander Agassiz, General Wood and other recipients of honorary degrees. At the left were Governor Wolcott, Admiral Sampson (almost hidden behind a spreading palm), Bishop Lawrence and others, including Lieutenant-Governor Crane.

President Eliot in a speech announced the year's gifts to have amounted to $1,250,000.

A rousing welcome was accorded Admiral Sampson and General Wood when presented as speakers. They spoke upon war matters.

HONORARY DEGREES.

The honorary degrees had been conferred at the commencement exercises in Sanders theatre in the morning, as follows:

DOCTOR OF LAWS.

Jules Cambon, French ambassador to the United States.

Kentaro Kaneko, the distinguished Japanese noble.

William T. Sampson, rear admiral, U. S. N.

Major General Leonard A. Wood, of Rough Rider and Santiago fame.

Edward W. Hooper, formerly treasurer Harvard college.

Athur T. Hadley, president-elect of Yale.

MISS ELLA M. COFFIN, the Salutatorian.

SULLIVAN'S DEATH

Jere. Sullivan Killed at Graniteville

HE WAS FORMERLY OF LOWELL.

The sad death of Jeremiah Sullivan who was killed at Graniteville greatly shocked the many Lowell friends of the young man. Sullivan was a former resident of this city where he spent most of his early days. He resided in Salem street about 16 years ago, when he went to Graniteville. He was about 28 years old and leaves besides a widow and two children, a sister and mother, both of whom reside in Graniteville and a brother Daniel, who resides on Cross street, this city.

Sullivan was foreman of the job on which the men were working at the time of the accident. He was one of the foremost citizens of the town. Sullivan's father was also the victim of an accident, having been killed by a horse about 12 years ago.

The body of Louis Caza, the young French-American who was killed at Graniteville yesterday was last night removed to this city by Undertaker Archambault who left for that place in company with the brother of the unfortunate man soon after the news of the sad accident reached the latter. The victim was 28 years old, a stone mason by trade and was unmarried. He was practically a native of this city, residing here nearly all his life. He lived at 737 Aiken street with his mother and brother Antoine, besides whom he leaves three other brothers, John of 121 Willie street this city, Joseph of Achelot, R. I., and Charles of Fall River; also a sister, Miss Marie of St. Amerset, Canada. The remains have been taken to the home of John Caza on Willie street, whence the funeral will take place.

WORE OVER-ALLS

How Students Got Back at School Board

"WORK" IS THE CLASS MOTTO.

The School Board Has Resigned.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

LYONS, Neb., June 28—The school board of this city resigned in a body yesterday because the High School graduating class persisted in appearing on the stage on commencement night garbed in overalls. The students claim to have suffered certain humiliations at the hands of the board and by way of retaliation adopted the word "Work" for their class motto and determined to appear in laborers garb, to claim their diplomas.

The board, learning of the plan, endeavored to suppress it, and failing in that, told the class that expenses of the opera house would not be met from the school fund. The graduates answered this move by charging an admittance fee and the townspeople entered into the spirit of the jest, crowded the house to the doors. The board looked upon this result as an endorsement of the students course and resented it by abandoning the management of the city's educational affairs.

GRAND WEDDING

Cong. Riordan and Miss Caldwell Married

1500 INVITATIONS SENT OUT.

The Cathedral Crowed With Guests.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 28.—There was a brilliant wedding at the Catholic Cathedral in this city early this morning, when Miss Edith Maud Caldwell, daughter of Dr. William H. Caldwell of this city, was united to Hon. Daniel J. Riordan, member of Congress from the City of New York. Fifteen hundred invitations had been sent and a large delegation of friends of the groom arrived this morning from New York on a specially chartered steamer.

At 11 o'clock a high Nuptial mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Craig, a classmate of the groom, assisted by Rev. Fathers Matthew G. Gleson, Edward J. Morgan and Thomas A. Kelley, all graduates of Manhattan College, of which Congressman Riordan is an alumnus.

The maid of honor was Miss Annabel Lanson of New York, and the bridesmaids Miss Greenwood of Portland, Me., and Miss Borden, Miss Baker and Miss Perkins of this city. The best man was Mr. John Slevin of New York, and the ushers Messrs. Gilchrist, Rourke, and Prall of New York, and Hon. John E. Fitgerald of Brooklyn.

Nearly every seat in the cathedral was occupied during the ceremony, and after its conclusion a wedding reception and breakfast were given at the residence of the bride's parents, No. 7 John street.

THE MINERS RIOT

Three Negroes Dead and One Dying

TROUBLE STARTED IN PURSUIT OF RAPIST.

Alabama Aroused Over the Occurrence.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., June 28.—Three negroes are dead and one is not expected to live, as a result of a riot between the white and negro miners at the ore mines near Cardiff, Jefferson county. The dead are Ed. Ellis, Jim Dill, Adam Samuels. The wounded: Rudolph Williams, George Thomas, the latter mortally.

The two races came to a clash yesterday afternoon in Glasgow Hollow where the negroes had congregated, armed with rifles.

A white man passing along the road was held up and roughly handled. The news soon spread and a body of white miners moved toward the hollow. It it supposed that they went around by a circuitous route in the mountains and came upon the negroes unexpectedly. Ed. Ellis, the ringleader, armed with a rifle and a revolver, fell at the first volley. There was another volley and four more negroes fell. Jim Dill and Adam Samuels died a few minutes later. Geo. Thomas was shot through the abdomen. He is not expeted to recover. Rudolph Williams will live.

The trouble started yesterday when it was thought that John Sheppard, who on last Wednesday assaulted Miss Monroe Jones near Corona, was in that vicinity. The negroes armed themselves to prevent his capture. Both sides were aroused and only the timely arrival of a sheriff's posse prevented an outbreak.

NOISY STUDENTS

Arrested and Fined at Haverhill.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

HAVERHILL, June 28.—Two Phillips Andover students, F. B. Stiles and M. S. Woodward, were fined $5 each in the district court yesterday by Judge Abbott. They paid their fines and left the city after recuperating. Accompanying the students were two young women, one of whom claimed to be the sister of Woodward. The other gave the name of Bessie Abbott and it is stated that she belongs in Andover. The quartet drove to this city Tuesday evening and about 11 o'clock they called at a restaurant on Main street, where they had a feast and wine.

Woodward so annoyed the waiter that after a while Policeman Grant was called. The young women became troubled and Miss Woodward settled the bill, but when the policeman left the place the two students began to insult other patrons.

The two students were soon marched off to the station and their companions who had become hysterical, were taken to a hotel. Miss Woodward had a check for $50 which she cashed at a bank and with this she paid the fines today.

"It is too bad it occurred," she said, "but it has happened and what is the use of crying?"

Young Woodward belongs in Chicago while his chum comes from Kentucky. After court, the quartet secured their pair of horses and carriage and drove back to Andover. It appears from the stories told that Miss Woodward came on to attend the commencement exercises at Phillips Andover and that the four started out to celebrate Woodward's graduation before returning home.

LIFE PRISONERS

The Vaughns Cool the Others Distracted

DID ROBERT VAUGHN INTEND SUICIDE?

His Significant Note and Remarks.

LOGUE STILL PROTESTS HIS INNOCENCE.

Much Sympathy Expressed for Logue.

Robert and Olin Vaughn, James Dowd and Thos. Logue today begin a term of imprisonment which will end only at the grave, in the Massachusetts State prison at Charlestown.

As reported in yesterday's Sun they were sentenced early in the afternoon at one of the most impressive scenes ever witnessed in Cambridge court. The sentence seemed severe but there was no alternative. They had been found guilty of assault with intent to kill and the law and penalty are as follows:

"Where one assaults another and feloniously robs, steals and takes from his person, money or other property, which may be made the subject of larceny; such robber being armed with a dangerous weapon with intent, if resisted to kill or maim the person robbed or being so armed, wounds or strikes the person robbed, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for life."

It is plain to be seen that there was nothing else for the court to do but imprison for life and the various speculations in regard to sentence were all in vain.

The men were notified of their fate early in the forenoon by Lawyer D. J. Donahue and when Robert heard it he said: "If you think they are going to see me flinch they are mistaken in their man." Olin Vaughn's lips quivered for a moment and then he resumed that cool, indifferent look which has characterized him throughout the trial.

As the men were brought into court the cage was surrounded by deputy sheriffs and court officers to preclude any possibility of escape. When the brothers were asked if they had anything to say regarding their sentences Robert simply answered, "Nothing, Sir!"

Not a muscle of their faces moved as they heard their sentences and as Olin sat down he smiled and winked at an acquaintance in the audience.

The brothers joked with the deputies who escorted them and as the officers placed the irons upon Robert the latter remarked: "I shall not hear the snap of hand-cuff locks many times more." The words weighed on the officer's mind as he had an idea that Vaughn had uttered and implied threat to do away with himself.

When Robert entered the cage Friday he slipped a note to one of the witnesses in the case which read: "I shall be sentenced for life. Act now!" The note was neither addressed nor signed and it is believed that it was intended for one of the women in the case. This note, some of the police regard as an indication of Vaughn's intent to commit suicide for they are of the opinion that "Act Now" meant to furnish him immediately with the means of doing away with himself. Others are of the opinion that "act now" meant to introduce evidence that while it might not save Robert would incriminate another though not for so serious a crime.

But it was entirely different with Dowd and Logue. As soon as they heard their fate they broke down completely. They loudly protested their innocence and were pale and trembling.

After they had been taken to the house of correction, having heard their sentence, Logue's father and his counsel, Mr. Owens, visited him in his cell, and asked him to tell the truth and nothing but the truth, regarding the assault of Mr. Cover. With tears streaming down his cheeks, Logue looked into his father's face and cried out: "As true as there is a God in Heaven, I did not assault Mr. Cover." The heart broken father then broke down and was led away weeping and finally, protesting his son's innocence. Defendant Dowd had no visitors, his friends apparently having deserted him. Speaking with his counsel of the absence of his friends, he said, "Perhaps they think I deserve the fate that that befallen me." On the other hand the Vaughn's had many friends in court. A sister of the boys was in the court room when the sentence was pronounced and as they left the dock she kissed them. When she reached the street she appeared inconsolable. Robert's supposed sweetheart was in the building, but not in the court room. While she did not weep she showed great nervousness and anxiety. She calls Robert her hero. Logue is thirty pounds lighter than the day he was arrested. The officers say that he has grieved continually while there and was always protesting his innocence. It is believed that the imprisonment will speedily break up his constitution. The Vaughn were considered fairly good prisoners while in the house of correction, though it was necessary to reprimand them once for talking to each other, and told they were not allowed to talk to each other. They smilingly promised not to do it again. Four men from one city, receiving life sentence on the same day is a most remarkable occurrence and will probably give criminals a wholesome dread of the city of Lowell.

THE LATE EDITOR

Zina E. Stone Laid to Rest

The funeral of the late Zina E. Stone took place this afternoon and was largely attended by representative people of Lowell, including city officials, bankers, journalists and members of the leading professions. In the early afternoon prayers were held at the late residence of the deceased on Chestnut street, by Rev. R. A. Greene, who also officiated at the Grace church services later. There was singing by the Grace church quartette. Around the casket were many beautiful floral tributes. The interment was in the family lot, Lowell cemetery, in charge of Undertaker J. B. Currier. The pallbearers were members of the Pawtucket lodge of Masons, and Mechanics lodge, I. O. O. F. A delegation of both oganizations and the Old Residents association were represented at the funeral.

THE WORD "CLUB"

Its Meaning in a Legal Sense

WILL DECIDE THE GREEK LIQUOR CASE.

Boarding House Keeper the Defendant.

The Greek liquor case in which the government charged that Cosmas Katsikas residing at 55 Fenwick street kept liquors illegally was next on the list and after all the evidence was submitted and the closing arguments were made by William A. Hogan for the defence and Inspector Donaldson for the government, Judge Pickman, who presided over the session, took it under advisement. The court stated that his decision would be based on his interpretation of the law of 1897, relating to clubs or associations or the banding of any body of men for the purpose of purchasing liquors in a no-license city or town.

The government's case contended that beer and whiskey were kept at the residence of defendant on May 25 when Inspectors Duncan, Atkinson and McCann of the liquor squad visited the house and there found an unopened keg of ale in a tub of water. This was in the kitchen. In the next room, the officers found a case of whiskey. Inspectors Duncan and Atkinson differed in the circumstances of the discovery. The former said it was uncovered and the latter that it was hidden beneath a red quilt. Mr. Hogan laid stress on this in his closing argument. Seven men including the defendant, testified in rebuttal to what the officers said. The defendant said all contributed for the liquors and the others corroborated his testimony. Each man was given free access to the hard stuff and no fixed price was paid for the shares. The court then discussed the merits of the case and decided to continue it one week when he will give his decision.

TANDEM RIDERS

Angus M. Sellers and Edwin A. Lynde Not Guilty.

CASE HEARD AT SPECIAL SESSION.

Young Lady on Wrong Side of the Road.

Angus M. Sellers and Edwin A. Lynde, the tandem riders who ran into and fatally injured Miss Melvina Lapierre on the boulevard were heard this morning by Associate Justice F. A. Fisher at a special session of police court and were found not guilty of the complaint of assault and battery and were discharged.

No counsel appeared in the case. The witnesses were Miss McDonald and the male escort of the young ladies as they were riding on the boulevard and the two defendants. Constable Lapierre, father of the victim, also gave testimony which related to the condition of his daughter when she was brought home after the accident. The testimony of the tandem riders showed that Miss Lapierre was on the wrong side of the road when the collision occurred. This was admitted by the friends of the young lady and the witnesses of the accident.

COAL CONTRACTS

Awarded by Purchasing Agt. Barrett Yesterday

TO D. W. HORNE AND D. GAGE.

Prices are Lower Than Last Year.

The contracts for the city's coal supply were awarded by Purchasing Agt. Barrett yesterday at prices considerably lower than those of last year. The entire amount of coal to be purchased will aggregate about 5000 tons.

The contract for the city farm supply was let to D. W. Horne & Son as follows: broken, $4.70 per ton; stove $5.20; last year's prices, broken, $4.90; stove, $5.56.

The coal for the schools and public buildings will be furnished by Daniel Gage at these prices: broken, $5.00 per ton; egg, $5.20; last year's prices, broken, $5.28; egg, $5.58; stove $5.83.

The coal supply for the winter of 1899-1900 optional will be furnished also by Daniel Gage at prices as follows: broken, $5.10; egg, $5.30; last year's prices, broken, $5.37; egg, $5.62.

O'CONNELL'S CASE

Again in the Supreme Court Yesterday

The full bench of the Supreme court yesterday heard a motion, made by B. B. Johnson, the special counsel in the prosecution of the disbarment proceedings against Bernard D. O'Connell, a Lowell attorney, to have three appeals just entered by O'Connell in this court, from rulings of the Superior court, dismissed as frivolous and as being on matters of fact wholly within the discretion of the Superior court and upon which no appeal lies.

Very recently this court has dismissed a petition of O'Connell to prove exceptions which he alleged he took during the course of his trial. The defendant claimed he had a right to enter the three appeals and have them heard.

The courts reserved its decision.

LADIES' HATS FOR SUMMER WEAR

Summer headgear for ladies' wear is certainly more stylish, appropriate, and comfortable this season than ever before, and it's less costly, too, than we've ever known it to be in all the long years of our experience. Our milliners trim more hats now than ever before, and it's all because they do it better and cheaper than others. It's the period between seasons at present, and in order to keep millinery artists at work, we have decided to give Lowell a series of millinery surprises this week. Come in and get our prices.

HEAD & SHAW, "THE MILLINERS," 169 MERRIMACK ST.

CYRUS W. IRISH, Principal of the High School.

HIGH SCHOOL NIGHT.

The laborer is worthy of his hire. But let it not become all nor even the principal part. Much more important than the conception of our work as bringing gain to us is the conception of it as a benefit to others.

"It depends upon ourselves to make our callings noble.

"You are to be the citizens of Lowell, and upon you by virtue of the training you have received, will depend largely its weal or woe. Especially then will depend upon you the condition of its schools. As you have received the best they can give your fellow citizens have a right to look to you for aid and counsel hereafter. There need be no fear that popular support will fail, for the primary and the grammar schools. All the children go to these and all the people recognize their good works. A few comparatively go to the high schools. They are not so widely known. Here is the danger if there be any. Let it be your part to stand by the higher education and to make it manifest that without it the secondary grades cannot be maintained to a proper standard. Let the charities and the social institutions of Lowell also be your care. It is very largely for you to determine whether they shall be kept generous and pure.

"Neither are we to forget that besides our city and our commonwealth our loyal duty belongs to our country. Never in the past has there been more urgent need for the careful consideration and deep devotion of all its people as now. Whether we shall continue to hold the Philippines and the other possessions of the Spanish war or not, it is evident our country has entered upon a new era of its history. Hitherto we have been sufficient unto ourselves and have kept aloof from the controversies of the world. Such isolation no longer is possible. We must bear hereafter our portion of the burden. Your fellow citizens have a right again to look to you for counsel and aid. As educated men and women it is your duty to give them. Do not be afraid to speak what you make think, whether it seems to be in accord with popular notions or not. And above all do not face the future in any spirit of pessimism, for there is one thing lower than moral cowardice; that is the attitude of the grumbler who everywhere proclaims that all things go bad and yet never lends a hand to put them right.

"Many good citizens agree that these things are most desirable and ought to be attained but are discouraged by the political outlook and therefore have little confidence in their accomplishment. But they can find in the worst governed cities and states many instances of upright, faithful, generous and noble men. The politician and office seeker who serve only themselves will go to the wall in favor of the men who offer services for society. We have yet to require of our political leaders that they shall be brave enough to stand alone and to say No! to the projects of avarice or selfish ambition. If, in the old times, men despised the physical coward, so in the future moral cowardice will not be respected. If the strong man, afraid to use his strength when it is needed, is the worst sort of a coward, we shall not respect the man whose money power or selfish greed of gain or place takes away his manly independence and reduces him to the sneak. Nothing in history is more interesting or encouraging than to see how by inexorable justice every man goes to his own place.

"Men flatly think that the world worships brains, smartness and popularity, but this is not so. We always are trying experiments and there is the hope ever present behind the successful man that use and service will appear to justify his notoriety. No one envies the success of a bank burglar who escapes with his plunder. It is the success attained a hundred years ago by pirates and robbers. We must trust the people and remember that it is always safe to appeal not to their prejudices but to their sound judgment and good sense. Such confidence will be a sufficient support of an active and progressive democracy."

TWO PRESENTATIONS.

After the address, two very interesting presentations followed by Carl D. Burtt, on behalf of the class of '89 and Samuel Fay Barrows, of the class of '99, each presenting the school with a large picture to be hung in the school hall. Mr. Barrows made an appropriate speech in presenting the picture to the High school.

"If the representation of any place can have power to inspire and uplift certainly it is this. Gentlemen of the committee, in behalf of the class of '99 I present to the Lowell High school as a token of our gratitude for the patience and kindness with which it has guided our youth and for the labor which it has expended in our behalf, a picture of the Roman Forum."

Mr. Frank K. Stearns of the school board accepted the gifts in behalf of the school.

"Discipline" was the subject of the valedictory delivered by John Jacob Rogers and it was undoubtedly one of the finest efforts ever heard at a High school graduation. The physical discipline which makes mental discipline possible and the mental discipline which makes the successful man, were most ably treated by the young valedictorian and he concluded his remarks to his classmates in the following beautiful lines:

"Together still
We've journeyed up the rough and toilsome hill.
Now, in the glory of this summer day,
We part, and each one goes his different way.
The way at times may dark and weary seem,
No ray of sunshine on our path may gleam,
But still, with honest purpose, toil we on.
And if our steps be upward, straight and true,
Far in the east a golden light shall dawn
And the bright smile of heaven come bursting through."

CARNEY MEDAL SCHOLARS.

The chorus sang "To Thee, O Country," and with very brief words, Supt. Arthur K. Whitcomb presented the Carney medals, the highest honor that the school can confer upon its pupils, to the following graduates:

John Jacob Rogers, Robert Faulkner, Richard Mack Lawton, Ella Maude Coffin, Anna Gertrude Riley, Lucy Marion Stevenson.

The following who had attained a rank of 90 or more received honorary mention:

Melvin Guy Rogers, Ralph Melville Bean, Wilfred Joseph Lincourt, Cornelius Anthony Savage, Loueva Maria Blanchard, Alice Lund Livingston, Laura Belle Conant, Mary Alice Maguire, Bertha May Sherburne, Frances W. Dalrymple, Christine Cameron, Harriet M. Emerson, Winnie D. Nelson, Mary L. James, Harriet B. Whittaker, Lillie S. Cutler, Anna G. Thomas, May F. Hadley, Mary Reilly.

Hon. Jeremiah Crowley, in presenting the diplomas, said to the graduates:

"It is a time-honored custom for the mayor to present the diplomas. It has been said tonight that you will meet slander and calumny in the world that you are entering. Set your mark high, and envy, malice slander, and calumny cannot harm you. Mind you that success in life is not attained easily. There is no royal road to fame or riches. You must toil and persevere in any walk of life. Resist temptation, be temperate avoid the glare of the saloon and there is no doubt of your success in the future."

The following are the graduates:

ONE GRAND UNION

Local French-American Benevolent Societies

MAY BE CONSOLIDATED SOON.

There is a movement on foot among the French-American benevolent organizations of this city to amalgamate.

The idea comes from the West, where nearly all the French organizations of a city have come together and formed one grand union. In Lowell there are several French-American societies which are all at present considering the advisability of the project which will be called to the attention of the delegates to a convention which is to be soon held at the call of President Thomas J. Guyette of L'Association Catholique. The date of this meeting of the representatives of the local French-American societies is yet undecided, but will doubtless be held in a short time, the majority of the interested parties, it is said, are in favor of the amalgamation. Should the Central union be elected it is proposed that it be named the "St. Jean Baptiste Society of America."

The idea of the union started forward at the national convention of French-American societies at Chicago in 1893 and was discussed at Holyoke last year. At the latter convention the Lowell delegates were greatly impressed with it.

The work in the interior of St. Joseph's church, which is now being carried on under direction of Contractor Phillias David will be finished about July 17, when the Ladies of St. Anne will begin a novena which will conclude July 26, the feast of their patron saint.

NEW ORDINANCE

Will Soon Govern Awards of City Contracts.

RESULT OF THE SUN'S AGITATION.

All Contracts to be Advertised.

NOTICE TO OWNERS OF UNLICENSED DOGS.

Make up of Fourth of July Parade.

On all sides are heard favorable comments upon Alderman Pierce's order for an ordinance providing for competition in all big city contracts in the future and the ordinance cannot be made operative any too soon to suit every honest taxpayer.

That a condition of affairs existed which allowed a head of a department or city official to give out a contract involving the expenditure of thousands of dollars without any competition or publicity was known only to a small portion of the public and when it became generally known through The Sun's successful agitation for a measure that would prevent snap jobs and contracts, there was much severe criticism of the city government for allowing such a state of affairs to exist.

This deplorable condition is another result of the new city charter which will certainly perpetuate the name of the board of trade if nothing else does. In the old days when committees let out contracts there existed an ordinance which forbade the awarding of contracts over $300 without advertising bids and securing competition. But when the new charter came into effect, it took the power of making contracts from the committees and gave it to the heads of departments and the ordinance governing the committees became inoperative. No ordinance has been ever framed up to the present to take the place of the old one.

The missing ordinance introduced by Alderman Pierce Tuesday night was drafted in a hurry by City Solicitor Quin and is as follows:

Except as hereinafter provided, no contract for the construction, alteration or repair of any sewer, bridge, street way, building or structure, or the construction, manufacture or repair of any article or thing whatsoever, or for the performance of any specific portion of such construction, etc., which shall involve an expenditure of more than $300, shall be entered into by or on behalf of the city of Lowell, or be valid and binding upon the city, unless the officer or officers authorized by law to make such contract on behalf of the city, shall, at least two weeks prior to the date of the execution of such contract, give notice by public advertisement, in one or more newspapers, published in said Lowell, that it is the intention of such officer or officers, to make such contract and call for sealed proposals for the performance of the same, stating in said advertisement the limit of time within which such proposals will be received or unless the mayor shall before approving such contract certify in writing thereon, that in his opinion such notice and call were inexpedient and not for the best interest of the city.

The above doesn't quite suit either City Solicitor Quin or Alderman Pierce and will be perfected before the next meeting.

The city clerk is out with an edict to the owners of unlicensed dogs and if you receive one you had better go down and settle lest some municipal Smarleyvow come along and "pinch" your pup or you.

The notice to dog owners reads as follows:

Dear Sir:

Your name appears upon the list of owners of keepers of dogs transmitted to this office by the Board of Assessors of Taxes. Your attention is called to the following extracts from the Public Statute:

Chap 102. Sec. 81.—"Every owner or keeper of a dog three months old or over, shall annually, on or before the thirtieth day of April, cause it to be registered, numbered, described and licensed for one year from the first day of the ensuing May, in the office of the clerk of the city wherein said dog is kept."

Sec. 87. "Whoever keeps a dog contrary to the provisions of this chapter shall forfeit fifteen dollars."

Sec. 90. "The mayor of each city and the chairman of the selectmen of each town, shall annually, within ten days from the first day of July, issue a warrant to one or more police officers or constables, directing them to proceed forthwith to kill or cause to be killed, all dogs within such city or town not licensed or collared according to the provisions of this chapter and to enter complaint against the owners or keepers thereof; and any person may and every police officer and constable shall, kill or cause to be killed, all such dogs wherever and wherever found."

CHAPTER 292. ACTS OF 1887.

"Any owner or keeper of a dog not duly licensed which becomes three months old after the thirtieth day of April in any year, shall, when it is three months old, cause it to be registered and licensed until the first day of the ensuing May."

You are hereby notified that warrants have been issued for proceeding against such dogs and the owners thereof as required by Section 90, Chapter 102 of the Public Statutes.

GIRARD P. DADMAN, City Clerk.

By tomorrow the Fourth of July tickets will be out and then the lives of the members of the committee will be made miserable. Sec. Crowley's job will be no sinecure for the ensuing several days, for the secretary is always handed first.

The makeup of the parade, on the reports made up to date, will be as follows:

NOT A GAME OF CHANCE.

Advertising is not a game of chance. It is a game of skill. The skill in advertising is to prepare good, attractive and truthful advertisements, and then place them where they will receive the widest publicity, for the least money.

This can be done only by using the papers with the largest circulation, in the field you wish to cover.

The Sun has a larger circulation than any two other papers in Lowell.

The garbage contract is ready for the mayor's signature. Will he sign it, or refuse to sign it? The masses are opposed to the contract. But of late, the interests of the masses have no weight with the mayor. Were it otherwise he would not have signed away $60,000 for smooth-paving without competition.

The decision of Judge Bond that citizens of Lowell have a right to manufacture native wines implies also the right to sell native wines. It is expected that a number of parties will embark in this industry, but those who imagine that they can run a speakeasy under the guise of a native wine manufactory will soon find their mistake.

The board of aldermen has voted to give the city laborers a half holiday on Saturday. For some time past, it has been asserted that this could not be done legally. If the city council wishes to give the city laborers a half holiday on Saturdays, there is no law which can prevent them. They can pay the city laborers an entire day's pay for half a day if they see fit, or they can decide that six hours' labor will constitute a day's work on Saturday; which would serve the same purpose. It would be just as well to grant the half holiday without any equivocation, because there is not much work done Saturday afternoon whether the laborers are supposed to work or not.

THE LIFE SENTENCES.

The life sentences imposed upon the two Vaughns and Dowd and Logue may be considered severe, but it is simply the extreme penalty of the law for the offences committed. The Vaughns went out with the intention of burglary, but well armed, so that in case of detection they would be able to make their escape. For the elder Vaughn, there is no sympathy, but for his younger brother, apparently led unsuspectingly into the crime, the sentence is very severe. As for Dowd and Logue, their crime was in reality more cold-blooded and therefore worse in the sight of the law than that of the Vaughns. If they did as Mr. Cover testified, they had fully determined to knock Mr. Cover senseless, perhaps to kill him outright and take whatever money they could find. They committed the assault but did not succeed in their scheme of robbery. The evidence against them rests wholly upon Mr. Cover's identification, and if he is mistaken, then the men have been wrongly convicted to serve life sentences at hard labor.

REMEDY FOR THE SMOOTH-PAVING JOBBERY.

It is gratifying to The Sun to learn that the smooth-paving abuses at city hall are likely to bring about an effective remedy. At the meeting of the aldermen on Tuesday night, Alderman Peirce introduced an ordinance providing for square and open competition in all contracts for labor and construction amounting to $300 which means that bids shall be called for and the contract given to the lowest bidder other things being equal. This will be an effective remedy against any periodical raid upon the treasury such as has been made this year when $60,000 were voted away for smooth paving without calling for bids. Those who are in the habit of doing work for the city understand very thoroughly what it means to do a job without competition. It is the only kind of a city job which is worth getting, because when work is thrown open to competition, the bidding is so close that as a rule, the party who gets the contract has a very small margin of profit. This is as it should be, but it is not the manner in which the smooth-paving contracts have been awarded to Robert E. Crowley this year.

The Sun advocated a change in the city charter providing against the award of such contracts without throwing the work open to competition, but it appears that a well drawn ordinance such as that proposed by Alderman Peirce will serve the purpose equally as well, and therefore, we hope to see such an ordinance passed without delay so that no more smooth paving contracts can be given to the Boston Paving company at exorbitant prices.

THE TRUSTS AN ISSUE.

Attorney-General Griggs, who has been the defender of the trusts on the ground that there is no law to reach them, comes out and asserts that the trust issue is not a political one. On what ground he makes this assertion it is difficult to say, except perhaps he has learned that the republican party would rather have it so. Finding that the democratic party will make the trusts a strong political issue, the republicans thus early are beginning to speak in a perfunctory style against the trusts. The bosses will condemn the trusts on paper, and at the same time throw around them the fostering hand of the law and a protective tariff which, according to some of the greatest trust magnates in the country is the mother of all trusts. The defensive policy of the republican party will be easily seen through, and the efforts of the bosses to cloak the fact that as the republican party fosters the trusts, the trusts in turn furnish the boodle necessary to carry republican campaigns by debauching the voters. The people are beginning to see the light and will have their eyes opened still more next year.

A June bride has discovered two ways of making her wedding remarkable—attended to the altar by no less than 12 attended to the altar by no less than 12 bridesmaids, who are to be dressed in costumes of white and apple-green, copied from an old picture; and, secondly, these dainty maidens are to be provided with huge bunches of tall white lilies. In lieu of the regulation shower bouquet or basket of flowers. The lilies, tied with white satin ribbon, will be arranged to almost form arches, and as the young bride enters the church her attendant maids (standing six on either side) will raise their flower wands and form arches through which she will pass.

He followed her into the garden, where
A rose bloomed sweet and red,
And he saw her stand beside it there
And gracefully bend her head;
She kissed the beautiful fragrant rose
And he heard her gentle sigh,
Then he followed her upon his tip toes,
And his heart was beating high.
He stood where the maiden had stood beside
The beautiful blushing rose
And lovingly bent his head and sighed,
And he buried his mouth and nose
Among the petals so sweet, so rare,
That the fair maid's lips had pressed,
But a bumble bee that had just got there
Proceeded to do the rest.

It is said that if anyone causes trouble on a Lowell bound car from Lawrence, the conductor will step up to him, rest his hand on the disturber's shoulder and kindly ask him to be quiet. When Lowell is reached the man gets off, but is immediately taken into custody by the police. If he asks the cause of arrest, and if the policeman is good natured enough to tell, he will be informed he is arrested for disturbance. The prisoner will then wonder how the officer knew he had caused trouble. The secret is that a code of signs has been invented and the conductor marks with chalk on your coat what you have been doing. The policeman sees and understands; you do not see and do not understand. But you are under arrest. Here is another tip. Beware of asking questions of a car conductor going from Lawrence to Lowell. If you hold conversation with him while near the transfer station, and then turn to walk away, you stand a good chance of being arrested as a Lowell drunk. The policemen who are watching there take it for granted that you are drunk, too drunk to ride on the car, and accordingly, too drunk to be at large.

WEST CHELMSFORD

ENTERTAINMENT THIS EVENING BY DEBATING SOCIETY.

The West Chelmsford Debating society will present a dramatic and literary entertainment at Marshall's hall, West Chelmsford this evening, June 29. The Westford Grange Dramatic club will be there and will present their popular play, "A Regular Fix." This is a laughable farce, replete with funny sayings by the inimitable Judge Taylor, together with a score of ludicrous situations. There will also be a choice selection of vocal and instrumental music, readings and speaking by well known people.

ANNUAL RECITAL

BY PUPILS OF MR. GEORGE F. WILLEY.

At Odd Fellows' Temple last evening, the annual recital of the Lowell Conservatory of Music was held before a very appreciative audience. Mr. Geo. F. Willey, former instructor of music in the public schools, is one of the oldest music teachers in Lowell and has brought many young musicians before the public at his recitals. Those who participated in the program of last evening were all warmly received and given the hearty commendation which their work merited. Diplomas were presented to two pupils by Director George F. Willey, Miss Albertine Boucher and Carrie Haskell Dawson being the recipients of the certificates for their proficiency on the pianoforte.

The exhibition of the pupils was interspersed with readings by Miss Annie Laura Cilley. The participants in the program were:

NO LICENSE

THE POLICE AND THE ENFORCEMENT OF THE LIQUOR LAWS.

That the police are doing their best to enforce the liquor laws no fair minded man can deny. Many voters voted yes last December because they did not believe the laws relating to the liquor traffic would be fairly and fully enforced if the city voted no, they preferring a license law to free rum, the same as we had in 1880. The police and the police commissioners have evidently taken hold of this matter in earnest and as a result there is no free rum in Lowell, not that there is no liquor sold in Lowell today; I do not mean that but comparatively very little is sold. This is just right. As the people voted, so, it was evidently the duty of both commissioners and police to see the law was fairly and fully enforced. That they are faithfully doing this our streets and the records of the police court shows, for where before the 1st of May many drunken men and women could be met on the streets and on the electric cars now no such sights are seen. That the landlords' rent and the grocery bills are much more promptly paid is also very true. So, in fact, Lowell can say everything is doing well here under no license and if the next 10 months shall show up as well as the last two have, it's quite certain that the city voters yes again. Let the police continue their vigilance and they can rest assured that the citizens are well pleased and will stand by them in their efforts to enforce liquor laws. To be sure the prosecution of the Mail was a sad mistake but mistakes, they say, happen in the best regulated families, and probably will not occur again. Let all laws be fully and fairly enforced is the proper thing to do.

DIAMOND DOTTINGS

NOTES OF LOCAL BASE BALLISTS OF INTEREST.

The game Saturday between the Mt. Washington team and the South Ends is causing great interest among the cranks and judging from the fast record of this team it will give the South Ends the best battle yet of any out of town team. Cook who played with the South Ends last Saturday will be with the Mt. Washingtons and play right field. Their pitcher must be a fine one when they play Cook in the field as he pitched fine ball for the South Ends.

Steve Mahoney, who caught several games for the Mathews two years ago is the manager and catcher of the Mt. Washington team, and a fine ball player he is.

The South Ends are out to win the best of their games and will do their utmost to defeat Mt. Washington on next Saturday. The following players will most likely play in Saturday's game: Conners, and Roach, p; Dailey c; Thorne 1b; McVey, 2b; Reagan, ss; Qualey, lf, Roach m. and Kane rf. Game will be called at 3 o'clock.

Pitcher Cook of Dartmouth who played with the South Ends Saturday will oppose the Mathews in their game with the South Ends, July 4.

The next game in the Emerald-South End series will be played Saturday, July 15th. Criticism has been directed against the South End management for not pitching Moore last Saturday. It is said that Moore can blame no one but himself for not playing. His unwarrantable assumption to dictate matters led the management to dispense with his services.

The Mt. Washington team which comes to Lowell next Saturday is fast. Having several ex-New England league players with them they will certainly give the South Ends all they can attend to.

The Fourth of July game between the South Ends and Mathews for a purse of $75 is going to a dandy. Each team is limited to two out-of-town men and it is rumored that the Mathews will have an Eastern league battery.

There is a possibility that the South End-Emerald series will be increased to five games, as the interest is so great that the public desire to see the teams meet oftener than has been arranged for.

Jack Corcoran is playing wonderful ball for Waterbury, Conn. He has caught on with the fans in grand style and has a batting average of over 400.

The South End team has lost several of its best men in consequence of the latter having secured positions with league clubs. The team as it started out at the first of the season was a fine one and is today, but then such men as Flanagan, Merritt and Gallagher are greatly missed from the team.

"Billy" Connors will play with the South Ends in their game with the Mathews, Fourth of July.

It is probable that the next time the Emeralds play the South Ends, they will have on their list "Denny" Murphy of Mt. St. Mary's College and "Jeff" Ganley, now with the Brocktons.

"Teddy" Fitz is a steady admirer of the rejuvenated Emeralds. He says they will take the next and if any more are played, all the other games.

Office, Lowell, Mass.

TOMORROW AFTERNOON.

I have positively decided to dispose of my real estate on Fulton street without reserve at public auction.
THE ESTATE consists of a two flat house, and 2700 square feet of land. Each house has five rooms, pantry, water closet, city water and sewerage. Each house is well laid out and arranged, has ample closet room and is in good condition, particularly the upper flat.
The lot has ample yard room for a garden, is fenced and level.
The property is numbered 59 Fulton street. The sale will take place Friday, June 30, 1899, at half past five o'clock in the afternoon. Sale rain or shine. No limit. $1050 can remain on bank mortgage at five per cent. interest. The rental is $15 a month and the flats are always in demand. I never owned a more desirable or more satisfactory parcel of renting property and can conscientiously recommend the estate to the most conservative buyers.
The purchaser must deposit with or secure to the auctioneers $125 as soon as the property is struck off.

VISCOUNT MIURA

Has Joined Hands With Count Okuma.

THE JAPANESE GENERAL'S VIEWS

Opposed to Preparation for Military Action.

CHINA HAS NOT ANY POWER

Or Intention to Fight With Japan.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

VANCOUVER, B. C., June 28.--The assembling of the peace conference at The Hague has led Viscount Miura, the fire-eating Japanese general to join hands with Count Okuma in a crusade against the extension of the army and the increase of taxes. The viscount thinks that Japan is under no necessity of being prepared for military action. He says: "China has neither power or intention to fight us. The Siberian railroad being unfit for rapid transportation of troops, Russia ought to be a cause of disquietude on our part. No European power would be able to send an army of 50,000 or 50,000 to the far east. It is not necessary that she would take the far eastern fleets of European powers as the standard of our navy. In a war in which this country may be involved decisive battles will be fought on land in the last resort. A naval defeat, therefore, is not a serious consequence. Neither is this country in need of a standing army. Seeing that the European powers are not able to send large military forces, there will be ample time after the breaking off of diplomatic relations to make the requisite preparations for repelling foreign invasion."

LAKEVIEW THEATRE.

The Californian minstrels, who are to hold the board at the Lakeview theatre this week, gave their opening performance at the theatre Monday afternoon before a good-sized audience. An excellent show was given.

It is the first minstrel entertainment that has been staged at the Lakeview theatre.

The first part of the performance commenced with the opening chorus "Dinah," by the entire company. The singing was interspersed with catchy and up-to-date jokes, which took well. The songs were sung by M. W. Rale, Lew Benedict, Harry Taylor, Charles H. Clarke and Walter Van Allen. The latter made a decided hit with "Because," which Mr. Van Allen sang beautifuly. The first part wound up with a grand finale by the company, "My Coal Black Queen."

The specialties were fine. The first act introduced Charles H. Clarke, the clever comedian and baritone vocalist. He made a decided hit with his songs and jokes.

Clarke and Bennett in burlesque military eccentriques are unusually funny.

The "Prince Pro-Tem Comedy Quartette," take especially well in popular songs and recitations.

Lew Benedict, formerly of Duprez and Benedict's minstrels gives his budget of jokes and his coon songs are unusually catchy.

Edmunds and Codaire wind up the performance in a clever comedy acrobatic turn.

WEAVERS' STRIKE.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., June 28.--There was a small strike of weavers at the new weave shed of Acushnet mill No. 1 this morning, due to the discharge of a popular overseer. The strikers lack the support of the union and will probably return to work tomorrow.

MONEY FOUND.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 28.--In a dingy, stuffy room in South Third street, the police found concealed in a dirt trunk and a valise a sum of money exceeding $15,000 in government bonds, gold and bills of large denominations. The police think this fortune is the property of Mrs. Walberger, an aged German woman, who is a patient at the City Insane Asylum. It is said that for years she has been living in the neighborhood, always reticent and eccentric.

1,000,000 GIVEN AWAY.

By a special and particular arrangement with the manufacturers of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, free trial bottles of this great medicine for the Kidneys, Liver, Bladder and Blood, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia and Constipation, will be sent absolutely free, postpaid, to all persons suffering from any of the diseases mentioned above who will send their full name and post office address to the DR. DAVID KENNEDY CORPORATION, Rondout, N. Y., providing they mention this paper when they write.

A very simple test to determine whether your Kidneys or Bladder are diseased is to put some of your urine in a glass tumbler and let it stand 24 hours; if it has a sediment or a cloudy, ropy or stringy appearance, if it is pale or discolored, you do not need a physician to tell you that you are in a dangerous condition. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy speedily cures such serious symptoms as a pain in the back, inability to hold urine, a burning scalding pain in passing it. Frequent desire to urinate especially at night, the staining of linen by your urine and all unpleasant and dangerous effects produced on the system by the use of whiskey and beer.

By a searching investigation it was found that over 91 per cent of the people who sent for a sample bottle were so much benefited by its use that they purchased a large sized bottle of their druggist, which in most cases cured them, while in some care instances it took as many as two or even three bottles to effect a permanent cure.

Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is sold by all druggists at $1.00 p large bottle, or six bottles for $5.00.

40,000 SOLDIERS

Will be Sent to General Otis.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

WASHINGTON, June 28.--Secretary Alger, Adjutant General Corbin and Colonel Bird, assistant quartermaster general in charge of transportation, had an hour's consultation with the president today relative to the question of reinforcement for General Otis. A definite decision has been reached to continue recruiting men at all the recruiting stations for service in the Philippines and Secretary Alger said when he left the White House after the conference that General Otis would have 40,000 men when the rainy season closed for a resumption of active operations.

WILL BUILD A SMELTER.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

REDDING, Cal., June 28.--It is stated that German capitalists intend to soon build a great smelter in Shasta county. During the last three years George Bayha, local representative of a German syndicate, has filed locations on the 25 copper claims on Stillwater Creek, about 20 miles from Redding. Expensive development work has been done on these claims and the syndicate has secured options on considerable adjacent lands. Electricity generated by water power will be used for motive power and for other purposes.

HORRIBLE MURDER

Samuel R. Owens Took Life of His Paramour.

VICTIM IS SADIE B. MATHERSON.

She is 26, Owens 57 Years Old.

CRIME WAS COMMITTED IN FOSTER

A Place of One Thousand Inhabitants.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 28.--Word was received here today that Sadie B. Mathewson, 26 years old, was murdered by her paramour, Samuel R. Owens, 57 years old, at Foster, R. I., yesterday afternoon.

Foster is a small place of about a thousand inhabitants in the western part of the state.

It is claimed that both were drunk, and that Owens drove the woman into the yard, knocked her down, and split her head open with an axe, stabbed her twice in the breast with a carving knife and then pouring kerosene oil over her, set her on fire while she was still breathing. Her body was burned to a crisp. Owens left at 10 o'clock, and was away until late at night, when he showed up and was captured by neighbors who had heard of the tragedy and had begun to hunt for him.

Today he was arraigned at Cranston, charged with murder, waived an examination and was bound over to the grand jury without bail.

MISS JOHNSON

DIED VERY SUDDENLY IN LONDON TODAY.

By Associated Press to The Sun

LONDON, June 28.--Miss Ellen C. Johnson, superintendent of the Massachusetts Reformatory Woman's prison, died suddenly this afternoon at the London residence of the Bishop of Rochester, the Rt. Rev. Stuart Talbot, D. D., where she was a guest. It is believed she expired from heart failure, resulting from excitement in reading a paper at yesterday's meeting of the International Council of Women.

The deceased was attended by Mrs. Dr. Barrows of Boston.

MRS. McKINLEY IMPROVED.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

WASHINGTON, June 28.--The condition of Mrs. McKinley had materially improved this morning. She is still weak, however, and did not arise. She passed a comfortable night, and has gained strength since she reached the White House yesterday.

HELD FOR GRAND JURY.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

BOSTON, June 28.--Benjamin Lang, accused of murdering his wife, Clara, at his home at the South End, yesterday, was arraigned before Judge Adams in the Municipal court here today. Lawyer John Barry waived the reading of the warrant and the prisoner was held for the grand jury.

SKIN GRAFTING OPERATION.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

WATERLOO, Iowa, June 28.--One of the most extensive skin graftings ever attempted was performed yesterday, local physicians operating on William Barrett, to cover an area of three square feet burned during a fire two months ago. Skin was donated by 11 friends of the young man. Such extensive burns generally have been conceded to be fatal but his case promises to be an exception.

THE WEATHER.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

BOSTON, June 28.--Forecast for Boston and vicinity: Threatening weather and showers tonight and Thursday; variable winds.

SPANISH SOLDIERS

Captured by Insurgents Will be Paid.

Spaniards are Leaving Manila and Spanish Merchants are Selling Out Their Interests to English Capitalists.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

MANILA, June 28.--General Jaramillos, who is settling Spain's military affairs here, has received a cablegram from the minister of war at Madrid, General Polavieja, announcing that the pay of all soldiers who are in the hands of the insurgents will be continued after their captivity. The families of many of these officers and soldiers are in Manila without means of support here or on their return to Spain.

The new Spanish consul here, Senor Luis Marinas, says his foremost business is to secure the release of prisoners. The Spaniards are fast leaving Manila.

The steamer Isla de Luzon sails for Spain soon, taking several hundred persons, civil and military officials and their families. The Spanish commercial men are selling out and some of the largest interests here will soon pass into the hands of English capitalists.

Captain Gale's squadron of the 4th cavalry embarked for Morong, Monday. The gunboat Napidan which accompanied the troops visited the town of Montlupala on the west coast of the lake and found a small body of rebels entrenched there. The entrenchments were shelled by the Napidan and when the rebels began to retreat, the cavalry was landed. The Filipinos in firing a final volley, killed a cavalry private.

MATRIMONIAL.

SHEEHAN--DONAHUE.

The marriage of Mr. Thomas E. Sheehan, the well known milkman, and Miss Nellie Donahue, sister of Daniel J. Donahue, the prominent young attorney, took place yesterday at the parochial residence of St. Peter's church, the wedding being solemnized by the Rev. M. Ronan. Miss Annie Donahue, a sister of the bride, was bridesmaid and Mr. Andrew Sheehan, a brother of the groom, was best man. The bride was charmingly attired in a dove-gray silk, with chiffon trimmings and a corsage bouquet of white sweet peas. The bridesmaid was becomingly gowned in pink silk, with a hand bouquet of pink sweet peas.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents on West Union street, which was very largely attended. A bountiful wedding repast was served, the D. L. Page company catering. The happy couple were the recipients of a large collection of costly wedding gifts useful as well as ornamental.

Mr. and Mrs. Sheehan, after enjoying their honeymoon in Boston and New York, will reside on Washington street. They enter matrimonial life under the most favorable auspices and with the best of good wishes of their legion of friends for their future welfare.

MRS. HASTINGS

MRS. JAMES S. HASTINGS PASSED AWAY THIS MORNING.

Mrs. James S. Hastings, wife of the well known decorator at O'Donnell & Gilbride, died very suddenly yesterday morning at her home, 1055 Bridge street, of heart failure. She had been a sufferer with heart trouble periodically but was quite well when she retired last night.

About 8 o'clock yesterday a. m. she was discovered in a dying condition and passed away shortly after. Deceased was a very estimable woman and she leaves a large circle of friends to mourn her loss.

The rumor that Mrs. Hastings committed suicide was denied by the family.

NEW YORK, June 28.--Among the passengers who arrived last night on the government transport McPherson, from San Juan and Santiago de Cuba, were: Major C. W. Fishback, Captain and Mrs. James Rockwell, Dr. Gilman, Dr. and Mrs. Dansereau, Dr. and Mrs. A. Stahl and Lieut. J. T. Ord.

WOMEN ON STRIKE

Because They Had to Work Evenings

By Associated Press to The Sun.

PAWTUCKET, R. I., June 28.--Seventy-five young women employed in the finishing and tenting departments at the Bleacheries and Print works of the Dunnell Manufacturing company have gone on strike. They were notified that they would be required to work evenings for a time and refused, leaving the works in a body. The strikers appointed a committee which tried to interview the treasurer, Mr. Dunnell, this forenoon. He would not see them, stating that the question at issue was not one of wages. Supt. Hodges was in supreme control of the situation.

FISCHER'S MISSION SUCCESSFUL.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

PRETORIA, June 28.--The conference between President Kruger and Fischer, a member of the executive council of the Orange Free state, in the matter of the disputes between the Transvaal and Great Britain, have been concluded. The general impression is that Fischer's mission has been successful. He afterwards conferred with Mr. Conyngham Greene, the British diplomatic agent here.

Omega Oil

For SORE FEET

There was never anything put into a bottle that did people's feet so much good as Omega Oil. It takes away all the soreness, tenderness, swelling, itching, burning, aching and bad odor. It seems to fairly make your feet new again, and you can walk just as far and fast as ever. Bathe your feet night and morning with good soap and warm water. Wipe dry with a towel. Then rub Omega Oil in briskly and thoroughly. You'll wonder what in the world there can be in the Oil to make your feet feel so good. Rub it on corns and bunions, and it will take out the inflammation. Rub it in for any foot pain, and the pain will go.

GLORIA

IS NOT A MEDICINE.

A nice new woman often said
She wished the horrid men all dead.
She drank some GLORIA, then changed her mind,
Same as some other womankind.
And immediately published a personal ad.
For any old man that can be had.
Friends met with her and drank GLORIA there,
And voted the wicked men to spare;
All suggested the ad. to increase
Till everyone had a man apiece.
Then all drink GLORIA often as you can,
For it raises the value of fallen man.

HARVARD - YALE

Men Who Will Row in Big Race

EIGHTS ARE WELL BALANCED

Crews of Strong Young Men.

WILL STRUGGLE FOR SUPREMACY.

Contest Slated for 5.30 This Evening.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 29—This is regatta day. Harvard and Yale will introduce a novelty in the racing line in today's events. Heretofore, the custom has prevailed to hold the contests on different dates. This year, the freshmen eight, the four-oar crews and the 'Varsity eights will all settle their contests on the same day. Of course, the Varsity race is the big one and it is slated for 5.30 this afternoon. Below is given the make-up of the big crews:

NEW HAVEN, Con. June 29—The Yale eighth of this year is made up of well tried material, only two of the men, Neidecken, No. 7 and Brown, No. 5, being without previous varsity crew experience. Both, however, rowed with freshman crews, Brown having been captain of last year's eight. Of the other six men in the Varsity boat, two Williams, stroke and Greenleaf, bow, have rowed only one year previous with the big crew. The remainder have not only been among the Varsity men before, but also rowed in their class on the Freshman crew.

The statistics of the crew are as follows: W. B. Williams, stroke oar, is a member of the class of 1900. He came to Yale from De Lancey school. His home is at Haverford, Pa. He weighs 160 pounds, is 5 feet, 10 inches in height and 20 years of age. He was stroke of last year's Varsity crew and he also stroked the freshman crew.

J. H. Neidecken also in the class of 1900, he is No. 7 in the Varsity boat. He rowed No. 5 last year and No. 7 on the freshman crew. He is 21 years old, 6 feet, 1 1-2 inches in height and weighs 170 pounds. He prepared at St. Paul's school. Neidecken comes from Milwaukee.

Capt. Fred W. Allen, No. 6, rowed in the same position in the '97 and '98 Varsity boat. He weighs 180 pounds, is 21 years of age and 6 feet tall. He comes from Walpole, Mass., and he fitted at Andover Academy and will graduate next year.

W. Gordon Brown, who was captain of last year's freshman crew, rows No. 5. He is the heaviest man in the boat, weighing 190 pounds. He also is the tallest man in the boat, his height being 6 feet and 3 inches. He is 19 years of age. Brown's home is at Flushing, L. I. He prepared at Gordon school. He is in the class of 1901.

R. P. Flint, '99 S. of Los Angeles, Cal., rows No. 4, which position also he rowed on last year's Varsity crew and on the 1900 class crew. He prepared at Lawrenceville. His weight is 170 pounds, age, 22, height, 6 feet.

W. E. S. Griswold was No. 7 of the '97 University crew and he also rowed on the '96 freshman crew. He is No. 3 of this year's eight. He weighs 178 pounds, is 6 feet, 1 1-2 inches in height and 22 years of age. His home is at Erie, Pa. He prepared at Black Hall school and is a member of the Class of '99.

H. P. Wickes, No. 2, has had two year's experience at that position, having rowed there on last year's big crew and also on the 1900 freshman. He fitted at Andover and comes from New York City. He is a member of the class of 1900, is 20 years of age and 5 feet, 10 1-2 inches in height.

J. C. Greenleaf, '99, bow oar, was No. 7 on last year's University crew. He is 6 feet in height, 20 years of age and weighs 170 pounds. He came from Lawrence, N. Y. and fitted at Westminister school.

The substitutes, comprising the four oared crew include two previous Varsity crew men, Brock and Greenway, Cross, who was a substitute on last year's big crew and Mitchell of last year's freshman crew.

J. P. Brock, '99 comes from Lebanon, Pa. He rowed on No. 3 last year's Varsity crew and was captain of his freshman eight. He prepared at St. Paul's school. He is 20 years of age, weighs 175 pounds and is 5 feet 10 inches in height.

P. L. Mitchell rowed No. 7 on last year's freshman crew. He comes from Cincinnati and prepared at a university school. He is a member of the class of 1901, 19 years old, weight 165, height, 5 feet 11 inches.

J. C. Greenway rowed No. 4 on the '97 Varsity crew and was a substitute last year. He is a member of the class of 1900 and his home is home is at Hot Springs, Ark. He prepared at Andover. He is 22 years of age, weighs 158 height, 6 feet.

J. W. Cross was No. 5 on his freshman crew and a substitute on last year's Varsity eight. He prepared at Groton school and will graduate next year. He comes from New York. He is 21 years old, weighs 181 and is 6 feet in height.

THE HARVARD CREW.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 18—The Harvard Varsity crew of this year is made up of men who have had much rowing experience, although only two of them, Capt. Higginson and Harding, the bow oar, have been members of previous varsity eights. Higginson was No. 4 and Harding was No. 6 in last year's big crew, Sheafe No. 7, Bancroft No. 6, Wood No. 3 and Evans No. 2. All have had training on Weld crews, the prolific source of nearly all Harvard rowing material. Lawrence and Tilton were No. 5 and No. 4 respectively, have had good training with their class crews.

A summary of the varsity crew follows:

Francis Leo Higginson, Jr., 1900 of Boston, stroke and captain, prepared for college at Groton, where he captained one of the school crews. He was captain of his Freshman crew, rowing No. 6, and stroked the winning class crew in his Sophomore year. He rowed No. 4 in the varsity last year and No. 7 in the winning Junior class crew this spring. Age, 21; height, 6 ft. 1 inch; weight, 161 pounds.

Charles Minot Sheafe, 1 law, No. 7, of Seattle, Washington, prepared in Seattle, where he rowed on an athletic club crew. He rowed on the Weld crews last year and stroked the winning Law School Weld this spring. Age, 24; height, 6 ft 1 inch; weight, 169 pounds.

Hugh Bancroft, 1 Law, No. 6, of Cambridge, prepared at the Cambridge Latin School. He rowed 5 on the '98 class crew in his senior year and 6 on the first Weld this spring. Age, 19; height, 6 ft. 2 1-2 inches, weight, 178 pounds.

James Lawrence, Jr., 1901, No. 5, comes from Groton, where he fitted for college. He has rowed on his class crew for two years, being captain this spring. Age, 21; height, 6 feet 2 inches; weight, 173 pounds.

Howell Whiting Tilton, 1900, No. 4 of Cambridge, prepared at the Cambridge Latin School. He rowed No. 4 on his freshman crew and at No. 6 on his class crew this spring. Age, 20; height, 6 feet, 2 1-4 inches; weight, 177 pounds.

Clement Biddle Wood, 1 Law, No. 3, prepared at the Delancel school, Philadelphia. During his last two years at college he rowed on the Weld Senior crew, and this spring he rowed No. 6 on the victorious Law school eight. Age, 20; height, 5 feet, 10 inches; weight, 173 pounds.

Dwight Durkee Evans, '01, No. 2, comes from St. Louis, where he fitted at Smith Academy. He has rowed two years on the Weld Junior crew, which he stroked this year at the Harlem regatta. Age, 20; height, 5 feet, 11 1-4 inches; weight, 159 pounds.

Charles Lewis Harding, 1900, bow, of Boston, prepared at Hopkinson's school. He stroked his Weld class crew and the Weld Junior crew in his sophomore year, and rowed at No. 5 on last year's varsity boat. Age, 20; height, 5 feet, 9 inches; weight, 161 pounds.

Herbert Addington Wadleigh, 1900, coxswain, of Boston, was fitted for college at Hillhouse's classical school and the Boston Latin. He was coxwain of his class crew this spring. Age, 22; height, 5 feet, 7 1-2 inches; weight, 162 pounds.

Robert Fulton Blake, '99, substitute, comes from Boston. He prepared at the Boston Latin and English High and Latin schools. He rowed on his class crew in his sophomore year and on the Weld Senior crew. Last spring he was at 2 in the varsity eight, when illness compelled him to leave the boat. This spring he rowed bow in his class crew. Age, 21; height, 6 feet; weight, 163 pounds.

John Devereux Kernan, 1900, substitute, fitted for Harvard at the Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute. He was substitute on his freshman crew and rowed 4 in his sophomore crew and 2 in the varsity of '98. Age, 21; height, 5 feet, 10 inches; weight, 170 pounds.

John Forbes Perkins, '99, substitute, comes from Milton and fitted at the Milton Academy. He has rowed on all four of his class crews. He rowed 6 on the '97 varsity and was substitute on the varsity last year. Age, 21; height, 6 feet; weight, 174 pounds.

Lawrence Endicott, '01, substitute, of Boston, prepared at Noble's school and rowed on the B. A. A. Junior crew. He has rowed on his class crew for two years. Age, 20; height, 5 feet, 9 inches; weight, 150 pounds.

The averages of the crew as given above are as follows:

Age, 20 years, 3 months; height, 5 feet, 11 inches; weight, 168 pounds.

JUNE WEDDINGS

Many Couples Launched on Matrimonial Sea

THE STORMY NIGHT WAS DISCOURAGING

But Did Not Prevent the Work of Wedlock

There was a large number of weddings last night despite the rain. For an evening in June the weather was remarkably chill and dispiriting but it did not damp the ardor of the happy couples that had arranged to be united for better or for worse. The principal weddings were the following:

GALLIVAN—STATEN.

A nuptial mass was celebrated by Rev. W. George Mullin at St. Peter's church yesterday morning, the contracting parties being Patrick Gallivan of Williamstown, New Brunswick, and Miss Annie G. Staten of Lowell. The marriage ceremony was performed by the celebrant of the mass. Miss Lucy Staten, a sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and the best man was Richard Gallivan of Boston, a brother of the groom.

ROSCOE—IRWIN.

A very pretty wedding occurred yesterday afternoon at St. Peter's parochial residence, the contracting parties being Mr. Frank Roscoe, a popular young man of Belvidere, and Miss Nellie Irwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wayman of No. 17 Pearl street, a highly esteemed young lady of this parish. The bride was handsomely gowned in white organdie, and carried bride roses. She was attended by her cousin, Miss Sarah A. Townsend, who was gowned in figured organdie over Nile green silk, and carried pink roses. Mr. Frank Dockett was best man. Miss Mary Wayman was maid of honor. Rev. W. George Mullin performed the ceremony. The happy couple received many beautiful presents. Among them were the following: Chamber set, four rugs, water set and purse of money from the bride's mother, Mrs. Wayman; pair of blankets and purse of money from the bridegroom's parents; dinner set of 166 pieces from the bride's cousin, Mr. Charles F Townsend; pair of blankets, the bride's aunt, Mrs. Townsend; linen from Miss Sarah Townsend; cut glass fruit dish, Miss Mary Wayman; lamp, Miss Mary Roscoe; toilet set, Mrs. Hobart, Nashua, N. H.; wine set, Mr. and Mrs. Belanger; silver berry spoon, Miss Belanger; wine set and a smoking set, Miss Nellie Fitzgerald; silver spoons, Miss Kate and Thomas Fitzgerald; oak rocker, Mr. and Mrs. McCarthy; cut glass berry set, Mr. and Mrs. Conry; wine set, Mr. and Mrs. Mercier; picture, Mr. Thos. Gray; comforter, Mrs. Thos. Gray; cut glass fruit dish, Miss Sadie Quinlan; berry set, Mr. and Mrs. Belanger; lace draperies and table linen, Miss Mora Flynn; table linen, Mary Flanagan; curtains and table linen, Mrs. Goldenberg; cut glass and china, K. Townsend fancy brush, Mr. Joe Quinlan, Portsmouth, N. H.; spread, Mr. Fred Donnelly; glass dishes, Mary Flannery; marble clock and mirror, Mr. Chas. Wayman. The happy couple left on the 5.22 train for New York and other points. They will be at home after September 1st, '99.

REEDE—DREW.

June 28 of this year will be remembered by many as the banner day of weddings in this city but among all the nuptial events of yesterday afternoon and evening which included in their principals, persons of nearly every class and condition none was happier or more brilliant than that of Mr. Fred M. Beede and Miss Hilda Lee Drew both of whom are well known and most estimable young residents of this city, who were united last evening by Rev. C. E. Fisher of the First Universalist church. The Episcopal double ring service was used.

The bride approached the altar upon the arm of her brother, Mr. Nathaniel Drew. They were awaited in the parlor by the groom and his best man, Mr. James H. Beede. The bridesmaids were Misses Cora Littlehale of Tyngsboro, Ella Kaler of Nashua, Katherine Bulkeley of Lawrence and Corinne Underhill of Boston. They were attired in blue and pink and wore short veils caught with solid gold brooches with amethysts, the gift of the bride. The flower girl was Gertrude Lane and the bearers of the rings was little Julia Burke. Both of the little girls were dressed in white.

The maid of honor, Miss Bessie Bulkeley, wore blue silk.

The ushers were Mr. Eugene G. Russell, Mr. Hawthorne Drew, Dr. Edward L. Farrington, Mr. Joseph Burns and Mr. James Wright, all of this city. The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. James H. Beede. The groom's favors to his ushers and best man were stick pins, crescents of pearls. The bride was assisted in receiving by her mother Dr. Drew, the groom's mother, Mrs. S. L. Beede, the groom's sister, Mrs. Eugene G. Russell and Mrs. William S. Butler of Boston, together with the bridesmaids and maid of honor.

A grand reception followed the ceremony. During the evening the happy couple left on a wedding tour. They are the recipients of a large collection of costly gifts. Mrs. Dr. Drew mother of the bride, presented them with a check and the gift of the groom's mother was a Haviland china tea set.

NOT VERACIOUS.

The Kicker—Don't you see that sign, "No Smoking Here?"

The Kicked—Yes, it isn't strictly truthful, though. I'm smoking, you know.

FOR CONGRESS

PICKED FOR ELECTION BY ILLINOIS DEMOCRATS.

The Rev. Father George D. Heldmann, who has been picked out by the democrats of the Second Illinois district as the only man who can beat Congressman Lorimer, is pastor of St. Paul's Roman Catholic church, Chicago. His acceptance of the nomination waits on the consent of Archbishop Feehan. He was born in 1844 in Chicago, educated for the priesthood at St. Mary's Seminary and has been parish priest at St. Paul's since 1888. He has done much to build up the parish, built a new church and several parish buildings. He has a strong hold on the hearts of his parishioners, is of German extraction, and was one of the chairmen of the mass meeting in protest against a British-American alliance. It is a strong German district with a big republican majority to overcome. Says Father Heldman: "I have always been a democrat, and there is no law, ecclestical or civil, which prevents the election of a Catholic priest to the office of congressman.

"It is not of my own volition I may enter the race for a seat in the United States congress," he says. "All creeds and denominations, irrespective of party, are urging me to make the race. I have paid no serious attention to their appeals, but the movement is spreading. I shall allow the thing to develop itself.

"Sending a priest to the Legislature is not without a precedent. One was elected to the lower house in Detroit not many years ago.

"If I should be elected I do not see how it will interfere with my church duties. A preacher can do his people much good in the national congress—especially the class which is so poorly represented as this district is by Mr. Lorimer. I have always believed that were I in congress, I could do more for the people in this district than has been accomplished before. If it happens that I become a candidate, it will not be as a reformer, but as a representative of the people, to give them what they have been asking for.

"If I shall have to be disconnected from my parish duties, in becoming a candidate, I will drop the proposition, as my life is consecrated to the cause of the church, but I believe I can run without the duties of my parish being interfered with. I shall make no move, however, until I get permission from Archbishop Feehan, who is my superior."

THE TRAMP PROBLEM.

The Wisdom of the Great Captains on the Subject Worth About 30 Cents.

At the request of the general manager of a large railroad company, Mr. Josiah Flynt, the tramp expert, spent two months recently in investigating the company's efforts to put a stop to the stealing of rides. He found that of all the roads in America this one had the worst reputation among the "hoboes." Mr. Flynt says:

"Can the tramps be driven off the railroads? It was to satisfy my own curiosity in regard to this question and to find out how successful my employer, the general manager, had been in his attempt to answer it in the affirmative that I undertook the investigation which I have described. Previous to his efforts to keep tramps off railroads, it had been thought, as he has stated, that it was cheaper to put up with them, nuisance though they were, than to pay the bills which a crusade against them would occasion. It has at last been demonstrated, however, that tramps can be refused free transportation by one of our greatest railroads, with a saving of expense to the company and with great benefit to the community, and the time has come when the public is justified in demanding that all railroads take a similar stand in regard to this evil.

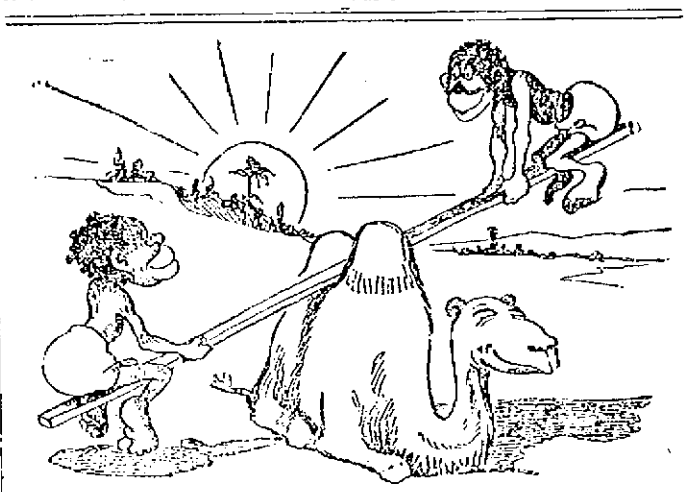

"If all the railroad companies would agree upon concerted action against tramps, in a few years the following very satisfactory results would be achieved: First, very few tramps, if any, would try to beat their way on trains. Second, an appreciable number of them would give up tramping entirely, because their present railroad privileges are to many the main attractions of the life. Third, a few would try to become professional criminals again, partly out of revenge and partly because tramping on the turnpikes would be too disagreeable, and fourth, a large number would take to the highways, where some might be made to do farm work and where all would at least be in touch with farm life. The reader may take exception to the third possibility and think that great harm would come of an increase in the professional criminal class; but, as I have said, tramps are really discouraged criminals, and a return to the old life, of which they made a failure, would land them in the penitentiary.

"It is probably impossible ever entirely to eliminate the vagrant element in a nation's life, and no such hope is held out in connection with the reform advocated in this article. But this much is certain—had all the railroads been as close to tramps during my first excursions into Holland as one of them has recently become, one man at least would not have attempted any free riding and would not have found so many tramps to study."—Century Magazine.

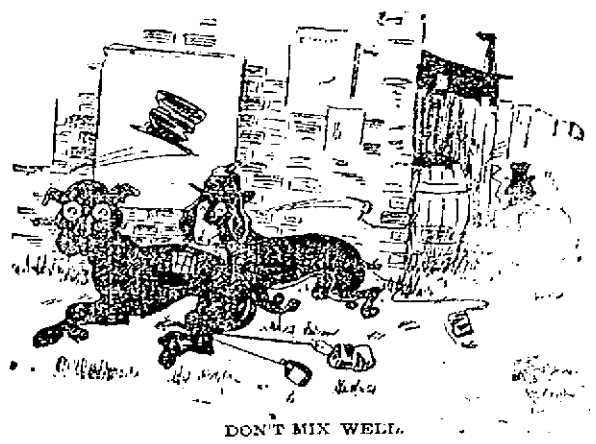

Ruskin Co-operative Colony.

Next August Ruskin will celebrate its fifth anniversary. During these years many members have come and gone. Over 40 have had their money returned to them. We now have on our roll cash shares of stock representing $49,500. The original capital was seventeen thousand and odd dollars, making a total of $66,500 cash. With this sum we have fed, clothed and housed on an average 200 people for five years; have taken care of our sick and buried our dead; have made costly mistakes—one of which made us practically throw away over a year and a half's work (we refer to our first settling at Old Ruskin and moving here); yet with all our blunders, with all our expenses, with the losses and misfortunes that necessarily go with a new organization, the sworn statement of our officers on the 1st of January show that we have property worth $94,000. In the five years every land note was paid before due, and every bill for merchandise has been discounted. These are the facts, and we ask our readers if it is not an infamous outrage that an injunction should be sworn out and a receiver be appointed under such conditions.—Coming Nation.

AT TEWKSBURY

An Extremely Pathetic Case in Almshouse

IMPORTANT MEETING OF CHURCH SOCIETY

Rev. J. Herbert Yeoman Receives a Call.

TO PASTORATE OF CENTRE CHURCH.

Is a Nephew of Undertaker J. B. Currier.

Thomas E. Kellher of Lynn has been committed to the State Almshorse at Tewksbury. This announcement in itself would not arouse any pity or interest, were it not for the fact that the victim is a well known young man of Lynn, popular among his acquaintances, and at one time had a bright future. Young Kellher is not only a charge upon the state, but he also suffers from total blindness and a general impairment of health, and those who are acquainted with him state that he probably will not live very long. His case is extremely pathetic, as his present condition is the result of a lovers' quarel.

Young Kellher formerly kept company with an attractive looking girl in Lynn, named Susie Denehy. They were very fond of each other, and it was said that the Denehy girl was jealous of him, though it is stated that she had no reason to entertain the slightest suspicion against him. One evening, about 10 o'clock, over a year ago, Kellher called upon his fiance. Instantly there was a quarrel, it is said, the girl calling him to account for not calling earlier. Explanations followed. The couple were seated in the parlor of the Denehy house, an electric light some distance away furnishing a dim light in the room.

It is said that the girl refused to accept Kellher's explanation, and instead, seized a bottle of vitriol and dashed it into Kellher's face. The victim was taken to the hospital, and the assailant to police headquarters.

Kellher refused to testify against his assailant, though the government prosecuted the charge, and it was finally dropped by the marriage of the pair, the Rev. Fr. Harrington performing the ceremony.

A short time after the wedding Kellher began acting strangely, and he would probably have been sent to Danvers Insane Asylum then had not his wife interfered.

For some time the couple lived together, but of late Kellher had been lodging at the police station.

The officials there, finding they could no longer keep him, turned him over to the overseers of the poor, and they transferred him to the state almshouse.

TEWKSBURY TOWN TOPICS.

The Rood's Farm base ball team will play the North Tewksbury team at the North Village, July 1.

Miss Nettie Pike and her cousin, Miss Millie Knapp of Piermont, N. H., enjoyed yesterday at Long Pond, sketching the "lily beds," and brought home some very excellent specimens of pond lilies.

Dr. Ranney, of the Tewksbury almshouse, who plays with the almshouse team, was at one time the crack catcher for the Dartmouth University base ball team. He is very popular with the residents of this town, and also well liked by the inmates of the almshouse.

Cannon crackers and firecrackers exploded at different parts of the Centre Village last evening shows that "Young America" is up and doing and getting into training for the glorious Fourth.

Miss Stella Morrill attended the Reede-Drew nuptials at Lowell last evening.

Billy Button has discarded his whiskers, received a Johnny Breed hair cut and is now reported studying ventriloquism.

The Sun is "catching on" in this town. Mr. James Fairgrieve has of late been increasing his order and today orders five additional copies of The Sun to be sent daily to his store. Verily, "Jim" knows a good thing when he gets it, and so do the people of Tewksbury. Bear in mind—politics or no politics—The Sun is a newspaper for the people. Motto: The news all the time—news that is news, at first hands.

Miss Carrie Dawson attended the recital of Mr. George F. Willey's pupils at Lowell last evening.

"Joe" Duffy of the Centre Village, is organizing a team which will contain Lowell players, to compete against the almshouse ball team.

Monday evening it was voted by the Congregational church society to extend a call to Rev. J. Herbert Yeoman of Wareham, to become the pastor of the church. The other candidate was Rev. Mr. Washburn of Brookline. The first ballot was an informal one, resulting in 12 votes for Rev. Mr. Yeoman, 3 for Rev. Mr. Washburn and 2 blanks. The formal ballot was 15 votes favoring Mr. Yeoman, and 2 blanks. The letter announcing the decision of the society has been sent Rev. Mr. Yeoman and a reply is waited. The latter is a nephew of Undertaker J. B. Currier of Lowell and preached at both services at the Centre church Sunday.

During Rev. Mr. Yeoman's stay in Tewksbury over Sunday he was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Enoch Foster.

A pretty June wedding was solemnized Tuesday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. R. Rockwood Rice of Tewksbury, when their daughter, Miss Nellie J. Rice, was united in marriage to Mr. Paul B. Smith of J. A. Weinbeck's undertaking establishment. The ceremony was performed under an arch of evergreen and ferns in the presence of only the immediate relatives and friends of the contracting parties. The bride was attended by Miss Enid F. Tucker and Mr. Ralph F. Burt officiated in the capacity of best man. The bride was charmingly attired in India mulle, and carried bride's roses, while the bridesmaid wore a becoming costume of Swiss mousseline. At the conclusion of the ceremony a wedding supper was served by Alexander Cameron, and an opportunity was given to inspect the many handsome and useful presents. After a brief honeymoon they will take up their residence on Richmond street, where they will be at home to their friends after July 10. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Herbert A. Pasho of Boston.

NORTH CHELMSFORD

RECEPTION TO REV. ROBERT W. DUNBAR AND BRIDE.

The members of the North Chelmsford Congregational church gave a reception to their pastor, Rev. Robert W. Dunbar and his wife last night. Mr. and Mrs. Dunbar having been married a week ago in Portland. There was a large attendance in spite of the unpropitious weather and the affair although as informal as possible, was none the less enjoyable. The platform was covered with potted plants and ferns and this, together with the decorations by the ladies of the church, gave the place an attractive appearance.

The reception was held from 7.30 o'clock to 9, Rev. and Mrs. Dunbar being assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Holt and Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Sheldon. At nine o'clock Mr. Arthur F. Salmon called to order and introduced Mrs. Frederick Mallelieu, who in a neat little speech presented Mr. Dunbar with an easy chair as a gift from the members of the senior Christian Endeavor society. Rev. Mr. Dunbar responded in a few happy words.

Afterwards the young ladies served refreshments, the remainder of the evening being devoted to a social time which everybody enjoyed.

The committee to whom is due the credit of making the affair so pleasant was composed of Mrs. Arthur Salmon, Mrs. Charles Scribner, Mrs. Howard Whittemore, Mrs. George Merrill, Mrs. Fred Culley. The young ladies who served refreshments were: Miss Daisy Ridley, Miss Belle Adams, Miss Bessie Moore, Miss Clara Wright, Miss Florence Shaw, Miss Hattie Hall, Miss Bertha Swain, Miss Annie Wright, Miss Mary Brown, Miss Ethel Ranger, Miss Belle Smith, Miss Nellie Truby, Miss Addie Overlock, Miss Addie Hyde and Mrs. Viola Mitchell. The ushers were: Arthur F. Salmon, E. H. Shaw, Preston Piggott, H. C. Trombly, A. C. Mitchell, and Edward Durant. An orchestra of seven pieces under the direction of Mrs. D. E. Dudley gave several pleasant selection during the evening. Pastor Dunbar and wife will reside at the Congregational parsonage on School street. During the past few weeks the exterior of his residence has undergone some repairing and is now in excellent condition.

Four new weaving looms have been added to those already in use by the Success Worsted company. This new increase to those already in use makes seventeen weaving looms that the company will soon have in operation. Mr. Walter A. Leigh, the manager and treasurer of the company, is a well known and popular young man of North Chelmsford.

The combing room base ball team of George C. Moore's mills are anxious to participate in a base ball game with the wool sorting team of the same mill. As there are some good ball players in the two teams a game between them would be quite exciting. Should the wool sorters wish to accept the challenge of the combing room team it is quite possible that the game will be played within two weeks.

The selection of the umpire will be decided by John J. Brennan, manager of the combing room team and John McTague, manager of the wool sorters.

It is expected that there will be another tug of war between the wool carders and wool sorters of George C. Moore's mill. There is a strong rivalry between these two tug-of-war teams and although the wool sorters came out victorious the first time that they met, the carders feel confident that if another tug of war can be arranged before long that they can defeat their strong opponents.

STORES BEING PUT IN.

Several building improvements are being made on Middlesex street. The Glidden block is to have another entrance between the main door and the Traders' bank entrance and further up the street, stores are taking the place of tenements in several places.

BOXING GOSSIP.

The bill which Manager Desmond will offer at the Nutone club on the night before the Fourth, from present indications will amply make up for the disappointment of the last meeting. Of course, the "yellow" work of Patsy Hennessy at the last meeting was not the fault of the club, but to guard against a repetition of it in the future Manager Desmond states that henceforth he will allow none but boxers who box to appear before the Nutone and will use more than ordinary care in selecting attractions.

The principal attraction of the night before the Fourth will be a 15-round contest, and perhaps 20, between Morris Rosenberg of Boston and John Dinsdale of Worcester, two of the cleverest men in the business. Rosenberg and Dinsdale will undoubtedly put up a good go. They have met some of the best men in the country in their class and are known from one end of the country to the other. There was some dispute as to the referee of the contest, but both men at last are satisfied to have Luke Burke, the referee of the club, officiate.

The preliminaries on this occasion will be of the most interesting kind to Lowell followers of the sport. The first one will be an eight-round go between Billy Gardner, who needs no introduction in this city, and Prof. Gagnon, late manager of the Hudson Athletic club, the meteoric career of which is well remembered. Prof. Gagnon has developed into a boxer within the past year and considers himself able to go up against the redoubtable Gardner. He boxes at 120 pounds and keeps himself in condition all the time. Gagnon resembles Fitzsimmons in the ring, although he boxes somewhat differently. He has not had much of an experience but has had a draw with Billy Chisholm and a draw with another prominent lightweight. Gardner has already posted his guarantee and Gagnon writes The Sun that he will be on hand in a day. Gagnon says he weighs 121 now and never felt better in his life. He is training daily at Hudson, and being under the tutelage of first class boxers, he is improving rapidly every day. While he may not be able to "give the gaff" as well as some, he certainly can take it. Gardner evidently expects a clinch, for he goes up against Kid Lavigne on the Fourth of July evening, the night after taking on Gagnon. Billy's long list of consecutive victories have made him quite confident of his prowess.

It was intended to have Young Sharkey go on with Fitzpatrick of Newton for eight rounds on the night of July 3, and it was thought that everything had been arranged. But Fitzpatrick, who lost once to Sharkey, is a trifle shy about meeting him again and has sent word that he will not go on with Sharkey, but would like to take on Bob Montgomery, the colored boxer, who received a drubbing from George Gardner at Manchester, some moths ago. To fill out the program in place of Sharkey and Fitzpatrick, Manager Desmond takes pleasure in announcing that the only two "real thing" boxers of the city, Tom McLaughlin, the Roscommon champion, and John Dion, the pride of the P. A. C., have fixed it up to go 8 rounds again on that night for the purpose of deciding the supremacy and with a good bet on the side.

Since the last meeting, the P. A. C. boys have been guying Dion because he did not make short work of McLaughlin, and as a result John has been training faithfully and will make the Roscommon champion hustle for 8 rounds on that night. McLaughlin on the other hand, can see himself improving every day and while he expected to take on bigger game, he says he is willing to give Dion another show, just to convince him that he is not in his class.

Several prominent boxing managers have written Manager Desmond, asking for opportunities to appear before the club, but Manager Desmond does not give any encouragement to any of them until he has first looked them up. He intends to give nothing but first class, legitimate and orderly exhibitions.

PHILIP MURPHY.

MICHAEL REGAN.

SKETCH OF THE ACCIDENT AT THE COAL SHED OF THE LOWELL GAS COMPANY AS DESCRIBED BY AN EYE WITNESS.

TWO WERE KILLED

At the Lowell Gas Works Yesterday Afternoon.

Were Buried Under a Load of Coal Hurled From a Dump Car—Michael Regan and Philip Murphy the Victims.

A sad accident occurred yesterday afternoon at the gas company's works on School street.

A coal car was to be dumped, and after some vain attempts to dump it, it was decided to have the men get into the car and shovel out the coal.

Michael Regan, a strapping lad fellow, and Philip Murphy, were selected for the purpose, and after they had shovelled for a while, the car suddenly tipped over, throwing the men underneath, and burying them under the coal. Help was promptly given, but before the unfortunate men could be extracted, Regan was dead and Murphy unconscious. It is doubtful if the latter recovers from his injuries.

Regan resided at 31 L street in Centralville, and Murphy at 43 Wright street, Pawtucketville. The accident caused much excitement around the locality, and soon a large crowd had gathered on the scene.

Later—Murphy died soon after the accident and both bodies were taken charge of by Undertaker Molloy.

The scene of the accident is the large covered coal pocket of the company, which takes up over an acre of ground. It is divided into vaults and will hold 12,000 tons of coal when filled. The coal cars are run up to it on trestles and unloaded as desired. It is a dark, dusty place, resembling the shaft of a mine, and the men working in it are as black as their surroundings from the time they start to work until they finish. As each car is dumped, there follows a roar and great clouds of dust which for a time entirely enveloped the men.

It was in one of these vaults that the accident occurred. One of the coal cars failed to dump and the men were sent to unload it.

Supt. Farnham of the gaslight company, said that these dump cars have been used since 1849. The cars, known as "shovelers" are not favored now to any great extent. These cars have an appliance known as ruckers and these are held by couplings. When the car is ready to be unloaded, the couplings are slipped and the car tilts enough to dump the contents.

In some manner, the rocker on this particular car which contained about four tons, became broken and Regan and Murphy were ordered by Foreman Peters to get into it and shovel out the contents.

He instructed them, he claims, to shovel from the upper side, but the men, having shovelled about the cars for years, took the easier way and worked from the lower side. As a result, when the car was about half emptied, the weight on one side caused it to tilt over. But the couplings not being unfastened so as to permit the car to dump, there was no relief for the strain on one side of the car and as a result the great weight lifted the car off the tracks, caused it, with its load of coal and unfortunate crew to topple over into the pit 10 feet below, the men being crushed between the stone wall and the car and buried under the great pile of coal.

A force of about 20 men went speedily to work on the debris and in about half an hour had succeeded in extricating the victims of the accident.

Regan had been instantly killed and Murphy died a few minutes after being taken from the pile. Murphy's head was horribly mangled.

Regan was 25 years of age and married. He is survived by two brothers, Martin and Thomas, and one sister, who resides in Pennsylvania. Murphy was 50 years of age and was also married. Besides his wife he leaves four children, John A., Cornelius, Abbie T., and Sadie A. Murphy; also two brothers, Michael and Patrick M., the latter being the fireman at the Whittier Cotton mills; and two sisters, Mary Powers and Maggie Murphy.

Regan had been employed by the company for about six years and Murphy for over 20 years.

Superintendent George W. Farnham said he had been connected with the gas company since 1852 and in all those years had never heard or seen anything to compare with the sad affair. In speaking of the men, Mr. Farnham said they were both good, reliable men.

The gaslight company did all in its power for the men and notified their families and the press of the accident as soon as possible after it happened.

AT SACRED HEART

EXECELLENT PROGRAM WELL RENDERED

Address by Rev. Fr. Joyce O. M. I.

Closing Exercises of the School Pupils

The closing exercises of the pupils of the school of the Sacred Heart parish were held yesterday afternoon in the school hall and were largely attended by the parents and friends. The stage was tastefully decorated with the Stars and Stripes. One feature of the exercises was the marching on and off the stage by the pupils to the tune, "Marching Through Georgia." Among the Oblate Fathers present were Rev. William D. Joyce, O.M.I., Rev. John P. Reynolds, O.M.I., Rev. D. Gagnon, O.M.I., Rev. Fr. Campos, O.M.I., Rev. Fr. McEvoy, O.M.I., Rev. Lawrence Tighe, O. M. I., Rev. D. Sullivan, O. M. I., and Rev John J. Duffy, O. M. I.

The program was as follows:

Opening hymn, "O Sacred Heart;" dialogue, "When Papa Was a Little Boy"; song, "The Cobbler;" coon song, "The Chicken's Mistake;" dialogue, "The Peace Maker;" song, "My First Music Lesson;" recitation, "What I Can Do;" instrumental trio; recitation, "The Birds' Picnic;" vacation song, dialogue, "Sick Dolls;" dialogue, "Boys' Complaint;" song, "Chiming Bells," proclamation of reports and distribution of prizes.

The program was exceedingly well rendered, considering the age of the pupils who were quite young and reflects much credit on the work of the instructors. In some numbers as many as 50 pupils appeared.

Rev. Fr. Reynolds introduced Rev. William D. Joyce, O.M.I., first pastor of the parish.

Fr. Joyce returned thanks for the honor conferred upon him and congratulated the pupils upon the good work demonstrated. He returned to his connection with the parish in 1884. He remained about one year and stated that it was always a pleasure for him to meet his old parishioners.

He described the parochial school as a great blessing. Such a school is needed in these days, he said. The good results attained by the Sisters are recognized by the parishioners and the good effect produced on the pupils of the school has its effect upon their associates who do not attend the parochial school. The Immaculate Conception school is not sufficiently large to accommodate the pupils. The reverend gentleman expressed the belief that the attendance at the Sacred Heart school would be largely increased in the future.

Continuing to speak of the parochial school, Fr. Joyce stated that the pupils of such school had in addition to the secular knowledge obtained in other schools a moral and religious training which would be of service during life. One of the chief troubles in this country today is that the mind is trained and the hearts neglected. The result is that many people have no moral training and are willing to do wrong provided they are not found out. The parochial school seeks to teach pupils the necessity of religion and morals and the training received bears good fruit in later years.

Premiums were distributed at the close, when the standing of each pupil was read.

CRICKET GAMES.

At the cricket games Saturday between the Mohairs and Arlingtons on the Chelmsford street grounds the following will be the Mohair team:

R. Firth, Capt; B. Southam; F. Harrison; L. Fielding; J. Gregg; R. Monk; Wm. Duffy; A. Stirks; F. Pascall; J. Webster; D. Hanau; reserves, J. Lane; W. Flexney; Alf. Watson. Game called at 2.30 pm.

SONG RECITALS.

The pupils of Mr. F. Edmond Edmunds will give the second of a series of three song recitals at the Unitarian church this evening at 8 o'clock.

PERSONAL.

At the entertainment of the Debating club at West Chelmsford, this evening there will be vocal and instrumental music, readings and speakings by Mrs. Daisy Shaw Merritt of Westford, Miss Ilene Stevens of Springfield, Mr. Hubert Hearee of North Chelmsford, Mr. Oscar Naylor, Miss Lulu Spalding, Miss Beatrice Naylor, Mrs. Carrie Robie, Master Coburn and Master Lundberg.

Mrs. James M. Wing left yesterday for an extended vacation which will include visits to her old home in New Brunswick and points along the Maine coast.

Professor George L. Ward of Rollins College, Florida, gave a recent talk to the Y. P. S. C. E. of the Highland Congregational church on the work of the institution. Ten dollars was voted by the society to the college.

Miss Katharine Kelly of the Cross street school left last evening for Mebautie, Me., where she will spend her vacation.

W. J. Coughlin, the land operator, is developing a tract of land in Manchester, which he has named Lakeview Terrace.

A. H. Schoolcraft and son, Otis Edwin, will spend the next month or six weeks in New Hampshire and Vermont for a much needed rest.

Mrs. M. G. Hallett and son Freeman Hallett, a graduate of the Moody school, class of '99, started today for Belfast, Me., for their summer vacation. Miss Sadie A. Hallett of Boston is to be their guest during their stay.

Mr. Charles Chitty of Pawtucketville, the well known compositor, will start the early part of next month on a protracted vacation to be enjoyed at Willoughby Lake, Burke, Vt.

A SCHOOL EXHIBIT

Pupils of St. Patrick's Parochial School

Entertained Their Parents and Friends at a Most Interesting Exhibition of a Year's Work in That Well Known Institution—Specimens of All Branches Displayed.

The annual exhibition of the work of the pupils of St. Patrick's parochial school, opened at the academy yesterday and continues today, a large number of proud parents and relatives viewing with great appreciation the fine results attained by their children. The schools of the good Sisters of Notre Dame are noted throughout the country for the completeness of their scope and the ability of their teachers, and St. Patrick's school is among the first of all.

The exhibit at the academy illustrates the studies taught in the different classes, from highest to the entrance class.

The exhibit of the first grade, composed of children from six to eight years of age are specimens of the now popular vertical writing, drawing and color work. The pupils of the next grade contribute specimens of their first writing in ink and drawing with lead pencil. Then there are specimens of sewing and knitting, two branches for which the school is widely noted. In this line the younger pupils are taught to sew with colored thread on white cloth that they may be taught to detect speedily many stitches. Lessons in music are also shown and one of the most interesting features of the exhibit is the following of the needle and music work through the different grades, a most remarkable progress being shown. The theory and practice of music are most strikingly exemplified and the specimens shown are neatness itself.

In the needle-work line the pupil advances from plain stitching and knitting through fancy work and dressmaking, most desirable studies for young girls.

The art of map drawing which makes the study of geography more comprehensive, and the knowledge obtained more easily retained, begins in an early grade and continues to a finished stage.

The sixth grade presents the first specimen of book-keeping, and the illustration show that the graduate pupils of St. Patrick's is not only proficient in the fundamental theories of this most practicable branch of study, but is ever familiar with its higher and more difficult forms, even to banking.

Work in algebra, physical geography, history, literature and astronomy contributes no mean portion of the variety of exhibits and particularly fine among these are the exhibits of literary and historical work. Essays on and criticisms of different standard authors, each headed with a picture of the celebrity, discussed and a perusal of them shows the young essayists have not only given thought to their subjects, but are possessed of a style of composition seldom attained, except in institutions of the higher education. The historical papers are most striking for their up-to-dateness and some of the papers on the Spanish-American war would do credit to much older historians. In this department, too, on a large easel is a picture of Admiral George Dewey. Surrounding it are colored likenesses of Admiral Schley, Admiral Sampson, President McKinley, Secretary of War John D. Long and pictures of various battleships of the navy. Under Dewey's picture is a paper on "Our Navy" Sketches of Dewey, Sampson, Schley, McKinley, and Long are below the portraits, while sketches are given of the battleships.

Nearby is a group of flags of various countries. These are drawn in the correct colors and beneath each flag is a brief historical sketch of the country which it represents. The American flag occupies the centre of the exhibit.

And that discussed branch of learning which some of us can't help designating as a fin-de-seicle fad, the nature study, has found its way into the school, another evidence of the completeness of the curriculum of the school, as is evidenced by the various specimens of leaves, flowers, etc., neatly exhibited. In the higher grades of drawing the pupils exhibit very attractive designs for wall paper, done in colors.

The penmanship which appears more or less in nearly all the exhibits, is noticeable for its legibility and neatness and makes one of the most attractive exhibits of the vertical system to be found in Lowell.

But a scarcity of space prevents longer description of the exhibits, of which much more might be written without exaggeration. The whole is a collection of the work of the pupils done from time to time within the year and is therefor not specially prepared for the occasion. Suffice it to say the pupils are fortunate in having the best kind of teachers, who have co-operated with them in the work of education and return to their parents after the year's work having received as much advancement at St. Patrick's as may be obtained from any of the parishes of the great educational systems.

People Who Trade With Us Find Us Very Accommodating

For one reason or another it is not always convenient to pay all cash for furniture, carpets or a range. Sometimes the purchase has to be made a little before the time one expected, or you have been "boarding out" and that takes about all the money you earn. (The difference between that and "keeping house" would make the weekly payments) or you don't want to take money out of the bank just then and lose the interest. Whatever the reason, come to us, pay about a third down and we'll accommodate you, and we won't charge you any more and no interest. Of course we prefer to sell for cash; but we want your trade either way.

HARVARD HONORED

Admiral Sampson, Gen. Wood and Others by Degrees

Pres. Eliot Announced Gifts Amounting to $1,250,000 During the Year—Jules Cambon, French Ambassador to the United States Also Present—Other Features.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

CAMBRIDGE, June 29.—Nine rapid-fire "rahs" for "Dr." Sampson.

Eighteen more for "Dr." Wood.

Harvard rendered its decision yesterday on the controversy as to whom the honors of the Santiago naval battle belonged and "everything came Admiral Sampson's way."

The only hero of commencement day who could claim a louder tribute of acclaim was General Leonard C. Wood; and so demonstrative did the scene in Memorial hall become at one time that the Rough Rider who never quailed from Mauser bullets or Cuban sanitation problems blushed with embarrassment and seemed fearful of raising his eyes from the strawberries piled in front of him as he delivered his address.

M. Jules Martin Cambon, the French ambassador, was another lion of the day who, created a doctor of laws in the morning, returned thanks in his native tongue at the banquet, speaking in French at the suggestion of the toastmaster, who assured him the graduates would understand him just as plainly as though he used the classical tongues.

Harvard did the graceful thing toward Yale by creating her president-elect, Arthur Twining Hadley, a doctor of laws; but he was unable to be present to respond for himself and the "Ells."

THE GRADUATES DINNER.

The "graduates' dinner" in Memorial Hall was the crowning event of the week to the alumni—to the "old boys" as the poet Holmes styled them—to the "fellows" as Horace Davis, a 40er, addressed them. By classes they had tramped across the campus and under the trees.

Massed in the doorways, out of the rain, the undergraduates cheered class after class as they passed with the nine Harvard "rahs" followed by the year of the class; and when some athletic hero of former generations was recognized he was singled out and cheered by name.

The ladies who looked down from the balconies could trace the generations of graduates by signs as unmistakable as though each man were stencilled with the date of his graduation.

At the right hand of the toastmaster there sat in order, President Eliot, Ambassador Cambon, Alexander Agassiz, General Wood and other recipients of honorary degrees. At the left were Governor Wolcott, Admiral Sampson (almost hidden behind a spreading palm), Bishop Lawrence and others, including Lieutenant-Governor Crane.

President Eliot in a speech announced the year's gifts to have amounted to $1,250,000.

A rousing welcome was accorded Admiral Sampson and General Wood when presented as speakers. They spoke upon war matters.

HONORARY DEGREES.

The honorary degrees had been conferred at the commencement exercises in Sanders theatre in the morning, as follows:

DOCTOR OF LAWS.

FATAL ACCIDENT

H. C. Hawthorne Was Instantly Killed

WILLIAM C. GIVAN SERIOUSLY INJURED.

In an Elevator Accident Yesterday.

THE HOISTING CHAIN PARTED

And Loaded Car Crushed Both Men.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

VINEYARD HAVEN, Mass., June 29.—News was received here from Cottage City this morning that Herbert C. Hawthorne was instantly killed and William C. Givan was perhaps injured late last night by an elevator in Cornell & Mayhew's grocery store. The two young men, who were employed in the store, were raising heavy freight to the upper store room when the hoisting chain parted. The loaded car crushed both men to the floor, Cawthorn dying instantly. Givan sustained several broken bones and numerous severe bruises but it is thought he will recover. Cawthorn was 17 years of age. He was son of Joseph J. Cawthorn, a Cottage street druggist.

DEATH PENALTY

Inflicted Upon a Self Confessed Murderer

JOS. HOLLINGER HANGED TODAY.

Killed His Wife by Cutting Her Throat.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

HARRISBURG, Pa., June 29.—Joseph Hollinger, a self confessed murderer, was hanged today in the Dauphin county jail for the murder of his wife. Hollinger went to the gallows without fear and died without a struggle. He was an ignorant farmer about 55 years old and separated from his wife for several months.

Last winter he visited her at the farm of a neighbor and tried to persuade her to return home but she refused. This so enraged him that he knocked her down and then cut her throat with a pocket knife.

HIGH SCHOOL NIGHT

Graduating Exercises With Attractive Program

JOHN J. ROGERS, the Valedictorian.

Harvey N. Shepard of Boston the Orator—Other Addresses—The Valedictory Delivered by John Jacob Rogers—The Graduates and Star Scholars—Two Presentations

The inclement weather last evening, while it might have threatened misfortune to the elaborate summer toilettes of the young ladies, and thereby caused temporary worriment, could not for long depress the spirits of the bright young graduates of the Lowell High school, who, as the class of '99, last evening, entered into the vast arena of life, finely prepared for the battle to come, and most auspiciously introduced to the great world.

It was graduating night at the High school, and all Lowell was astir, for High school graduations have long ago taken their place among Lowell's greatest of events. For days past there has been a mad hunt for the coveted tickets of admission, and when the hour for the affair drew near last evening, all roads led to the Opera House, the scene of the exercises, and at eight o'clock the capacity of the theatre was taxed.

The exercises were of a characteristically high order and the elaborate program was carried out with finished preparation, the inevitable nervousness of the young contributors to the exercises disappeared before the hearty applause of their enthusiastic friends. The members of the graduating class were seated upon the stage in well arranged tiers forming a most attractive picture, the beauty of which was enhanced by the graceful arrangement of flags and the national colors upon a white background, with stately palms hedging the front of the stage from the auditorium.

The exercises opened promptly at eight o'clock, and then the progam was as follows:

THE PROGRAM.

1. March. American Orchestra.
2. Overture "Tannhauser" ....Wagner American Orchestra.
3. Chorus "Praise Ye the Father" .... Gounod

Praise ye the Father,
His power is everlasting;
Praise ye the Father,
Give thanks for all his benefits;
Sing forth your praises,
Let ev'ry heart be joyful;
Praise ye the Father,
Great Ruler, kind and merciful!
Praise be to Him,
Who hath shown His mighty pow'r,
Let ev'ry voice sound His praise
With exulting strains of gladness!
Great is the Lord,
Let His name be praised forever;
Come ye forth with your hearts attuned to sing,
Arise, and praise ye the Father,
Glory to the Father!
To the great and mighty Ruler!
Glory to the Father,
Who alone hath the pow'r to save!
Loudly let the chorus swell!
Loudly let the tuneful anthems ring!
Love and joy be now in every thankful heart,
Oh, praise ye the Lord!

4. Salutatory, "The Three-Fold Destiny" Ella Maude Coffin.
5. Chorus "'Tis Morn" ...Adam Geibel

'Tis morn and the shadows of the night are fled away
While the skylark sings at the break of day.

O'er the eastern hills now creeping,
Comes the sun, the God of day,
Waking nature from her sleeping,
Making all things bright and gay.

Come, while the skies are smiling,
Come ev'ry care beguiling,
Let us the hours be whiling,
In pleasure and peace away.

Come gather fragrant flowers,
Come then to woodland bowers,
Thus all the happy hours,
Shall be spent till the close of day.

6. Address. Hon. Harvey N. Shepard.
7. Concert Waltz, The Angel's Dream. .... Tebani American Orchestra.
8. Presentation of Picture by Class of 1899 Mr. Carl D. Burtt for the Class of '89.
Presentation of Picture by Class of 1899. Samuel Fay Barrows for Class of '99.
Acceptance for the School, Mr. Frank K. Stearns, member of the school committee.
9. Valedictory, "Discipline" John Jacob Rogers.
10. Chorus "To Thee, O Country" National Hymn. Words by Anna E. King. Music by Julius Eichberg.

To thee, O country, great and free
With trusting hearts we cling;
Our voices tuned by joyous love,
Thy pow'r and praises sing.

Upon thy mighty, faithful heart,
We lay, we lay our burden down
Thou art the only friend who feels
Their weight without a frown.

For thee, we daily work and strive,
To thee we give our love;
For thee, with fervor deep, we pray,
To Him, who dwells above.

O God, preserve our Father-land
Let peace, let peace its ruler be
And let her happy kingdom stretch
From north to southmost sea!

11. Presentation of Carney Medals. Honorable Mention made of those who have attained a scholarship rank of 90 per cent. Supt. A. K. Whitcomb.
12. Walther's Prize Song, From "Der Meistersinger." .... Wagner American Orchestra.
13. Presentation of Diplomas. His Honor, Mayor Jeremiah Crowley.
14. Singing of Class Ode. Words by Helen Estelle Bowers. Music by Joseph Hayden German composer, 1732-1809.

Classmates, now the bond we sever
That has held our lives as one;
Sadly comes the thought that never
Can these happy hours return.

Though our hearts are filled with sorrow
As we clasp the parting hand,
Hope points out a bright tomorrow,
Bids us onward turn our gaze.

What the future holds is hidden;
None can lift the mystic veil.
We to do our best are bidden,
Calmly then to wait the end.

Heavenly Father, may thy blessing
On this waiting class descend,
And the love past all expressing,
Guide us till our task is done.

15. "America."
16. Finale, "The Charlatan" ...Sousa American Orchestra.

The literary portion of the program began with the salutatory, a thoughtful essay on "The Three-fold Destiny," delivered without manuscript by Miss Ella Maude Coffin. The lesson it imparted was that the graduates must not seek in distant places the duty of life that may be found close to their own door.

The salutatory was followed by the singing of "'Tis Morn," by Geibel, and then Principal Cyrus W. Irish, who was master of ceremonies, introduced as the speaker of the evening, Hon. Harvey N. Shepard of Boston.

Mr. Shepard spoke in part as follows:

"Of the privileges to speak, which have been given to me, there is none which I shall remember more gratefully than this. When I recall the many distinguished men who have made Lowell their home and when I look about upon the great industries which in less then three generations you have established here, I am glad to be permitted, even for an hour, to make one with you. More than all, I am glad to speak to you, young men and young women, who now are to step over the threshold from the life of preparation to the life of action. I rejoice in the enthusiasm and in the courage with which you look forward to the future.

"Soon the Twentieth Century will have begun. The first pages of its history will be written largely by you and by those like you in the future who now become graduates. It is a glorious opportunity.

"However brilliant the Nineteenth century it probably is as a tallow candle to the splendor of the sun of the Twentieth Century. It would be folly to indulge in prophecy but the achievements of the present are a sure warrant of the future. Into this arena you are to enter. Here you are to fight the battles of life. Envy will assail you, malice will smite you, and treachery will try to entrap you. Many a fond ideal you will find to be an illusion, will grow weary and at times almost disheartened. But be not cast down. However much noise petty and mean men may make, they are in the minority. The best men prevail in the end, and they will bid you a cordial welcome and help you on to victory. Do not join the ignoble mob ever swaying from one side to the other and ever ready to give the hemlock cup to whoever would be its teacher and leader, but make truth your guiding star, be of sincere convictions and have the courage to stand by your beliefs though the heavens should fall.

"You will take up different and many occupations, trades and professions. Choose carefully and then make the most of your choice but do not let it become your whole life.

A perfect machine is possible only because men work constantly at distinct parts. Their very narrowness of occupation tends to a like narrowness of mind.

"On the other hand, one should not look down upon his calling. If it be pursued merely as a grim necessity then man is a slave. We can find in it not only our own support but a satisfaction of the genuine need of another.

LINCOLN CLUB

TAME ELECTION OF OFFICERS LAST NIGHT.

The election of officers was the only interesting item of business at the regular meeting and that was tame, the following officers being elected without half trying: President, William H. Hounsell; first vice president, Alexander Mack Jr.; second vice president, John S. Stratton; financial secretary, Charles E. Tilton; recording secretary, James McDowell; treasurer, James Gemmell; board of trustees, Charles F. Varnum, Charles W. Bell and Charles C. McCue; auditing committee, John W. Tilton, Charles H. Noble and Chas. W. Bell; warden, John L. Stokeham.

James McDowell who had served for three years as president was tired of the office and retired.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

RENNES, France, June 29.—The house occupied by Madame Dreyfus last night was guarded by gendarmes all night long and at daybreak these policemen were succeeded by others. In addition, a giant porter keeps the outer gate locked and barred. No one is allowed to enter without the express permission of Madame Dreyfus.

MUSGRAVE JURY

UNABLE TO AGREE UPON A VERDICT.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 29.—The jury in the case of Andrew H. Musgrave, charged with manslaughter in having caused the death of his wife at Cambridge, came in this morning and reported that they were unable to agree upon a verdict. The jury had been out 24 hours.

TO PHILIPPINES

SERGT. HAHN OF CO. C GOES WITH THE REGULARS.

Sergt. Otto Hahn, who served his country faithfully in the Spanish war as a non-com. in Company C, Sixth regiment, started out today to give some further service to his country, for this morning he bade goodbye to his home and kindred and started for the west where as a member of the 19th Infantry he will soon sail for the Philippines. Sergt. Hahn leaves behind him many friends who give him their best wishes for a successful career and a safe return and those who know him feel confident that only the opportunity will be needed for him to gain honorable distinction.

SULLIVAN'S DEATH

Jere. Sullivan Killed at Graniteville

HE WAS FORMERLY OF LOWELL.

The sad death of Jeremiah Sullivan who was killed at Graniteville greatly shocked the many Lowell friends of the young man. Sullivan was a former resident of this city where he spent most of his early days. He resided in Salem street about 16 years ago, when he went to Graniteville. He was about 28 years old and leaves besides a widow and two children, a sister and mother, both of whom reside in Graniteville and a brother Daniel, who resides on Cross street, this city.

Sullivan was foreman of the job on which the men were working at the time of the accident. He was one of the foremost citizens of the town. Sullivan's father was also the victim of an accident, having been killed by a horse about 12 years ago.

The body of Louis Caza, the young French-American who was killed at Graniteville yesterday was last night removed to this city by Undertaker Archambault who left for that place in company with the brother of the unfortunate man soon after the news of the sad accident reached the latter. The victim was 28 years old, a stonemason by trade and was unmarried. He was practically a native of this city, residing here nearly all his life. He lived at 737 Aiken street with his mother and brother Antoine, besides whom he leaves three other brothers, John of 125 Willie street this city, Joseph of Achelot, R. I., and Charles of Fall River; also a sister, Miss Marie of St. Amerset, Canada. The remains have been taken to the home of John Caza on Willie street, whence the funeral will take place.

The funeral services of Jeremiah Sullivan will be held tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock at St. Catherine's church. Rev. John J. Shaw will celebrate the mass and the bearers will be as follows: Joseph Wall, Frank L. Furbush, James O'Brien, William Wall, Henry J. Healy, and Joseph Johnson of Lowell.

The funeral of Louis Caza will take place tomorrow morning from St. Jean Baptiste church at 9 o'clock.

AUCTION SALE OF PICTURES.

Friday afternoon, June 30, at 2 o'clock I will sell the rest of my fine framed oil paintings, water colors and other pictures at auction to the highest bidder without reserve. This is the last sale this year, so be sure and attend. If you want pictures, at your own price. Ladies specially invited.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

PITTSBURGS TOOK A GAME FROM BROOKLYN.

The games in the national league yesterday resulted as follows:

Pittsburg 9, Brooklyn 1.
Cincinnati 6, Washington 5.
Philadelphia 3, Louisville 1.
Baltimore 5, St. Louis 0.

LOOMFIXERS ELECT.

The Loomfixers' association elected officers for the next six months last night as follows: President, J. E. Jemery; vice president, Bert E. Joy; financial secretary, George E. Desilles; recording secretary, George Shields; treasurer, Eugene Savaria; sentinel, Joseph Baker, sergeant-at-arms, Louis J. Cote; janitor, Frank Trombley; trustee, John Gilman; auditor, Warren Mitchell; executive committee, Wilfred Vezena, D. J. Morrow, William Brick, John Lapointe and Joseph Frechette. Six candidates were initiated and five propositions were received. They voted to run an outing combined with Grove, Varnum's Landing, July 8.

LETTERS OF SYMPATHY.

Rev. C. E. Fisher, pastor of the First Universalist church has received many sympathetic letters of condolence in regard to the death of his mother. He has not found time to answer all of them but will do so in due season.

BURY WIRES

MEETING OF THE COMMITTEE LAST NIGHT.

The committee on electric wires, Aldermen Wilder, McNulty, and Chapin, met last night to discuss the order referred to them by the board of aldermen directing a report at the next meeting of the board upon the feasibility of placing all electric wires underground from City hall to Tower's corner. The committee will report an ordinance to that effect at the meeting of the board next week and the same will be referred to the committee on ordinances and legislation.

ANNUAL OUTING

OF THE BUILDERS' EXCHANGE TODAY.

The Builders are at it today, and when they get at it they do have a great time. This is the day of the annual outing of the Builders' Exchange at Mountain Rock, and after a lunch in their rooms they took the one o'clock special for the scene of the festivities. The outing promises to be one of the most enjoyable of all.

MARRIAGE INTENTIONS

The following are the marriage intentions recorded at the city clerk's office today: John A. Hayward, 23, Bessie Murphy, 27; Michael Hayes (widowed) 27, Mary [illegible]ery, 26; Winfred B. M[illegible], [illegible]sport) 23, Elizabeth Lawson, 28; Henry Hopkins, 22, Emma Lawson. The last two bride-elects are sisters.

ALL ABOARD!
WHAT FOR?

Why the Grand Lawn Party this evening in aid of the Immaculate Conception convent. Where is it? Where is it? Why, it is at the end of the Nesmith street car line, didn't you know that before? No, I did not. Well, then, we will all go. There will be dancing in the evening on an elevated platform, and music will be furnished by the Cadet Band and orchestra. Refreshments of all kinds will be served. In the afternoon there will be all sorts of sports for the children only. All children are invited. Tickets for evening including dancing, 25c. Children's for afternoon only, 10 cents. Remember the date, June 29th, and place. If it is raining, it will be postponed to the following night.

ANOTHER BOUQUET

FOR MISS MACKENZIE OF THIS CITY.

The following notice is taken from the New York Dramatic Mirror:

"A captivating performance was the "Constance" of May McKenzie, a most graceful and winsome, comely and brilliant little artist, whose scenes with the star were among the prettiest bits of ingenue work imaginable." On Friday last, Miss MacKenzie attended the commencement exercises at St. Agnes' convent, New York, as the guest of her uncle, Rev. Thomas Fulcher, D. D., of Bishop Owen's Episcopal church, Albany. At present, Miss Mackenzie is sojourning at Tarrytown, on the Hudson as the guest of Miss Francis Gibbons Heldt of Montana. Previous to her visit to Tarrytown Miss Mackenzie was at Staten Island as the guest of Mrs. J. Whitney King. Miss Mackenzie has several offers for next season which she is considering.

LADIES' HATS FOR SUMMER WEAR

Summer headgear for ladies' wear is certainly more stylish, appropriate, and comfortable this season than ever before, and it's less costly, too, than we've ever known it to be in all the long years of our experience. Our milliners trim more hats now than ever before, and it's all because they do it better and cheaper than others. It's the period between seasons at present, and in order to keep millinery artists at work, we have decided to give Lowell a series of millinery surprises this week. Come in and get our prices.

HEAD & SHAW, "THE MILLINERS," 169 MERRIMACK ST.

CYRUS W. IRISH, Principal of the High School.

HIGH SCHOOL NIGHT.

The laborer is worthy of his hire. But let it not become all nor even the principal part. Much more important than the conception of our work as bringing gain to us is the conception of it as a benefit to others.

"It depends upon ourselves to make our callings noble.

"You are to be the citizens of Lowell, and upon you by virtue of the training you have received, will depend largely its weal or woe. Especially then will depend upon you the condition of its schools. As you have received the best they can give your fellow citizens have a right to look to you for aid and counsel hereafter. There need be no fear that popular support will fail, for the primary and the grammar schools. All the children go to these and all the people recognize their good works. A few comparatively go to the high schools. They are not so widely known. Here is the danger if there be any. Let it be your part to stand by the higher education and to make it manifest that without it the secondary grades cannot be maintained to a proper standard. Let the charities and the social institutions of Lowell also be your care. It is very largely for you to determine whether they shall be kept generous and pure.

"Neither are we to forget that besides our city and our commonwealth our loyal duty belongs to our country. Never in the past has there been more urgent need for the careful consideration and deep devotion of all its people as now. Whether we shall continue to hold the Philippines and the other possessions of the Spanish war or not, it is evident our country has entered upon a new era of its history. Hitherto we have been sufficient unto ourselves and have kept aloof from the controversies of the world. Such isolation no longer is possible. We must bear hereafter our portion of the burden. Your fellow citizens have a right again to look to you for counsel and aid. As educated men and women it is your duty to give them. Do not be afraid to speak what you make think, whether it seems to be in accord with popular notions or not. And above all do not face the future in any spirit of pessimism, for there is one thing lower than moral cowardice; that is the attitude of the grumbler who everywhere proclaims that all things go bad and yet never lends a hand to put them right.

"Many good citizens agree that these things are most desirable and ought to be attained but are discouraged by the political outlook and therefore have little confidence in their accomplishment. But they can find in the worst governed cities and states many instances of upright, faithful, generous and noble men. The politician and office seeker who serve only themselves will go to the wall in favor of the men who offer services for society. We have yet to require of our political leaders that they shall be brave enough to stand alone and to say No! to the projects of avarice or selfish ambition. If, in the old times, men despised the physical coward, so in the future moral cowardice will not be respected. If the strong man, afraid to use his strength when it is needed, is the worst sort of a coward, we shall not respect the man whose money power or selfish greed of gain or place takes away his manly independence and reduces him to the sneak. Nothing in history is more interesting or encouraging than to see how by inexorable justice every man goes to his own place.

"Men lightly think that the world worships brains, smartness and popularity, but this is not so. We always are trying experiments and there is the hope ever present behind the successful man that use and service will appear to justify his notoriety. No one envies the success of a bank burglar who escapes with his plunder. It is the success attained a hundred years ago by pirates and robbers. We must trust the people and remember that it is always safe to appeal not to their prejudices but to their sound judgment and good sense. Such confidence will be a sufficient support of an active and progressive democracy."

TWO PRESENTATIONS.

After the address, two very interesting presentations followed by Carl D. Buttl, on behalf of the class of '89 and Samuel Fay Barrows, of the class of '99, each presenting the school with a large picture to be hung in the school hall. Mr. Barrows made an appropriate speech in presenting the picture to the High school.

"If the representation of any place can have power to inspire and uplift certainly it is this. Gentlemen of the committee, in behalf of the class of '99 I present to the Lowell High school as a token of our gratitude for the patience and kindness with which it has guided our youth and for the labor which it has expended in our behalf, a picture of the Roman Forum."

Mr. Frank K. Stearns of the school board accepted the gifts in behalf of the school.

"Discipline" was the subject of the valedictory delivered by John Jacob Rogers and it was undoubtedly one of the finest efforts ever heard at a High school graduation. The physical discipline which makes mental discipline possible and the mental discipline which makes the successful man, were most ably treated by the young valedictorian and he concluded his remarks to his classmates in the following beautiful lines:

"Together still
We've journeyed up the rough and toilsome hill.
Now, in the glory of this summer day,
We part, and each one goes his different way.
The way at times may dark and weary seem,
No ray of sunshine on our path may gleam,
But still, with honest purpose, toil we on.
And if our steps be upward, straight and true,
Far in the east a golden light shall dawn
And the bright smile of heaven come bursting through."

CARNEY MEDAL SCHOLARS.

The chorus sang "To Thee, O Country," and with very brief words, Supt. Arthur K. Whitcomb presented the Carney medals, the highest honor that the school can confer upon its pupils, to the following graduates:

John Jacob Rogers, Robert Faulkner, Richard Mack Lawton, Ella Maude Coffin, Anna Gertrude Riley, Lucy Marion Stevenson.

The following who had attained a rank of 90 or more received honorary mention:

Melvin Guy Rogers, Ralph Melville Bean, Wilfred Joseph Lincourt, Cornelius Anthony Savage, Loueva Maria Blanchard, Alice Lund Livingston, Laura Belle Conant, Mary Alice Maguire, Bertha May Sherburne, Frances W. Dalrymple, Christine Cameron, Harriet M. Emerson, Winnie D. Nelson, Mary L. James, Harriet B. Whitaker, Lillie S. Cutler, Anna G. Thomas, May F. Hadley, Mary Reilly.

Hon. Jeremiah Crowley, in presenting the diplomas, said to the graduates:

"It is a time-honored custom for the mayor to present the diplomas. It has been said tonight that you will meet slander and calumny in the world that you are entering. Set your mark high, and envy, malice slander, and calumny cannot harm you. Mind you that success in life is not attained easily. There is no royal road to fame or riches. You must toil and persevere in any walk of life. Resist temptation, be temperate avoid the glare of the saloon and there is no doubt of your success in the future."

ONE GRAND UNION

Local French-American Benevolent Societies

MAY BE CONSOLIDATED SOON.

There is a movement on foot among the French-American benevolent organizations of this city to amalgamate.

The idea comes from the West, where nearly all the French organizations of a city have come together and formed one grand union. In Lowell there are several French-American societies which are all at present considering the advisability of the project which will be called to the attention of the delegates to a convention which is to be soon held at the call of President Thomas J. Goyette of L'Association Catholique. The date of this meeting of the representatives of the local French-American societies is yet undecided, but will doubtless be held in a short time, the majority of the interested parties, it is said, are in favor of the amalgamation. Should the Central union be elected it is proposed that it be named the "St. Jean Baptiste Society of America."

The idea of the union started forward at the national convention of French-American societies at Chicago in 1898 and was discussed at Holyoke last year. At the latter convention the Lowell delegates were greatly impressed with it.

The work in the interior of St. Joseph's church, which is now being carried on under direction of Contractor Phillas David will be finished about July 15, when the Ladies of St. Anne will begin a novena which will conclude July 26, the feast of their patron saint.

NEW ORDINANCE

Will Soon Govern Awards of City Contracts.

RESULT OF THE SUN'S AGITATION.

All Contracts to be Advertised.

NOTICE TO OWNERS OF UNLICENSED DOGS.

Make up of Fourth of July Parade.

On all sides are heard favorable comments upon Alderman Pierce's order for an ordinance providing for competition in all big city contracts in the future and the ordinance cannot be made operative any too soon to suit every honest taxpayer.

That a condition of affairs existed which allowed a head of a department or city official to give out a contract involving the expenditure of thousands or dollars without any competition or publicity was known only to a small portion of the public and when it became generally known through The Sun's successful agitation for a measure that would prevent soap jobs and contracts, there was much severe criticism of the city government for allowing such a state of affairs to exist.

This deplorable condition is another result of the new city charter which will certainly perpetuate the name of the board of trade if nothing else does. In the old days when committees let out contracts there existed an ordinance which forbade the awarding of contracts over $300 without advertising bids and securing competition. But when the new charter came into effect, it took the power of making contracts from the committees and gave it to the heads of departments and the ordinance governing the committees became inoperative. No ordinance has been ever framed up to the present to take the place of the old one.

The sample ordinance introduced by Alderman Peirce Tuesday night was drafted in a hurry by City Solicitor Qua and is as follows:

Except as hereinafter provided, no contract for the construction, alteration or repair of any sewer, bridge, street way, building or structure, or the construction, manufacture or repair of any article or thing whatsoever, or for the performance of any specific portion of such construction, etc., which shall involve an expenditure of more than $300, shall be entered into by or on behalf of the city of Lowell, or be valid and binding upon the city, unless the officer or officers authorized by law to make such contract on behalf of the city, shall, at least two weeks prior to the date of the execution of such contract, give notice by public advertisement, in one or more newspapers, published in said Lowell, that it is the intention of such officer or officers, to make such contract and call for sealed proposals for the performance of the same, stating in said advertisement the limit of time within which such proposals will be received or unless the mayor shall before approving such contract certify in writing thereon, that in his opinion such notice and call were inexpedient and not for the best interest of the city.

The above doesn't quite suit either City Solicitor Qua or Alderman Peirce and will be perfected before the next meeting.

The city clerk is out with an edict to the owners of unlicensed dogs and if you receive one you had better go down and settle lest some municipal Snarleyyow come along and "pinch" your pup or you.

The notice to dog owners reads as follows:

Dear Sir:

Your name appears upon the list of owners of keepers of dogs transmitted to this office by the Board of Assessors of Taxes. Your attention is called to the following extracts from the Public Statute:

Chap 102. Sec. 80.—"Every owner or keeper of a dog three months old or over, shall annually, on or before the thirtieth day of April, cause it to be registered, numbered, described and licensed for one year from the first day of the ensuing May, in the office of the clerk of the city wherein said dog is kept."

Sec. 87. "Whoever keeps a dog contrary to the provisions of this chapter shall forfeit fifteen dollars."

Sec. 90. The mayor of each city and the chairman of the selectmen of each town, shall annually, within ten days from the first day of July, issue a warrant to one or more police officers or constables, directing them to proceed forthwith to kill or cause to be killed, all dogs within such city or town not licensed or collared according to the provisions of this chapter and to enter complaint against the owners or keepers thereof; and any person may and every police officer and constable shall, kill or cause to be killed, all such dogs whenever and wherever found."

CHAPTER 252. ACTS OF 1887.

"Any owner or keeper of a dog not duly licensed which becomes three months old after the thirtieth day of April in any year, shall, when it is three months old, cause it to be registered and licensed until the first day of the ensuing May."

You are hereby notified that warrants have been issued for proceeding against such dogs and the owners thereof as required by Section 90, Chapter 102 of the Public Statutes.

GIRARD P. DADMAN, City Clerk.

By tomorrow the Fourth of July tickets will be out and then the lives of the members of the committee will be made miserable. Sec. Crowley's job will be no sinecure for the ensuing several days, for the secretary is always landed first.

The makeup of the parade, on the reports made up to date, will be as follows:

NOT A GAME OF CHANCE.

Advertising is not a game of chance, it is a game of skill. The skill in advertising is to prepare good, attractive and truthful advertisements, and then place them where they will receive the widest publicity, for the least money.

This can be done only by using the papers with the largest circulation, in the field you wish to cover.

The Sun has a larger circulation than any two other papers in Lowell.

It is in every way the ...Lowell's Greatest Newspaper...

The garbage contract is ready for the mayor's signature. Will he sign it, or refuse to sign it? The masses are opposed to the contract. But of late, the interests of the masses have no weight with the mayor. Were it otherwise he would not have signed away $60,000 for smooth-paving without competition.

The decision of Judge Bond that citizens of Lowell have a right to manufacture native wines implies also the right to sell native wines. It is expected that a number of parties will embark in this industry, but those who imagine that they can run a speakeasy under the guise of a native wine manufactory will soon find their mistake.

The board of aldermen has voted to give the city laborers a half holiday on Saturday. For some time past, it has been asserted that this could not be done legally. If the city council wishes to give the city laborers a half holiday on Saturdays, there is no law which can prevent them. They can pay the city laborers an entire day's pay for half a day if they see fit, or they can decide that six hours' labor will constitute a day's work on Saturday, which would serve the same purpose. It would be just as well to grant the half holiday without any equivocation, because there is not much work done Saturday afternoon whether the laborers are supposed to work or not.

THE LIFE SENTENCES.

The life sentences imposed upon the two Vaughns and Dowd and Logue may be considered severe, but it is simply the extreme penalty of the law for the offences committed. The Vaughns went out with the intention of burglary, but well armed, so that in case of detection they would be able to make their escape. For the elder Vaughn, there is no sympathy, but for his younger brother, apparently led unsuspectingly into the crime, the sentence is very severe. As for Dowd and Logue, their crime was in reality more cold-blooded and therefore worse in the sight of the law than that of the Vaughns. If they did as Mr. Cover testified, they had fully determined to knock Mr. Cover senseless, perhaps to kill him outright and take whatever money they could find. They committed the assault but did not succeed in their scheme of robbery. The evidence against them rests wholly upon Mr. Cover's identification, and if he is mistaken, then the men have been wrongly convicted to serve life sentences at hard labor.

REMEDY FOR THE SMOOTH-PAVING JOBBERY.

It is gratifying to The Sun to learn that the smooth-paving abuses at city hall are likely to bring about an effective remedy. At the meeting of the aldermen on Tuesday night, Alderman Peirce introduced an ordinance providing for square and open competition in all contracts for labor and construction amounting to $300 which means that bids shall be called for and the contract given to the lowest bidder other things being equal. This will be an effective remedy against any periodical raid upon the treasury such as has been made this year when $60,000 were voted away for smooth paving without calling for bids. Those who are in the habit of doing work for the city understand very thoroughly what it means to do a job without competition. It is the only kind of a city job which is worth getting, because when work is thrown open to competition, the bidding is so close that as a rule, the party who gets the contract has a very small margin of profit. This is as it should be, but it is not the manner in which the smooth-paving contracts have been awarded to Robert E. Crowley this year.

The Sun advocated a change in the city charter providing against the award of such contracts without throwing the work open to competition, but it appears that a well drawn ordinance such as that proposed by Alderman Peirce will serve the purpose equally as well, and therefore, we hope to see such an ordinance passed without delay so that no more smooth paving contracts can be given to the Boston Paving company at exorbitant prices.

THE TRUSTS AN ISSUE.

Attorney-General Griggs, who has been the defender of the trusts on the ground that there is no law to reach them, comes out and asserts that the trust issue is not a political one. On what ground he makes this assertion it is difficult to say, except perhaps he has learned that the republican party would rather have it so. Finding that the democratic party will make the trusts a strong political issue, the republicans thus early are beginning to speak in a perfunctory style against the trusts. The bosses will condemn the trusts on paper, and at the same time throw around them the fostering hand of the law and a protective tariff which, according to some of the greatest trust magnates in the country is the mother of all trusts. The defensive policy of the republican party will be easily seen through, and the efforts of the bosses to cloak the fact that as the republican party fosters the trusts, the trusts in turn furnish the boodle necessary to carry republican campaigns by debauching the voters. The people are beginning to see the light and will have their eyes opened still more next year.

It is said that if anyone causes trouble on a Lowell bound car from Lawrence, the conductor will step up to him, rest his hand on the disturber's shoulder and kindly ask him to be quiet. When Lowell is reached the man gets off, but is immediately taken into custody by the police. If he asks the cause of arrest, and if the policeman is good natured enough to tell, he will be informed he is arrested for disturbance. The prisoner will then wonder how the officer knew he had caused trouble. The secret is that a code of signs has been invented and the conductor marks with chalk on your coat what you have been doing. The policeman sees and understands; you do not see and do not understand. But you are under arrest. Here is another tip. Beware of asking questions of a car conductor going from Lawrence to Lowell. If you hold conversation with him while near the transfer station, and then turn to walk away, you stand a good chance of being arrested as a Lowell drunk. The policemen who are watching there take it for granted that you are drunk, too drunk to ride on the car, and accordingly, too drunk to be at large.

WEST CHELMSFORD

ENTERTAINMENT THIS EVENING BY DEBATING SOCIETY.

The West Chelmsford Debating society will present a dramatic and literary entertainment at Marshall's hall, West Chelmsford this evening, June 29. The Westford Grange Dramatic club will be there and will present their popular play, "A Regular Fix." This is a laughable farce, replete with funny sayings by the inimitable Judge Taylor, together with a score of ludicrous situations. There will also be a choice selection of vocal and instrumental music, readings and speaking by well known people.

FIRST TRINITARIAN.

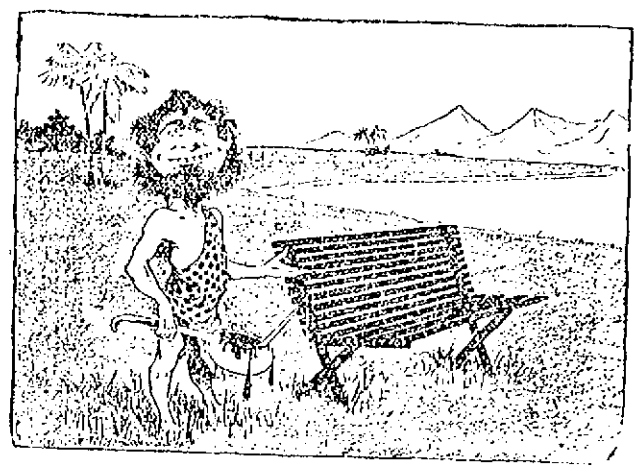

The preparatory lecture on "Means of Growth" will be given in the vestry of the First Trinitarian Congregational Church on Thursday evening at 7.45 by the pastor.

The annual Sunday school picnic will be held at Willow Dale on Friday, June 30th, special car leaving the church at 8.30 a. m.

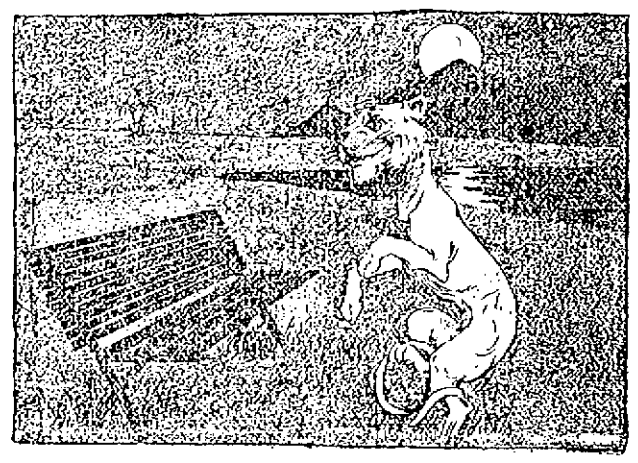

DEGREES FOR LOWELL MEN.

Three Lowell men were surprised yesterday with degrees conferred upon them by Dartmouth college. City Solicitor Francis W. Qua was given the degree of A. M., Rev. W. A. Bartlett that of D.D. and Malcolm D. Barrows, a son of the late Rev. C. D. Barrows, that of A. M.

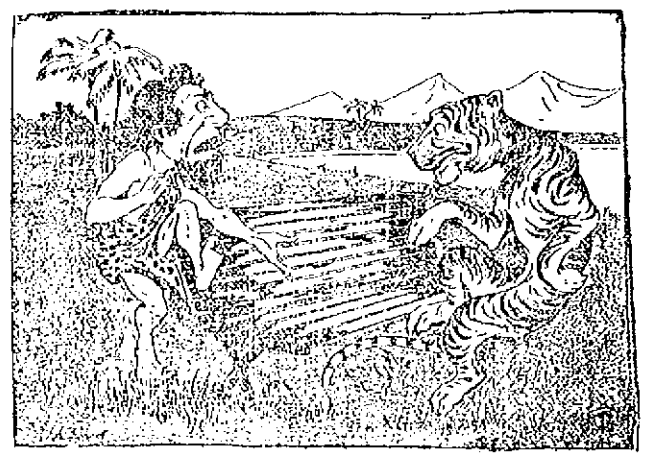

AN EPISODE OF THE FIRST PARK BENCH OR HOW THE TIGER WON HIS STRIPES.

Adam—Now, since I've painted it, I think it improves the garden wonderfully.

The Beast—I don't think my mate would let me in the lair, anyway, so I'll just hunk here on the Adam fellow's new bench.

Adam (next morning)—Why, you old rascal of an idiot, see what you've done. You should not be allowed in the garden. Not only spoiled my bench, but now I'll have to think up another name for your fool self.

ANNUAL RECITAL

BY PUPILS OF MR. GEORGE F. WILLEY.

At Odd Fellows' Temple last evening, the annual recital of the Lowell Conservatory of Music was held before a very appreciative audience. Mr. Geo. F. Willey, former instructor of music in the public schools, is one of the oldest music teachers in Lowell and has brought many young musicians before the public at his recitals. Those who participated in the program of last evening were all warmly received and given the hearty commendation which their work merited. Diplomas were presented to two pupils by Director George F. Willey, Miss Albertine Boucher and Carrie Haskell Dawson being the recipients of the certificates for their proficiency on the pianoforte.

The exhibition of the pupils was interspersed with readings by Miss Angie Laura Utley. The participants in the program were:

NO LICENSE

THE POLICE AND THE ENFORCEMENT OF THE LIQUOR LAWS.

That the police are doing their best to enforce the liquor laws no fair minded man can deny. Many voters voted yes last December because they did not believe the laws relative to the liquor traffic would be fairly and fully enforced if the city voted no, they preferring a license law to free rum, the same as we had in 1899. The police and the police commissioners have evidently taken hold of this matter in earnest and as a result there is no free rum in Lowell, yet that there is no liquor sold in Lowell today, I do not mean that but comparatively very little is sold. This is just right. As the people voted, no, it was evidently the duty of both commissioners and police to see the law was fairly and fully enforced. That they are faithfully doing this our streets and the records of the police court shows, for where before the 1st of May many drunken men and women could be met on the streets and on the electric cars now no such sights are seen. That the landlords' rent and the grocery bills are much more promptly paid is also very true. So, in fact, Lowell can say everything is doing well here under no license and if the next 10 months shall show up as well as the last two have, it's quite certain that the city votes yes again. Let the police continue their vigilance and they can rest assured that the citizens are well pleased and will stand by them in their efforts to enforce liquor laws. To be sure the prosecution of the Mail was a sad mistake but mistakes, they say, happen in the best regulated families, and probably will not occur again. Let all laws be fully and fairly enforced is the proper thing to do.

TOMORROW AFTERNOON.

I have positively decided to dispose of my real estate on Fulton street without reserve at public auction.

THIS ESTATE consists of a two-flat house, and 5700 square feet of land. Each house has five rooms, pantry, water closet, city water and sewerage. Each house is well laid out and arranged, has ample closet room and is in good condition, particularly the upper flat.

The lot has ample yard room for a garden, is fenced and level.

The property is numbered 59 Fulton street. The sale will take place Friday, June 30, 1899, at half past five o'clock in the afternoon. Sale rain or shine. No limit. $1000 can remain on back mortgage at five per cent. interest. The rental is $15 a month and the flats are always in demand. I never owned a more desirable or more satisfactory parcel of renting property. I sell only for the best of reasons and can conscientiously recommend the estate to the most conservative buyers.

The purchaser must deposit with or secure to the auctioneers $175 as soon as the property is struck off.

DIAMOND DOTTINGS

NOTES OF LOCAL BASE BALLISTS OF INTEREST.

The game Saturday between the Mt. Washington team and the South Ends is causing great interest among the cranks and judging from the fast record of this team it will give the South Ends the best battle yet of any out of town team. Cook who played with the South Ends last Saturday will be with the Mt. Washingtons and play right field. Their pitcher must be a fine one when they play Cook in the field as he pitched fine ball for the South Ends.

Steve Mahoney, who caught several games for the Mathews two years ago is the manager and catcher of the Mt. Washington team, and a fine ball player he is.

The South Ends are out to win the rest of their games and will do their utmost to defeat Mt. Washington on next Saturday. The following players will most likely play in Saturday's game: Conners, 2nd, Roach, p; Dailey c; Thorne 1b; McVey, 2b; Reagan, ss; Quigley, lf, Roach rf, and Kane rf. Game will be called at 3 o'clock.

Pitcher Cook of Dartmouth who played with the South Ends Saturday will oppose the Mathews in their game with the South Ends, July 4.

The next game in the Emerald-South End series will be played Saturday, July 15th. Criticism has been directed against the South End management for not pitching Moore last Saturday. It is said that Moore can blame no one but himself for not playing. His unwarrantable assumption to dictate matters led the management to dispense with his services.

The Mt. Washington team which comes to Lowell next Saturday is fast. Having several ex-New England league players with them they will certainly give the South Ends all they can attend to.

The Fourth of July game between the South Ends and Mathews for a purse of $75 is going to a dandy. Each team is limited to two out-of-town men and it is rumored that the Mathews will have an Eastern league battery.

There is a possibility that the South End-Emerald series will be increased to five games as the interest is so great that the public desire to see the teams meet oftener than has been arranged for.

Jack Corcoran is playing wonderful ball for Waterbury, Conn. He has caught on with the fans in grand style and has a batting average of over 400.

The South End team has lost several of its best men in consequence of the latter having secured positions with league clubs. The team as it started out at the first of the season was a fine one and is today, but then such men as Flanagan, Merritt and Gallagher are greatly missed from the team.

"Billy" Connors will play with the South Ends in their game with the Mathews, Fourth of July.

It is probable that the next time the Emeralds play the South Ends, they will have on their list "Denny" Murphy of Mt. St. Mary's College and "Bob" Ganley, now with the Brocktons.

"Teddy" Fitz is a steady admirer of the rejuvenated Emeralds. He says they will take the next and if any more are played, all the other games.

VISCOUNT MIURA

Has Joined Hands With Count Okuma.

THE JAPANESE GENERAL'S VIEWS

Opposed to Preparation for Military Action.

CHINA HAS NOT ANY POWER

Or Intention to Fight With Japan.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

VANCOUVER, B. C., June 28.—The assembling of the peace conference at The Hague has led Viscount Miura, the fire-eating Japanese general to join hands with Count Okuma in a crusade against the extension of the army and the increase of taxes. The viscount thinks that Japan is under no necessity of being prepared for military action. He says: "China has neither power or intention to fight us. The Siberian railroad being unfit for rapid transportation of troops, Russia ought to be a cause of disquietude on our part. No European power would be able to send an army of 20,000 or 50,000 to the far east. It is not necessary that she would take the far eastern fleets of European powers as the standard of our navy. In a war in which this country may be involved decisive battles will be fought on land in the last resort. A naval defeat, therefore, is not a serious consequence. Neither is this country in need of a standing army. Seeing that the European powers are not able to send large military forces, there will be ample time after the breaking off of diplomatic relations to make the requisite preparations for repelling foreign invasion."

LAKEVIEW THEATRE.

The Californian minstrels, who are to hold the board at the Lakeview theatre this week, gave their opening performance at the theatre Monday afternoon before a good-sized audience. An excellent show was given.

It is the first minstrel entertainment that has been staged at the Lakeview theatre.

The first part of the performance commenced with the opening chorus "Dinah," by the entire company. The singing was interspersed with catchy and up-to-date jokes, which took well. The songs were sung by M. W. Bale, Lew Benedict, Harry Taylor, Charles H. Clarke and Walter Van Allen. The latter made a decided hit with "Because," which Mr. Van Allen sang beautifuly. The first part wound up with a grand finale by the company, "My Coal Black Queen."

The specialties were fine. The first act introduced Charles H. Clarke, the clever comedian and baritone vocalist. He made a decided hit with his songs and jokes.

Clarke and Bennett in burlesque military eccentriques are unusually funny.

The "Prince Pro-Tem Comedy Quartette," take especially well in popular songs and recitations.

Lew Benedict, formerly of Duprez and Benedict's minstrels gives his budget of jokes and his coon songs are unusually catchy.

Edmunds and Colaire wind up the performance in a clever comedy acrobatic turn.

WEAVERS' STRIKE.
By Associated Press to The Sun.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., June 28.—There was a small strike of weavers at the new weave shed of Acushnet mill No. 1 this morning, due to the discharge of a popular overseer. The strikers lack the support of the union and will probably return to work tomorrow.

MONEY FOUND.
By Associated Press to The Sun.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 28.—In a dingy, stuffy room in South Third street, the police found concealed in a dirt trunk and a valise a sum of money exceeding $15,000 in government bonds, gold and bills of large denominations. The police think this fortune is the property of Mrs. Walberger, an aged German woman, who is a patient at the City Insane Asylum. It is said that for years she has been living in the neighborhood, always reticent and eccentric.

1,000,000 GIVEN AWAY.

By a special and particular arrangement with the manufacturers of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, free trial bottles of this great medicine for the Kidneys, Liver, Bladder and Blood, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia and Constipation, will be sent absolutely free, postpaid, to all persons suffering from any of the diseases mentioned above who will send their full name and post office address to the DR. DAVID KENNEDY CORPORATION, Rondout, N. Y., providing they mention this paper when they write.

A very simple test to determine whether your Kidneys or Bladder are diseased is to put some of your urine in a glass tumbler and let it stand 24 hours; if it has a sediment or a cloudy, ropy or stringy appearance, if it is pale or discolored, you do not need a physician to tell you that you are in a dangerous condition. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy speedily cures such serious symptoms as a pain in the back, inability to hold urine, a burning scalding pain in passing it. Frequent desire to urinate especially at night, the staining of linen by your urine and all unpleasant and dangerous effects produced on the system by the use of whiskey and beer.

By a searching investigation it was found that over 91 per cent of the people who sent for a sample bottle were so much benefited by its use that they purchased a large sized bottle of their druggist, which in most cases cured them, while in some rare instances it took as many as two or even three bottles to effect a permanent cure.

Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is sold by all druggists at $1.00 per large bottle, or six bottles for $5.00.

40,000 SOLDIERS

Will be Sent to General Otis.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—Secretary Alger, Adjutant General Corbin and Colonel Bird, assistant quartermaster general in charge of transportation, had an hour's consultation with the president today relative to the question of reinforcement for General Otis. A definite decision has been reached to continue recruiting men at all the recruiting stations for service in the Philippines and Secretary Alger said when he left the White House after the conference that General Otis would have 40,000 men when the rainy season closed for a resumption of active operations.

WILL BUILD A SMELTER.
By Associated Press to The Sun.

REDDING, Cal., June 28.—It is stated that German capitalists intend to soon build a great smelter in Shasta county. During the last three years George Bayha, local representative of a German syndicate, has filed locations on the 25 copper claims on Stillwater Creek, about 20 miles from Redding. Expensive development work has been done on these claims and the syndicate has secured options on considerable adjacent lands. Electricity generated by water power will be used for motive power and for other purposes.

HORRIBLE MURDER

Samuel R. Owens Took Life of His Paramour.

VICTIM IS SADIE B. MATHERSON.

She is 26, Owens 57 Years Old.

CRIME WAS COMMITTED IN FOSTER

A Place of One Thousand Inhabitants.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 28.—Word was received here today that Sadie B. Mathewson, 26 years old, was murdered by her paramour, Samuel R. Owens, 57 years old, at Foster, R. I., yesterday afternoon.

Foster is a small place of about a thousand inhabitants in the western part of the state.

It is claimed that both were drunk, and that Owens drove the woman into the yard, knocked her down and split her head open with an axe, stabbed her twice in the breast with a carving knife and then pouring kerosene oil over her, set her on fire while she was still breathing. Her body was burned to a crisp. Owens left at 10 o'clock, and was away until late at night, when he showed up and was captured by neighbors who had heard of the tragedy and had begun to hunt for him.

Today he was arraigned at Cranston, charged with murder, waived an examination and was bound over to the grand jury without bail.

MISS JOHNSON

DIED VERY SUDDENLY IN LONDON TODAY.
By Associated Press to The Sun.

LONDON, June 28.—Miss Ellen C. Johnson, superintendent of the Massachusetts Reformatory Woman's prison, died suddenly this afternoon at the London residence of the Bishop of Rochester, the Rt. Rev. Stuart Talbot, D. D., where she was a guest. It is believed she expired from heart failure, resulting from excitement in reading a paper at yesterday's meeting of the International Council of Women.

The deceased was attended by Mrs. Dr. Barrows of Boston.

MRS. McKINLEY IMPROVED.
By Associated Press to The Sun.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—The condition of Mrs. McKinley had materially improved this morning. She is still weak, however, and did not arise. She passed a comfortable night, and has gained strength since she reached the White House yesterday.

HELD FOR GRAND JURY.
By Associated Press to The Sun.

BOSTON, June 28.—Benjamin Lang, accused of murdering his wife, Clara, at his home at the South End, yesterday, was arraigned before Judge Adams in the Municipal court here today. Lawyer John Barry waived the reading of the warrant and the prisoner was held for the grand jury.

SKIN GRAFTING OPERATION.
By Associated Press to The Sun.

WATERLOO, Iowa, June 28.—One of the most extensive skin graftings ever attempted was performed yesterday, local physicians operating on William Barrett, to cover an area of three square feet burned during a fire two months ago. Skin was donated by 11 friends of the young man. Such extensive burns generally have been conceded to be fatal but his case promises to be an exception.

THE WEATHER.
By Associated Press to The Sun.

BOSTON, June 28.—Forecast for Boston and vicinity: Threatening weather and showers tonight and Thursday; variable winds.

SPANISH SOLDIERS

Captured by Insurgents Will be Paid.

Spaniards are Leaving Manila and Spanish Merchants are Selling Out Their Interests to English Capitalists.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

MANILA, June 28.—General Jarmallos, who is settling Spain's military affairs here, has received a cablegram from the minister of war at Madrid, General Polavieja, announcing that the pay of all soldiers who are in the hands of the insurgents will be continued after this captivity. The families of many of these officers and soldiers are in Manila without means of support here or on their return to Spain.

The new Spanish consul here, Senor Luis Marinas, says his foremost business is to secure the release of prisoners. The Spaniards are fast leaving Manila.

The steamer Isla de Luzon sails for Spain soon, taking several hundred persons, civil and military officials and their families. The Spanish commercial men are selling out and some of the largest interests here will soon pass into the hands of English capitalists.

Captain Gale's squadron of the 4th cavalry embarked for Morong, Monday. The gunboat Napidan which accompanied the troops visited the town of Muntinlupa on the west coast of the lake and found a small body of rebels entrenched there. The entrenchments were shelled by the Napidan and when the rebels began to retreat, the cavalry was landed. The Filipinos in firing a final volley, killed a cavalry private.

MATRIMONIAL.

SHEEHAN—DONAHUE.

The marriage of Mr. Thomas E. Sheehan, the well known milkman, and Miss Nellie Donahue, sister of Daniel J. Donahue, the prominent young attorney, took place yesterday at the parochial residence of St. Peter's church, the wedding being solemnized by the Rev. M. Ronan. Miss Annie Donahue, a sister of the bride, was bridesmaid and Mr. Andrew Sheehan, a brother of the groom, was best man. The bride was charmingly attired in a dove-gray silk, with chiffon trimmings and a corsage bouquet of white sweet peas. The bridesmaid was becomingly gowned in pink silk, with a hand bouquet of pink sweet peas.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents on West Union street, which was very largely attended. A bountiful wedding repast was served, the D. L. Page company catering. The happy couple were the recipients of a large collection of costly wedding gifts useful as well as ornamental.

Mr. and Mrs. Sheehan, after enjoying their honeymoon in Boston and New York, will reside on Washington street. They enter matrimonial life under the most favorable auspices and with the best of good wishes of their legion of friends for their future welfare.

MRS. HASTINGS

MRS. JAMES S. HASTINGS PASSED AWAY THIS MORNING.

Mrs. James S. Hastings, wife of the well known decorator at O'Donnell & Gilbride, died very suddenly yesterday morning at her home, 1055 Bridge street, of heart failure. She had been a sufferer with heart trouble periodically but was quite well when she retired last night.

About 9 o'clock yesterday a. m. she was discovered in a dying condition and passed away shortly after. Deceased was a very estimable woman and she leaves a large circle of friends to mourn her loss.

The rumor that Mrs. Hastings committed suicide was denied by the family.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

NEW YORK, June 28.—Among the passengers who arrived last night on the government transport McPherson, from San Juan and Santiago de Cuba, were Major C. W. Fishback, Captain and Mrs. James Rockwell, Dr. Gilmon, Dr. and Mrs. Dansereau, Dr. and Mrs. A. Stahl and Lieut. J. T. Ord.

WOMEN ON STRIKE

Because They Had to Work Evenings

By Associated Press to The Sun.

PAWTUCKET, R. I., June 28.—Seventy-five young women employed in the finishing and tenting departments at the Bleacheries and Print works of the Dunnell Manufacturing company have gone on strike. They were notified that they would be required to work evenings for a time and refused, leaving the works in a body. The strikers appointed a committee which tried to interview the treasurer, Mr. Dunnell, this forenoon. He would not see them, stating that the question at issue was not one of wages. Supt. Hodges was in supreme control of the situation.

REV. W. A. BARTLETT

FISCHER'S MISSION SUCCESSFUL.
By Associated Press to The Sun.

PRETORIA, June 28.—The conference between President Kruger and Fischer, a member of the executive council of the Orange Free state, in the matter of the disputes between the Transvaal and Great Britain, have been concluded. The general impression is that Fischer's mission has been successful. He afterwards conferred with Mr. Conyngham Greene, the British diplomatic agent here.

Omega Oil
For SORE FEET

There was never anything put into a bottle that did people's feet so much good as Omega Oil. It takes away all the soreness, tenderness, swelling, itching, burning, aching and bad odor. It seems to fairly make your feet new again, and you can walk just as far and fast as ever. Bathe your feet night and morning with good soap and warm water. Wipe dry with a towel. Then rub Omega Oil in briskly and thoroughly. You'll wonder what in the world there can be in the Oil to make your feet feel so good. Rub it on corns and bunions, and it will take out the inflammation. Rub it in for any foot pain, and the pain will go.

GLORIA
IS NOT A MEDICINE.

A nice new woman often said
She wished the horrid men all dead.
She drank some GLORIA, then changed her mind,
Same as some other womankind.
And immediately published a personal ad.
For any old man that can be had.
Friends met with her and drank GLORIA there,
And voted the wicked men to spare;
All suggested the ad. to increase
Till everyone had a man apiece.
Then all drink GLORIA often as you can,
For it raises the value of fallen man.

HARVARD - YALE

Men Who Will Row in Big Race

EIGHTS ARE WELL BALANCED

Crews of Strong Young Men.

WILL STRUGGLE FOR SUPREMACY.

Contest Slated for 5.30 This Evening.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 29—This is regatta day. Harvard and Yale will introduce a novelty in the racing line in today's events. Heretofore, the custom has prevailed to hold the contests on different dates. This year, the freshmen eight, the four-oar crews and the 'Varsity eights will all settle their contests on the same day. Of course, the Varsity race is the big one and it is slated for 5.30 this afternoon. Below is given the make-up of the big crews:

NEW HAVEN, Con. June 29—The Yale eighth of this year is made up of well tried material, only two of the men, Neidecken, No. 7 and Brown, No. 5, being without previous varsity crew experience. Both, however, rowed with freshman crews, Brown having been captain of last year's eight. Of the other six men in the Varsity boat, two Williams, stroke and Greenleaf, bow, have rowed only one year previous with the big crew. The remainder have not only been among the Varsity men before, but also rowed in their class on the Freshman crew.

The statistics of the crew are as follows: W. B. Williams, stroke oar, is a member of the class of 1900. He came to Yale from De Lancey school. His home is at Haverniord, Pa. He weighs 160 pounds, is 5 feet, 10 inches in height and 20 years of age. He was stroke of last year's Varsity crew and he also stroked the freshman crew.

J. H. Neidecken also in the class of 1900, he is No. 7 in the Varsity boat. He rowed No. 5 last year and No. 7 on the freshman crew. He is 21 years old, 6 feet, 1 1-2 inches in height and weighs 170 pounds. He prepared at St. Paul's school. Neidecken comes from Milwaukee.

Capt. Fred W. Allen, No. 6, rowed in the same position in the '97 and '98 Varsity boat. He weighs 180 pounds, is 21 years of age and 6 feet tall. He comes from Walpole, Mass., and he fitted at Andover Academy and will graduate next year.

W. Gordon Brown, who was captain of last year's freshman crew, rows No. 5. He is the heaviest man in the boat, weighing 190 pounds. He also is the tallest man in the boat, his height being 6 feet and 3 inches. He is 19 years of age. Brown's home is at Flushing, L. I. He prepared at Gordon school. He is in the class of 1901.

R. P. Flint, '99 S. of Los Angeles, Cal., rows No. 4, which position also he he rowed on last year's Varsity crew and on the 1900 class crew. He prepared at Lawrenceville. His weight is 170 pounds, age, 22, height, 6 feet.

W. E. S. Griswold was No. 7 of the '97 University crew and he also rowed on the '96 freshman crew. He is No. 3 of this year's eight. He weighs 173 pounds, is 6 feet, 1 1-2 inches in height and 22 years of age. His home is at Erie, Pa. He prepared at Black Hall school and is a member of the Class of '99.

H. P. Wickes, No. 2, has had two year's experience at that position, having rowed there on last year's big crew and also on the 1900 freshman. He fitted at Andover and comes from New York City. He is a member of the class of 1900, is 20 years of age and 5 feet, 10 1-2 inches in height.

J. C. Greenleaf, '99, bow oar, was No. 7 on last year's University crew. He is 6 feet in height, 20 years of age and weighs 170 pounds. He came from Lawrence, N. Y. and fitted at Westminister school.

The substitutes, comprising the four oared crew include two previous Varsity crew men, Brock and Greenway. Cross, who was a substitute on last year's big crew and Mitchell of last year's freshman crew.

J. P. Brock, '99 comes from Lebanon, Pa. He rowed on No. 3 last year's Varsity crew and was captain of his freshman eight. He prepared at St. Paul's school. He is 20 years of age, weighs 175 pounds and is 5 feet 10 inches in height.

P. L. Mitchell rowed No. 7 on last year's freshman crew. He comes from Cincinnati and prepared at a university school. He is a member of the class of 1901, 19 years old, weight 165, height, 5 feet 11 inches.

J. C. Greenway rowed No. 4 on the '97 Varsity crew and was a substitute last year. He is a member of the class of 1900 and his home is home is at Hot Springs, Ark. He prepared at Andover. He is 22 years of age, weighs 168 height, 6 feet.

J. W. Cross was No. 6 on his freshman crew and a substitute on last year's Varsity eight. He prepared at Groton school and will graduate next year. He comes from New York. He is 21 years old, weighs 181 and is 6 feet in height.

THE HARVARD CREW.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 18—The Harvard Varsity crew of this year is made-up of men who have had much rowing experience, although only two of them, Capt. Higginson and Harding, the bow oar, have been members of previous varsity eights. Higginson was No. 4 and Harding was No. 5 in last year's big crew. Sheafe No. 7, Bancroft No. 6, Wood No. 3 and Evans No. 2. All have had training on Weld crews, the prolific source of nearly all Harvard rowing material. Lawrence and Tilton were No. 5 and No. 4 respectively, have had good training with their class crews.

A summary of the varsity crew follows:

Francis Lea Higginson, Jr., 1900 of Boston, stroke and captain, prepared for college at Groton, where he captained one of the school crews. He was captain of his Freshman crew, rowing No. 6, and stroked the winning class crew in his Sophomore year. He rowed No. 4 in the varsity last year and No. 7 in the winning junior class, crew this spring. Age, 21; height, 6 ft. 1 inch; weight, 161 pounds.

Charles Minot Sheafe, 1 law, No7, of Seattle, Washington, prepared in Seattle, where he rowed on an athletic club crew. He rowed on the Weld crews last year and stroked the winning Law School Weld this spring. Age, 24; height, 6 ft 1 inch; weight, 169 pounds.

Hugh Bancroft, 1 Law, No. 6, of Cambridge, prepared at the Cambridge Latin School. He rowed 5 on the '98 class crew in his senior year and 6 on the first Weld this spring. Age, 19; height, 6 ft. 2 1-2 inches, weight, 178 pounds.

James Lawrence, Jr., 1901, No. 5, comes from Groton, where he fitted for college. He has rowed on his class crew for two years, being captain this spring. Age, 21; height, 6 feet 2 inches; weight, 173 pounds.

Hewett Whiting Tilton, 1900, No. 4 of Cambridge, prepared at the Cambridge Latin School. He rowed No. 4 on his freshman crew and at No. 6 on his class crew this spring. Age, 20; height, 6 feet, 2 1-4 inches; weight, 177 pounds.

Clement Biddle Wood, 1 Law, No. 3, prepared at the DeLancel school, Philadelphia. During his last two years at college he rowed on the Weld Senior crew, and this spring he rowed No. 6 on the victorious Law school eight. Age, 20; height, 5 feet, 9 inches; weight, 174 pounds.

Dwight Parkee Evans, '01, No. 2, comes from St. Louis, where he fitted at Smith Academy. He has rowed two years on the Weld Junior crew, which he stroked this year at the Harlem regatta. Age, 20; height, 5 feet, 11 1-4 inches; weight, 159 pounds.

Charles Lewis Harding, 1900, bow, of Boston, prepared at Hopkinson's school. He stroked his Weld class crew and the Weld Junior crew in his sophomore year, and rowed at No. 5 on last year's varsity boat. Age, 20; height, 5 feet, 9 inches; weight, 164 pounds.

Herbert Addington Wadleigh, 1900, coxwain, of Boston, was fitted for college at Hillreth's Classical school and the Boston Latin. He was coxwain of his class crew this spring. Age, 22; height, 5 feet, 7 1-2 inches; weight, 162 pounds.

Robert Fulton Blake, '99, substitute, comes from Boston. He prepared at the Boston Latin and English High and Latin schools. He rowed on his class crew in his sophomore year and on the Weld Senior crew. Last spring he was at 2 in the varsity eight, when illness compelled him to leave the boat. This spring he rowed bow in his class crew. Age, 21; height, 6 feet; weight, 165 pounds.

John Devereux Kernan, 1900, substitute, fitted for Harvard at the Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute. He was substitute on his freshman crew and rowed 4 in his sophomore crew and 2 in the varsity of '98. Age, 21; height, 5 feet, 10 inches; weight, 170 pounds.

John Forbes Perkins, '99, substitute, comes from Milton and fitted at the Milton Academy. He has rowed on all four of his class crews. He rowed 6 on the '97 varsity and was substitute on the varsity last year. Age, 21; height, 6 feet; weight, 174 pounds.

Lawrence Endicott, '01, substitute, of Boston, prepared at Noble's school and rowed on the B. A. A. Junior crew. He has rowed on his class crew for two years. Age, 20; height, 5 feet, 9 inches; weight, 150 pounds.

The averages of the crew as given above are as follows:

Age, 20 years, 3 months; height, 5 feet, 11 inches; weight, 168 pounds.

JUNE WEDDINGS

Many Couples Launched on Matrimonial Sea

THE STORMY NIGHT WAS DISCOURAGING

But Did Not Prevent the Work of Wedlock

There was a large number of weddings last night despite the rain. For an evening in June the weather was remarkably chill and dispiriting but it did not damp the ardor of the happy couples that had arranged to be united for better or for worse. The principal weddings were the following:

GALLIVAN—STATEN.

A nuptial mass was celebrated by Rev. W. George Mullin at St. Peter's church yesterday morning, the contracting parties being Patrick Gallivan of Williamstown, New Brunswick, and Miss Annie G. Staten of Lowell. The marriage ceremony was performed by the celebrant of the mass. Miss Lucy Staten, a sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and the best man was Richard Gallivan of Boston, a brother of the groom.

ROSCOE—IRWIN.

A very pretty wedding occurred yesterday afternoon at St. Peter's parochial residence, the contracting parties being Mr. Frank Roscoe, a popular young man of Belvidere, and Miss Nellie Irwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wayman of No. 17 Pearl street, a highly esteemed young lady of this parish. The bride was handsomely gowned in white organdie, and carried bride roses. She was attended by her cousin, Miss Sarah A. Townsend, who was gowned in figured organdie over Nile green silk, and carried pink roses. Mr. Frank Dockett was best man. Miss Mary Wayman was maid of honor. Rev. W. George Mullin performed the ceremony. The happy couple received many beautiful presents. Among them were the following: Chamber set, four rugs, water set and purse of money from the bride's mother, Mrs. Wayman; pair of blankets and purse of money from the bridegroom's parents; dinner set of 156 pieces from the bride's cousin, Mr. Charles F Townsend; pair of blankets, the bride's aunt, Mrs. Townsend; linen from Miss Sarah Townsend; cut glass fruit dish, Miss Mary Wayman; lamp, Miss Mary Roscoe; toilet set, Mrs. Hobart, Nashua, N. H.; wine set, Mr. and Mrs. Belanger; silver berry spoon, Miss Belanger; wine set and a smoking set, Miss Nellie Fitzgerald; silver spoons, Miss Kate and Thomas Fitzgerald; oak rocker, Mr. and Mrs. McCarthy; cut glass berry set, Mr. and Mrs. Conry; wine set, Mr. and Mrs. Mercier; picture, Mr. Thos. Gray; comforter, Mrs. Thos. Gray; cut glass fruit dish, Miss Sadie Quinlan; berry set, Mr. and Mrs. Belanger; lace draperies and table linen, Miss Mora Flynn; table linen, Mary Flanagan; curtains and table linen, Mrs. Goldenberg; cut glass and china, K. Townsend fancy brush, Mr. Joe Quinlan, Portsmouth, N. H.; spread, Mr. Fred Donnelly; glass dishes, Mary Flannery; marble clock and mirror, Mr. Chas. Wayman. The happy couple left on the 5.22 train for New York and other points. They will be at home after September 1st, '99.

REEDE—DREW.

June 28 of this year will be remembered by many as the banner day of weddings in this city but among all the nuptial events of yesterday afternoon and evening which included in their principals, persons of nearly every class and condition none was happier or more brilliant than that of Mr. Fred M. Beede and Miss Hilda Lee Drew both of whom are well known and most estimable young residents of this city, who were united last evening by Rev. C. E. Fisher of the First Universalist church. The Episcopal double ring service was used.

The bride approached the altar upon the arm of her brother, Mr. Nathaniel Drew. They were awaited in the parlor by the groom and his best man, Mr. James H. Beede. The bridesmaids were Misses Cora Littlehale of Tyngsboro, Ella Kaler of Nashua, Katherine Bulkeley of Lawrence and Corinne Underhill of Boston. They were attired in blue and pink and were short veils caught with solid gold brooches with amethysts, the gift of the bride. The flower girl was Gertrude Lane and the bearers of the rings was little Julia Burke. Both of the little girls were dressed in white.

The maid of honor, Miss Bessie Bulkeley, wore blue silk.

The ushers were Mr. Eugene G. Russell, Mr. Hawthorne Drew, Dr. Edward L. Farrington, Mr. Joseph Burns and Mr. James Wright, all of this city. The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. James H. Beede. The groom's favors to his ushers and best man were stick pins, crescents of pearls. The bride was assisted in receiving by her mother Dr. Drew, the groom's mother, Mrs. S. L. Beede, the groom's sister, Mrs. Eugene G. Russell and Mrs. William S. Butler of Boston, together with the bridesmaids and maid of honor.

A grand reception followed the ceremony. During the evening the happy couple left on a wedding tour. They are the recipients of a large collection of costly gifts. Mrs. Dr. Drew mother of the bride, presented them with a check and the gift of the groom's mother was a Haviland china tea set.

ILSLEY—CORLISS.

Mr. Alden B. Ilsley and Miss Lilla L. Corliss were married yesterday afternoon at the home of Rev. C. E. Fisher, 165 Branch street. The best man is a clerk of the city engineer's office and the bride, a former employe of the Hood company. The wedding was a quiet one and after the ceremony they left on a wedding tour which included the Hudson river district.

STUBBS—SUGDEN.

Mr. John Wiley Stubbs of Cambridge and Miss Amy Sugden of Lowell were united in marriage on Wednesday morning, June 28th, at 10 o'clock by Rev. George F. Kenngott at his residence, 200 Liberty street. They will make their home in Cambridge.

MANNING—HEALEY.

Mr. Daniel Manning and Miss Agnes F. Healey were united in marriage yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the parochial residence of St. Peter's parish. The contracting parties are both well known and esteemed. They were attended by Albert Weston and Miss Agatha Healey. Rev. M. Ronan performed the ceremony. The wedding was private. After the ceremony supper was served to relatives at the home of the bride's parents, 68 Tyler street. Mr. and Mrs. Manning then left on their wedding tour.

BEATTY—CLUNE.

Mr. John J. Beatty and Miss Nellie Clune approached Hymen's altar last evening. The former is the well known and popular treasurer of the Burke Temperance Institute. The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. W. George Mullin at 5.15 o'clock last evening at the parochial resident of St. Peter's church. The bride was attended by his sister, Miss Elizabeth Clune and John White was best man. A reception was attended by many out-of-town friends at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Adam Graves, 39 Lawrence avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Beatty left on a late train for an extended wedding tour. They were the recipients of numerous presents. They will be at home to their friends at 12 Russ avenue, in Pawtucketville, after July 25.

McCARTHY—HEALEY.

The marriage of Mr. Robert F. McCarthy and Miss Ruby A. Healey, both of Graniteville, took place at North Chelmsford parsonage yesterday afternoon, Rev. John J. Shaw officiating. Mr. Frank Healey, a brother of the bride was best man and Miss Katherine Harrington was bridesmaid. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. McCarthy left on a honeymoon to be spent in Boston and vicinity. They received many presents. The happy couple are well known in Lowell.

LANNAN—GALVIN.

At St. Patrick's parochial residence Mr. James Lannan and Miss Mamie A. Galvin, both of this city, were united in the bonds of marriage yesterday afternoon by Rev. John J. McHugh. The best man was Mr. Michael Lannan and the bridesmaid, Miss Katie Burns. The flower girl was Miss Theresa Casey. The bride was attired in white mousseline de soie with lace and satin trimmings and carried orange blossoms while the bridesmaid wore white silk with lace and satin trimmings. The flower girl was dressed in queen muslin over yellow silk and carried bridal roses. After the ceremony a grand reception was held at the home of the bride's cousin, 16 Rockdale avenue where a good time was given to all those present. The happy couple were recipients of many beautiful and costly presents. They left for Washington, D. C., on a short wedding trip and will be at home to their friends at a time yet to be announced at 16 Rockdale avenue.

RYAN—JONES.

At the parochial residence of St. Patrick's parish, Miss Mary Jones and James Ryan were united in matrimony last evening at 9 o'clock, the marriage ceremony being performed by Rev. John J. McHugh. Miss Bella Donahue acted as bridesmaid and the best man was James Jones, a brother of the bride. The happy couple enter marriage life under the most favorable circumstances with the best of good wishes of their many friends.

CAMPBELL—PEVEY.

Miss Anna M. Pevey and James C. Campbell were joined in marriage yesterday afternoon at 5.30 o'clock at the parochial residence of the Immaculate Conception church. Rev. William D. Joyce, O. M. I., performed the wedding ceremony. The bride was attended by her sister and a brother of the groom was best man.

VAUGHN—TARRANT.

Among the June weddings last evening at the parochial residence of St. Peter's church was that of Miss Margaret Tarrant and Michael Vaughn, who were united in matrimony, the Rev. W. George Mullin officiating. Miss Annie Tarrant, a sister of the bride, was bridesmaid and the best man was James Lane.

SMITH—DANFORD.

At the parochial residence of the Immaculate Conception church last evening, a popular couple were united in wedlock in the persons of Mr. James Smith and Della J. Danford, by the pastor, Rev. Wm. D. Joyce, O. M. I. The bridesmaid was Miss Bridget Smith and the best man was Edmund Gosselin.

McKEOWN—WEIR.

The nuptials of Mr. Edward McKeown and Miss Sarah Weir were solemnized last evening at the parochial residence of St. Peter's parish by Rev. Michael Ronan. The bridesmaid was Miss Sarah Duffin and the best man was Patrick McGrath. The bride and bridesmaid were becomingly attired. A reception followed.

GOOKIN—FARRINGTON.

Mr. John J. Gookin and Miss Elizabeth Farrington were married at the Immaculate Conception chapel last evening at 5 o'clock. The ceremony was solemnized by Rev. Fr. Joyce. The bridesmaid was Miss Edith Farrington, sister of the bride, and Mr. James Gookin, brother of the groom, acted as best man. Following the ceremony there was a reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Farrington of Perry street, where the immediate relatives and friends congratulated the young couple. The presents, of which there were many, were elaborate and beautiful. Mr. and Mrs. Gookin left the city during the evening on a wedding trip, and will be at home after July 15 at 172 Concord street. The good wishes of the many friends of the happy twain are as hearty as they are general for their future welfare.

MINER—McTEAGUE.

Mr. Henry O. Miner and Miss Lizzie McTeague, both of North Chelmsford, were united in marriage yesterday morning at St. John's church, North Chelmsford, at 9.30 o'clock, by Rev. John Shaw. The best man was Mr. Arthur Miner, a brother of the groom, and Miss Katie McTeague, a sister of the bride was bridesmaid. The bride was attired in white muslin with silk trimmings. A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on Princeton street, from 10 to 12 o'clock. The happy couple were the recipients of many beautiful and costly presents. They left on a short wedding trip at 12 o'clock for Worcester and will be at home to their friends at their new residence, Depot street, in North Chelmsford, after July 6.

TIVENAN—MARREN.

Mr. Martin Tivenan and Miss Mary Marren were united in marriage last evening at 6.30 at St. Peter's church. The bridal party left the home of Mrs. Margaret Queenan of 416 Worthen street, after receiving a large number of friends who bestowed upon them all kinds of good wishes and left substantial reminders of their regard. The ceremony was performed by Rev. M. Ronan, the venerable pastor of St. Peter's.

The bride who was charmingly attired in white silk, was accompanied by her sister, Miss Katherine Maren, and the best man Michael Cassely. After the nuptials the happy couple held another reception at their future home, 13 Oak street, where a grand wedding supper was served, after which they left on a short wedding tour.

BRIDGFORD—WALLER.

Miss Edna Louise Waller of this city and William Bridgford of North Chelmsford were joined in wedlock last evening at 7 o'clock at the home of Frederick Munn, 68 Bartlett street. The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. H. W. O. Millington, pastor of the Fifth Street Baptist church in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends of the happy couple. The bridemaid was Miss Alice Bartlett and William Bodkiff was best man. Mr. and Mrs. Bridgford will reside at North Chelmsford.

DRACUP—SCOTT.

Mr. John W. B. Dracup of Boston and Miss Eva Scott were united in marriage yesterday at the home of Mr. James E. Hodgson of 15 Lenox street. Mr. James Callahan was best man and Miss Alice Dracup, sister of the groom, bridemaid. A reception and wedding supper followed the ceremony and this morning Mr. and Mrs. Dracup will leave on their wedding tour. On their return they will reside in Boston. They were the recipients of many beautiful presents.

CARROLL—WRIGHT.

The wedding ceremony of Mr. Frank Carroll and Miss Ellen Enright was performed last evening by Rev. Richard Roland at the parochial residence of St. Michael's church. The bridesmaid was Miss Annie Carroll, a sister of the groom, and Thomas Donahue was best man.

MARSHALL—SPROAT.

Rev. A. E. Wilson, pastor of the Paige street church last evening united in marriage, Police Officer Frank Marshall, the popular patrolman of the Merrimack square beat on the early morning shift and Miss Lillian L. Sproat, a former teacher in the Dover street school.

The ceremony was performed at 57 Clinire street, the home of the bride, which was decorated with plants, evergreens and palms. In the front parlor where the vows were pledged, was a large bell of daisies under which the young couple stood.

The best man was Mr. Harry Marshall of Wells River, Vt., a brother of the groom and the bridesmaid was Miss Daisy M. Sproat, sister of the bride. Mr. Charles Allen presided at the piano and played the wedding march.

CADY—EMERY.

Miss Lillian A. Emery and Mr. Byron F. Cady were married last evening at 7.45 o'clock at the home of the groom, 173 Summer street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. L. W. Staples, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist church. There were no bridal attendants. Miss Greta Cady was the flower girl.

GOOCH—WINTERS.

Under an immense floral arch of handsome flowers, in presence of a large gathering of friends and with the best wishes of their large circle of acquaintances, Mr. Melvin G. Gooch and Miss Mary E. Winters were united in the bonds of matrimony last evening. The bride, an estimable young resident and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Winters of School street was attended by her sister, Miss Kittie Winters and the groom was accompanied by Mr. Rutherford. Rev. Bowley Green performed the nuptials before and after which Miss Beulah Winters played the wedding march.

The bride was prettily attired in white mull trimmed with lace and carried bride roses. The bridesmaid wore pink organdie over white and carried tea roses.

ANDERSON—WETHERHED.

Mr. Frank E. Anderson and Miss Emma M. Wetherhed, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Wetherhed, were united in marriage at 4.30 Wednesday afternoon at the home of the bride's mother, 89 Manchester street in the presence of relatives and intimate friends. Rev. N. W. Matthews of the First Primitive Methodist church officiated. Mr. Charles Hendry was best man and Miss Ella Sloan bridesmaid.

METCALF—HOLT.

At the church of the Good Shepherd, Nashua, N. H., yesterday morning Miss Flora May Holt of Nashua was married to Mr. Harry Metcalf of Providence, R. I. The ceremony was performed by the rector, Rev. James Goodwin and the bride was given away by her guardian, Mr. James Stuart Murphy of Lowell. Miss Helen D. Swain of Nashua, and Miss M. Pearl Day of Lowell officiated as ushers. The bride was formerly of Lowell and has recently been the first assistant in the high school at Hudson, Mass.

FUNERALS.

KNOX—The funeral of Annette Clare Knox was held yesterday afternoon. Prayers were held at the house on Middlesex street and services were held at the Branch Street tabernacle at 2 o'clock. Rev. Asa R. Dills officiated and appropriate selections were sung by Mrs. C. W. Clark, Miss Barclay, D. A. Floyd and Mr. Midgeley. The bearers were Messrs. D. A. Floyd, Midgeley, Pickering and Stephens. Interment was in the Edson cemetery, under the direction of J. A. Welnbeck.

HASTINGS—The funeral services of Angelina Hastings will take place Saturday afternoon at two o'clock from her late home, 1035 Bridge street. Friends invited.

FOR CONGRESS

PICKED FOR ELECTION BY ILLINOIS DEMOCRATS.

The Rev. Father George D. Heldmann, who has been picked out by the democrats of the Second Illinois district as the only man who can beat Congressman Lorimer, is pastor of St. Paul's Roman Catholic church, Chicago. His acceptance of the nomination waits on the consent of Archbishop Feehan. He was born in 1844 in Chicago, educated for the priesthood at St. Mary's Seminary and has been parish priest at St. Paul's since 1888. He has done much to build up the parish, built a new church and several parish buildings. He has a strong hold on the hearts of his parishioners, is of German extraction, and was one of the chairmen of the mass meeting in protest against a British-American alliance. It is a strong German district with a big republican majority to overcome. Says Father Heldmann: "I have always been a democrat, and there is no law, ecclesiteal or civil, which prevents the election of a Catholic priest to the office of congressman.

"It is not of my own volition I may enter the race for a seat in the United States congress," he says. "All creeds and denominations, irrespective of party, are urging me to make the race. I have paid no serious attention to their appeals, but the movement is spreading. I shall allow the thing to develop itself.

"Sending a priest to the Legislature is not without a precedent. One was elected to the upper house in Detroit not many years ago.

"If I should be elected I do not see how it will interfere with my church duties. A preacher can do his people much good in the national congress—especially the class which is so poorly represented as this district is by Mr. Lorimer. I have always believed that were I in congress, I could do more for the people in this district than has been accomplished before. If it happens that I become a candidate, it will not be as a reformer, but as a representative of the people, to give them what they have been asking for.

"If I shall have to be disconnected from my parish duties, in becoming a candidate, I will drop the proposition, as my life is consecrated to the cause of the church, but I believe I can plan without the duties of my parish being interfered with. I shall make no move, however, until I get permission from Archbishop Feehan, who is my superior."

NOT VERACIOUS.

The Kicker—Don't you see that sign, "No Smoking Here?"
The Kicked—Yes, it isn't strictly truthful, though. I'm smoking, you know.

THE TRAMP PROBLEM.

The Wisdom of the Great Captains on the Subject Worth About 30 Cents.

At the request of the general manager of a large railroad company, Mr. Josiah Flynt, the tramp expert, spent two months recently in investigating the company's efforts to put a stop to the stealing of rides. He found that of all the roads in America this one had the worst reputation among the "hoboes." Mr. Flynt says:

"Can the tramps be driven off the railroads? It was to satisfy my own curiosity in regard to this question and to find out how successful my employer, the general manager, had been in his attempt to answer it in the affirmative that I undertook the investigation which I have described. Previous to his efforts to keep tramps off railroads, it had been thought, as he has stated, that it was cheaper to put up with them, nuisance though they were, than to pay the bills which a crusade against them would occasion. It has at last been demonstrated, however, that tramps can be refused free transportation by one of our greatest railroads, with a saving of expense to the company and with great benefit to the community, and the time has come when the public is justified in demanding that all railroads take a similar stand in regard to this evil.

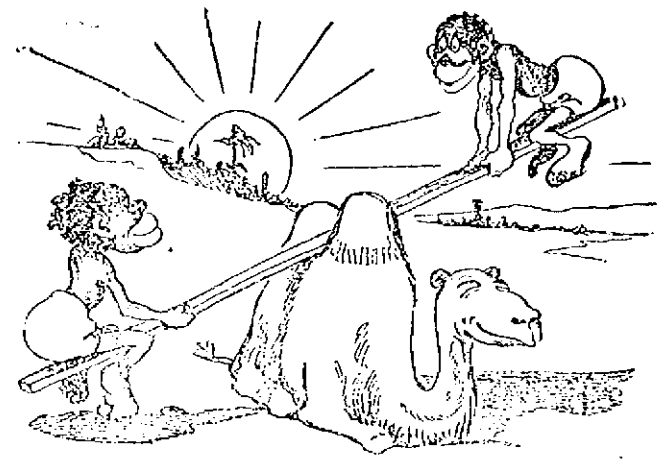

"If all the railroad companies would agree upon concerted action against tramps, in a few years the following very satisfactory results would be achieved: First, very few tramps. If any, would try to beat their way on trains. Second, an appreciable number of them would give up tramping entirely, because their present railroad privileges are to many the main attractions of the life. Third, a few would try to become professional criminals again, partly out of revenge and partly because tramping on the turnpikes would be too disagreeable, and fourth, a large number would take to the highways, where some might be made to do farm work and where all would at least be in touch with farm life. The reader may take exception to the third possibility and think that great harm would come of an increase in the professional criminal class; but, as I have said, tramps are really discouraged criminals, and a return to the old life, of which they made a failure, would land them in the penitentiary.

"It is probably impossible ever entirely to eliminate the vagrant element in a nation's life, and no such hope is held out in connection with the reform advocated in this article. But this much is certain—had all the railroads been as close to tramps during my first excursions into Holland as one of them has recently become, one man at least would not have attempted any free riding and would not have found so many tramps to study."—Century Magazine.

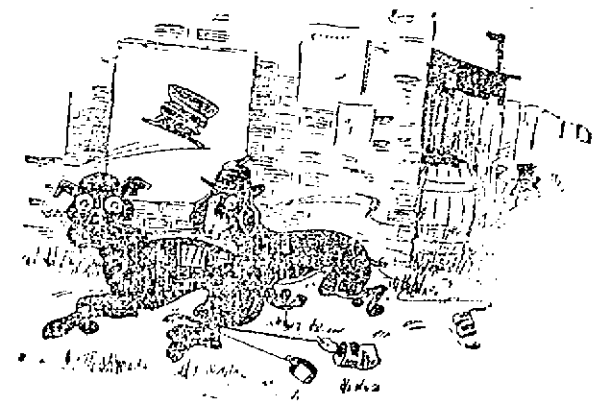

Ruskin Co-operative Colony.

Next August Ruskin will celebrate its fifth anniversary. During these years many members have come and gone. Over 40 have had their money returned to them. We now have on our roll cash shares of stock representing $49,500. The original capital was seventeen thousand and odd dollars, making a total of $66,500 cash. With this sum we have fed, clothed and housed on an average 200 people for five years; have taken care of our sick and buried our dead; have made costly mistakes—one of which made us practically throw away over a year and a half's work (we refer to our first settling at Old Ruskin and moving here); yet with all our blunders, with all our expenses, with the losses and misfortunes that necessarily go with a new organization, the sworn statement of our officers on the 1st of January show that we have property worth $94,000. In the five years every land note was paid before due, and every bill for merchandise has been discounted. These are the facts, and we ask our readers if it is not an infamous outrage that an injunction should be sworn out and a receiver be appointed under such conditions.—Coming Nation.

AT TEWKSBURY

An Extremely Pathetic Case in Almshouse

IMPORTANT MEETING OF CHURCH SOCIETY

Rev. J. Herbert Yeoman Receives a Call.

TO PASTORATE OF CENTRE CHURCH.

Is a Nephew of Undertaker J. B. Currier.

Thomas E. Kelliher of Lynn has been committed to the State Almshouse at Tewksbury. This announcement in itself would not arouse any pity or interest, were it not for the fact that the victim is a well known young man of Lynn, popular among his acquaintances, and at one time had a bright future. Young Kelliher is not only a charge upon the state, but he also suffers from total blindness and a general impairment of health, and those who are acquainted with him state that he probably will not live very long. His case is extremely pathetic, as his present condition is the result of a lovers' quarel.

Young Kelliher formerly kept company with an attractive looking girl in Lynn, named Susie Denehy. They were very fond of each other, and it was said that the Denehy girl was jealous of him, though it is stated that she had no reason to entertain the slightest suspicion against him. One evening, about 10 o'clock, over a year ago, Kelliher called upon his fiance. Instantly there was a quarrel, it is said, the girl calling him to account for not calling earlier. Explanations followed. The couple were seated in the parlor of the Denehy house, an electric light some distance away furnishing a dim light in the room.

It is said that the girl refused to accept Kelliher's explanation, and instead, seized a bottle of vitriol and dashed it into Kelliher's face. The victim was taken to the hospital, and the assailant to police headquarters.

Kelliher refused to testify against his assailant, though the government prosecuted the charge, and it was finally dropped by the marriage of the pair, the Rev. Fr. Harrington performing the ceremony.

A short time after the wedding Kelliher began acting strangely, and he would probably have been sent to Danvers Insane Asylum then had not his wife interfered.

For some time the couple lived together, but of late Kelliher had been lodging at the police station.

The officials there, finding they could no longer keep him, turned him over to the overseers of the poor, and they transferred him to the state almshouse.

TEWKSBURY TOWN TOPICS.

The Hood's Farm base ball team will play the North Tewksbury team at the North Village, July 4.

Miss Nettie Pike and her cousin, Miss Millie Knapp of Piermont, N. H., enjoyed yesterday at Long Pond, sketching the "lily beds," and brought home some very excellent specimens of pond lilies.

Dr. Ranney, of the Tewksbury almshouse, who plays with the almshouse team, was at one time the crack catcher for the Dartmouth University base ball team. He is very popular with the residents of this town, and also well liked by the inmates of the almshouse.

Cannon crackers and firecrackers exploded at different parts of the Centre Village last evening shows that "Young America" is up and doing and getting into training for the glorious Fourth.

Miss Stella Morrill attended the Berde-Drew nuptials at Lowell last evening.

Billy Button has discarded his whiskers, received a Johnny Breed hair cut and is now reported studying ventriloquism.

The Sun is "catching on" in this town. Mr. James Fairgrieve has of late been increasing his order and today orders five additional copies of The Sun to be sent daily to his store. Verily, "Jim" knows a good thing when he gets it, and so do the people of Tewksbury. Bear in mind—politics or no politics—The Sun is a newspaper for the people. Motto: The news all the time—news that is news, at first hands.

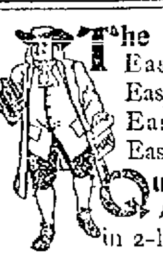

Miss Carrie Dawson attended the recital of Mr. George F. Willey's pupils at Lowell last evening.

"Joe" Duffy of the Centre Village, is organizing a team which will contain Lowell players, to compete against the almshouse ball team.

Monday evening it was voted by the Congregational church society to extend a call to Rev. J. Herbert Yeoman of Wareham, to become the pastor of the church. The other candidate was Rev. Mr. Washburn of Brookline. The first ballot was an informal one, resulting in 12 votes for Rev. Mr. Yeoman, 3 for Rev. Mr. Washburn and 2 blanks. The formal ballot was 15 votes favoring Mr. Yeoman, and 2 blanks. The letter announcing the decision of the society has been sent Rev. Mr. Yeoman and a reply is waited. The latter is a nephew of Undertaker J. B. Currier of Lowell and preached at both services at the Centre church Sunday.

During Rev. Mr. Yeoman's stay in Tewksbury over Sunday he was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Enoch Foster.

A pretty June wedding was solemnized Tuesday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. R. Rockwood Rice of Tewksbury, when their daughter, Miss Nellie J. Rice, was united in marriage to Mr. Paul B. Smith of J. A. Weinbeck's undertaking establishment. The ceremony was performed under an arch of evergreen and ferns in the presence of only the immediate relatives and friends of the contracting parties. The bride was attended by Miss Enid F. Tucker and Mr. Ralph P. Burt officiated in the capacity of best man. The bride was charmingly attired in India mulle, and carried bride's roses, while the bridesmaid wore a becoming costume of Swiss mousseline. At the conclusion of the ceremony a wedding supper was served by Alexander Cameron, and an opportunity was given to inspect the many handsome and useful presents. After a brief honeymoon they will take up their residence on Richmond street, where they will be at home to their friends after July 10. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Herbert A. Pasho of Boston.

NORTH CHELMSFORD

RECEPTION TO REV. ROBERT W. DUNBAR AND BRIDE.

The members of the North Chelmsford Congregational church gave a reception to their pastor, Rev. Robert W. Dunbar and his wife last night, Mr. and Mrs. Dunbar having been married a week ago in Portland. There was a large attendance in spite of the unpropitious weather and the affair although as informal as possible, was none the less enjoyable. The platform was covered with potted plants and ferns and this, together with the decorations by the ladies of the church, gave the place an attractive appearance.

The reception was held from 7.30 o'clock to 9. Rev. and Mrs. Dunbar being assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Holt and Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Sheldon. At nine o'clock Mr. Arthur F. Salmon called to order and introduced Mrs. Frederick Mallellen, who in a neat little speech presented Mr. Dunbar with an easy chair as a gift from the members of the senior Christian Endeavor society. Rev. Mr. Dunbar responded in a few happy words.

Afterwards the young ladies served refreshments, the remainder of the evening being devoted to a social time which everybody enjoyed.

The committee to whom is due the credit of making the affair so pleasant was composed of Mrs. Arthur Salmon, Mrs. Charles Scribner, Mrs. Howard Whittemore, Mrs. George Merrill, Mrs. Fred Culley. The young ladies who served refreshments were: Miss Daisy Ripley, Miss Belle Adams, Miss Bessie Moore, Miss Clara Wright, Miss Florence Shaw, Miss Hattie Hall, Miss Bertha Swain, Miss Annie Wright, Miss Mary Brown, Miss Ethel Ranger, Miss Belle Smith, Miss Nellie Truby, Miss Addie Overlock, Miss Addie Hyde and Mrs. Viola Mitchell. The ushers were: Arthur F. Salmon, E. H. Shaw, Preston Piggott, H. C. Trombly, A. C. Mitchell, and Edward Durant. An orchestra of seven pieces under the direction of Mrs. D. E. Dudley gave several pleasant selection during the evening. Pastor Dunbar and wife will reside at the Congregational parsonage on School street. During the past few weeks the exterior of his residence has undergone some repairing and is now in excellent condition.

Four new weaving looms have been added to those already in use by the Success Worsted company. This new increase to those already in use makes seventeen weaving looms that the company will soon have in operation. Mr. Walter A. Leigh, the manager and treasurer of the company, is a well known and popular young man of North Chelmsford.

The combing room base ball team of George C. Moore's mills are anxious to participate in a base ball game with the wool sorting team of the same mill. As there are some good ball players in the two teams a game between them would be quite exciting. Should the wool sorters wish to accept the challenge of the combing room team it is quite possible that the game will be played within two weeks.

The selection of the umpire will be decided by John J. Brennan, manager of the combing room team and John McTague, manager of the wool sorters.

It is expected that there will be another tug of war between the wool carders and wool sorters of George C. Moore's mill. There is a strong rivalry between these two tug-of-war teams and although the wool sorters came out victorious the first time that they met, the carders feel confident that if another tug of war can be aranged before long that they can defeat their strong opponents.

STORES BEING PUT IN.

Several building improvements are being made on Middlesex street. The Glidden block is to have another entrance between the main door and the Traders' bank entrance and further up the street, stores are taking the place of tenements in several places.

BOXING GOSSIP.

The bill which Manager Desmond will offer at the Nutone club on the night before the Fourth, from present indications will amply make up for the disappointment of the last meeting. Of course, the "yellow" work of Patsy Hennessy at the last meeting was not the fault of the club, but to guard against a repetition of it in the future Manager Desmond states that henceforth he will allow none but boxers who box to appear before the Nutone, and will use more than ordinary care in selecting attractions.

The principal attraction of the night before the Fourth will be a 15-round contest, and perhaps 20, between Morris Rosenberg of Boston and John Dinsdale of Worcester, two of the cleverest men in the business. Rosenberg and Dinsdale will undoubtedly put up a good go. They have met some of the best men in the country in their class and are known from one end of the country to the other. There was some dispute as to the referee of the contest, but both men at last are satisfied to have Luke Burke, the referee of the club, officiate.

The preliminaries on this occasion will be of the most interesting kind to Lowell followers of the sport. The first one will be an eight-round go between Billy Gardner, who needs no introduction in this city, and Prof. Gagnon, late manager of the Hudson Athletic club, the meteoric career of which is well remembered. Prof. Gagnon has developed into a boxer within the past year and considers himself able to go up against the redoubtable Gardner. He boxes at 120 pounds and keeps himself in condition all the time. Gagnon resembles Fitzsimmons in the ring, although he boxes somewhat differently. He has not had much of an experience but has had a draw with Billy Chisholm and a draw with another prominent lightweight. Gardner has already posted his guarantee and Gagnon, writes The Sun that he will be on hand in a day. Gagnon says he weighs 121 now and never felt better in his life. He is training daily at Hudson, and being under the tutelage of first class boxers, he is improving rapidly every day. While he may not be able to "give the guff" as well as some, he certainly can take it. Gardner evidently expects a clinch, for he goes up against Kid Lavigne on the Fourth of July evening, the night after taking on Gagnon. Billy's long list of consecutive victories have made him quite confident of his prowess.

It was intended to have Young Sharkey go on with Fitzpatrick of Newton for eight rounds on the night of July 3, and it was thought that everything had been arranged, but Fitzpatrick, who lost once to Sharkey, is a trifle shy about meeting him again and has sent word that he will not go on with Sharkey, but would like to take on Bob Montgomery, the colored boxer, who received a drubbing from George Gardner at Manchester, some months ago. To fill out the program in place of Sharkey and Fitzpatrick, Manager Desmond takes pleasure in announcing that the only two "real thing" boxers of the city, Tom McLaughlin, the Roscommon champion, and John Dion, the pride of the F. A. C., have fixed it up to go 8 rounds again on that night for the purpose of deciding the supremacy and with a good bet on the side.

Since the last meeting, the F. A. C. boys have been guying Dion because he did not make short work of McLaughlin, and as a result John has been training faithfully and will make the Roscommon champion hustle for 8 rounds on that night. McLaughlin on the other hand, can see himself improving every day and while he expected to take on bigger game, he says he is willing to give Dion another show, just to convince him that he is not in his class.

Several prominent boxing managers have written Manager Desmond, asking for opportunities to appear before the club, but Manager Desmond does not give any encouragement to any of them until he has first looked them up. He intends to give nothing but first class, legitimate and orderly exhibitions.

PHILIP MURPHY.

MICHAEL REGAN.

SKETCH OF THE ACCIDENT AT THE COAL SHED OF THE LOWELL GAS COMPANY AS DESCRIBED BY AN EYE WITNESS.

TWO WERE KILLED

At the Lowell Gas Works Yesterday Afternoon.

Were Buried Under a Load of Coal Hurled From a Dump Car—Michael Regan and Philip Murphy the Victims.

A sad accident occurred yesterday afternoon at the gas company's works on School street.

A coal car was to be dumped, and after some vain attempts to dump it, it was decided to have the men get into the car and shovel out the coal.

Michael Regan, a strapping big fellow, and Philip Murphy, were selected for the purpose, and after they had shovelled for a while, the car suddenly tipped over, throwing the men underneath, and burying them under the coal. Help was promptly given, but before the unfortunate men could be extricated, Regan was dead and Murphy unconscious. It is doubtful if the latter recovers from his injuries.

Regan resided at 31 L street in Centralville, and Murphy at 43 Wright street, Pawtucketville. The accident caused much excitement around the locality, and soon a large crowd had gathered on the scene.

Later—Murphy died soon after the accident and both bodies were taken charge of by Undertaker Molloy.

The scene of the accident is the large covered coal pocket of the company, which takes up over an acre of ground. It is divided into vaults and will hold 12,000 tons of coal when filled. The coal cars are run up to it on trestles and unloaded as desired. It is a dark, dusty place, resembling the shaft of a mine, and the men working in it are as black as their surroundings from the time they start to work until they finish. As each car is dumped, there follows a roar and great clouds of dust which for a time entirely enveloped the room.

It was in one of these vaults that the accident occurred. Five of the coal cars filled to dump and the men were sent to unload it.

Supt. Farnham of the gaslight company said that these dump cars have been used since 1849. The cars known as "shovelers" are not favored now to any great extent. These cars have an appliance known as rockers and these are held by couplings. When the car is ready to be unloaded, the couplings are slipped and the car tilts enough to dump the contents.

In some manner, the rocker on this particular car which contained about four tons, became broken and Regan and Murphy were ordered by Foreman Peters to get into it and shovel out the contents.

He instructed them, he claims, to shovel from the upper side, but the men, having shovelled about the cars for years, took the easier way and worked from the lower side. As a result, when the car was about half emptied, the weight on one side caused it to tilt over. But the couplings not being unfastened so as to permit the car to dump, there was no relief for the strain on one side of the car and as a result the great weight lifted the car off the tracks, caused it, with its load of coal and unfortunate crew to topple over into the pit 10 feet below, the men being crushed between the stone wall and the car and buried under the great pile of coal.

A force of about 20 men went speedily to work on the debris and in about half an hour had succeeded in extricating the victims of the accident.

Regan had been instantly killed and Murphy died a few minutes after being taken from the pile. Murphy's head was horribly mangled.

Regan was 25 years of age and married. He is survived by two brothers, Martin and Thomas, and one sister, who resides in Pennsylvania. Murphy was 50 years of age and was also married. Besides his wife he leaves four children, John A., Cornelius, Abbie T., and Sadie A. Murphy; also two brothers, Michael and Patrick M., the latter being the fireman at the Whitney Cotton mills; and two sisters, Mary Power and Maggie Murphy.

Regan had been employed by the company for about six years and Murphy for over 20 years.

Superintendent George W. Farnham said he had been connected with the gas company since 1852 and in all those years had never heard or seen anything to compare with the sad affair. In speaking of the men, Mr. Farnham said they were both good, reliable men.

The gaslight company did all in its power for the men and notified their families and the press of the accident as soon as possible after it happened.

AT SACRED HEART

Closing Exercises of the School Pupils

EXCELLENT PROGRAM WELL RENDERED

Address by Rev. Fr. Joyce O. M. I.

The closing exercises of the pupils of the school of the Sacred Heart parish were held yesterday afternoon in the school hall and were largely attended by the parents and friends. The stage was tastefully decorated with the Stars and Stripes. One feature of the exercises was the marching on and off the stage by the pupils to the tune, "Marching Through Georgia." Among the Oblate Fathers present were Rev. William D. Joyce, O.M.I., Rev. John P. Reynolds, O.M.I., Rev. D. Gagnon, O.M.I., Rev. Fr. Campos, O.M.I., Rev. Fr. Meltory, O.M.I. Rev. Lawrence Tighe, O. M. I., Rev. D. Sullivan, O. M. I., and Rev John J. Duffy, O. M. I.

The program was as follows:

Opening hymn, "O Sacred Heart;" dialogue, "When Papa Was a Little Boy"; song, "The Cobbler;" coon song, "The Chicken's Mistake;" dialogue, "The Peace Maker;" song, "My First Music Lesson;" recitation, "What I Can Do;" instrumental trio; recitation, "The Birds' Picnic;" vacation song, dialogue, "Sick Dolls;" dialogue, "Boys' Complaint;" song, "Chiming Bells," proclamation of reports and distribution of prizes.

The program was exceedingly well rendered, considering the age of the pupils who were quite young and reflects much credit on the work of the instructors. In some numbers as many as 50 pupils appeared.

Rev. Fr. Reynolds introduced Rev. William D. Joyce, O.M.I., first pastor of the parish.

Fr. Joyce returned thanks for the honor conferred upon him and congratulated the pupils upon the good work demonstrated. He referred to his connection with the parish in 1884. He remained about one year and stated that it was always a pleasure for him to meet his old parishioners.

He described the parochial school as a great blessing. Such a school is needed in these days, he said. The good results attained by the Sisters are recognized by the parishioners and the good effect produced on the pupils of the school has its effect upon their associates who do not attend the parochial school. The Immaculate Conception school is not sufficiently large to accommodate the pupils. The reverend gentleman expressed the belief that the attendance at the Sacred Heart school would be largely increased in the future.

Continuing to speak of the parochial school, Fr. Joyce stated that the pupils of such school had in addition to the secular knowledge obtained in other schools a moral and religious training which would be of service during life. One of the chief troubles in this country today is that the mind is trained and the hearts neglected. The result is that many people have no moral training and are willing to do wrong provided they are not found out. The parochial school seeks to teach pupils the necessity of religion and morals and the training received bears good fruit in later years.

Premiums were distributed at the close, when the standing of each pupil was read.

CRICKET GAMES.

At the cricket games Saturday between the Mohairs and Arlingtons on the Chelmsford street grounds the following will be the Mohair team:

R. Firth, Capt; B. Southam; F. Harrison; L. Fielding; J. Gregg; R. Monk; Wm. Duffy; A. Stirks; F. Pascall; J. Webster; D. Hamm; reserves, J. Lane; W. Flexney; Alf. Watson. Game called at 2.30 pm.

SONG RECITALS.

The pupils of Mr. F. Edmond Edmunds will give the second of a series of three song recitals at the Unitarian church this evening at 8 o'clock.

PERSONAL.

At the entertainment of the Debating club at West Chelmsford, this evening there will be vocal and instrumental music, readings and speakings by Mrs. Daisy Shaw Merritt of Westford, Miss Ilene Stevens of Springfield, Mr. Hubert Bearce of North Chelmsford, Mr. Oscar Naylor, Miss Lulu Spalding, Miss Beatrice Naylor, Mrs. Carrie Roble, Master Coburn and Master Lundberg.

Mrs. James M. Wing left yesterday for an extended vacation which will include visits to her old home in New Brunswick and points along the Maine coast.

Professor George L. Ward of Rollins College, Florida, gave a recent talk to the Y. P. S. C. E. of the Highland Congregational church on the work of the institution. Ten dollars was voted by the society to the college.

Miss Katharine Kelly of the Cross street school left last evening for Mebantic, Me., where she will spend her vacation.

W. J. Coughlin, the land operator, is developing a tract of land in Manchester, which he has named Lakeview Terrace.

A. H. Schoolcraft and son, Otis Edwin, will spend the next month or six weeks in New Hampshire and Vermont for a much needed rest.

Mrs. M. G. Hallett and son Freeman Hallett, a graduate of the Moody school, class of '99, started today for Belfast, Me., for their summer vacation. Miss Sadie A. Hallett of Boston is to be their guest during their stay.

Mr. Charles Chitty of Pawtucketville, the well known compositor, will start the early part of next month on a protracted vacation to be enjoyed at Willoughby Lake, Burke, Vt.

GEO. FRED WILLIAMS

Will Address Clan Na-Gael Gathering

In a Letter He Praises the Position of the Society and Says That England's Colonial Record is a Stain on Anglo-Saxon History.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

BOSTON June 29.—Hon. George Fred Williams has accepted an invitation from the Clan-na-Gael to speak at the re-union to be held in this city July 4, and in a letter announcing his decision, Mr. Williams refers to the position which he maintains on the question of an Anglo-American alliance and of imperialism. Mr. Williams bids the order God speed in its opposition to an imperialist policy for the United States, and in their insistance that there be no alliance with England. He says that England's colonial record is a stain upon Anglo-Saxon history, and that an alliance with England would ally the United States with all the enormities of her foreign dominion.

Mr. Williams has cancelled an engagement to speak at Buffalo in order to attend the Clan-na-Gael reunion. The letter follows:

John J. Teevens, Esq., Chairman of Committee of Invitations, Clan-na-Gael Re-union:

Dear Sir—While I hope to respond in person to your courteous invitation, I must not fail, in any contingency, to record my sympathy with the cause of your gathering as expressed in your letter.

Your order represents the struggle of the Irish people for independence, and it is a glorious testimony to your love of universal freedom that you now demand of our republic a stern adherence to the principle which gave liberty to this nation.

You dignify the strugle for American independence when you use your American citizenship to make sacred the struggles for independence elsewhere. God speed you in your opposition to an imperialistic policy for the United States, and in your insistance that we enter into no alliance with England. I say this in no spirit of hostility to England as a nation, but I decided hostility to her policy toward a subjugated peoples. There is no nation, and never will be a nation, which can govern a subject people justly. The sympathy, the charity, the affection, which alone can assure justice in government, cannot inspire distant rulers. Men and nations seek to rule always for their own gain and aggrandizement, never from love of the governed. History shows that the feebler the subject is, the more brutal is the rule.

I always had a horror of the English treatment of subjugated peoples. England's colonial record is a stain upon Anglo-Saxon history. Her colonies have progressed just in the measure that they have wrested self government from her.

An alliance with England would ally us with all the enormities of her foreign dominion. A nation, like a man, is known by the company it keeps, and so long as England stands with her sword over conquered peoples, she is not fit company for a republic.

But it ill becomes us to criticize England, if we are to engage in the same inhumaun business ourselves.

To me, as an American, the wholesale slaughter of an innocent people, which has been guilty of no offence save love of country and of freedom, is a shame and scandal which even repentance and final justice cannot expiate. Fellow citizens, apparently decent and Christian are heard to say that as we have begun this work it must proceed, if to be point of extirpation; more widows must weep, more orphans sorrow, more graves must yawn for brave men, even our own, that we may prove how cruel and inexorable is the tyranny of a republic. It is said that the national honor must be maintained, that we must meet our new duties courageously, that manifest destiny prescribes this course.

In decided hostility to her policy too—It is not an honor but a disgrace; it is not courageous but cowardly to thus crush out the instincts of freedom; it is but a pretence to cover the attempt of a mighty nation to murder the weak; to name such conduct, 'Manifest Destiny' is to foist upon a just God responsibility for a mortal sin.

If, indeed, we are to enter upon such business, if we are to play King George in the new century, then

"Let us lock arms with England, which can teach us this art as no other nation can teach it. Let us aid her in her schemes of conquest while she helps us clear our paths of empire. Together we will be invincible in bringing Asia under the yoke of trade and we may have the world at our feet.

"But if there remains anything sacred in our cherished Declaration of Independence, if we are to teach the world what freedom means, let us stand by ourselves in our great strength, a menace to oppressors.

"The American people have not yet pronounced upon this new policy of imperialism. We are not yet guilty. The blood thus far is only upon the head of the president who is urging his war without direction or authority from the people.

"Let me suggest to you that this line of policy, which I shall advocate wherever opportunity is given me; to suspend military government in all the Spanish colonies which we now occupy, to extend aid to them to form forthwith their own independent governments; to seek from them by honorable treaties such concessions in trade or naval facilities as we desire to consider their annexation, as they of their own will shall ask it; to take nothing from them except with their consent.

"Under such a policy, we could with growing power call a halt to the aggressions of foreign powers upon feeble nations. This would be a foreign policy which would be worthy of our army and navy. When any nation wishes to join us upon such lines, we may well consider an alliance. Until then, there should be no alliance with any European nation. But to join with Europe now, when its policy is the spoliation of weaker peoples, would be to set back the cause of human freedom and leave it without a champion among the nations of the earth.

"Speak, I beg you, today with no uncertain voice and if the Anglo-Saxon shall thus degrade himself in the abandonment of all pretence to mercy and justice, it will be your glorious record that men of Irish blood still kept the glory of Washington, Jeqerson and Adams and scored for greed of gain "to shut the gates of mercy on mankind."

I am, with greetings to your committee, very obediently yours,

GEORGE FRED WILLIAMS.

HOMICIDAL MANIA

TOMBS PHYSICIAN REPORTS THAT MRS. RAMSAY IS INSANE.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

NEW YORK, June 29.—Dr. Campbell, the Tombs physician, yesterday reported to Warden Hagan that Mrs. Ramsay, who recently murdered her husband because he snored was a victim to homicidal mania and in his opinion insane.

Dr. Campbell said she should be constantly watched or she might kill herself or anyone she sees. Warden Hagan placed a watch on the woman at once.

The inquest into the death of her husband was commenced today. Mrs. Ramsay created a scene by breaking down. The inquest was adjourned at the request of the district attorney so that an expert alienist could examine the prisoner who appeared to be insane.

The diagnosis of the Tombs doctor later today confirmed this impression.

CAPTAIN BOMUS

Wants to Enlist Colored Recruits

By Associated Press to The Sun.

CHICAGO, June 29.—Captain P. S. Bomus, in charge of the U. S. army recruiting station, has telegraphed Adjutant General Corbin asking permission to enlist colored recruits and to restore the lenient physical examinations which were in use during the war with Spain.

Recruiting Sergeant Jones says if the station is given permission to enlist colored men, practically all of the mustered out Eighth Illinois volunteers will be sent to the Philippines. Under the present physical examination but one man out of ten is found qualified. Fifty applicants a day are examined. Under instructions expected, Captain Bomus thinks that within the two weeks over 200 recruits besides volunteer bodies will be sent from Chicago.

MAJOR ACOSTA

Captured in a Small Country House

By Associated Press to The Sun.

HAVANA, June 29.—Advices received here from Guanajay today say Major Jose Acosta of the Cuban army, accused of complicity in the recent safe robbery at Mariel at first succeeded in escaping the rural police but the latter pursued him to a small country house, where he was captured.

He was taken to Guanajay jail and on the promise of his life being spared he said his party numbered 29, among whom he claimed was Colonel Garilla Dolse, who was appointed last week chief of the Guanajay rural police. Acosta received $500 as his share of the Mariel robbery.

At Pueto Padre four boats returning from fishing were halted by armed negroes in five boats, one mile from the shore and were compelled to surrender their fish and everything of value on board.

At Cienfuegos 59 Cuban soldiers have been paid.

FUNERALS.

MURPHY—The funeral of the late Philip Murphy, who was killed in the gas house accident yesterday will take place tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock, from the residence on Wright street, and at 9 o'clock, from St. Patrick's church.

MAJOR RICE

HAS DEGREE OF MASTER OF ARTS CONFERRED ON HIM.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

NORTHFIELD, Vt., June 29.—Norwich University today conferred the honorary degree of master of military science upon Captain Charles E. Clark, formerly of the cruiser Oregon. The degree of Master of Arts was conferred upon Major Edmund Rice, U. S. formerly colonel of the Sixth Massachusetts volunteers, and that of LL.D., upon Congressman Josiah Grout of Vermont.

DOMINION COAL COMPANY.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

BOSTON, June 29.—At an adjourned meeting of the Dominion Coal company today, it was decided by a vote of 141,552 shares to accept the proposition of the Dominion Iron and Steel company, to take control of the coal company, to pay six per cent. dividend on common stock and to pay fixed charges. It is probable that the iron and steel company soon will be given a lease of the coal company's property.

DEVINE—James Joseph Devine, aged 15 years, son of Michael and the late Ellen Devine, died this morning at 20 Riverside avenue. Funeral tomorrow afternoon.

HELD IN $5000

CHAFFEE AND BARROWS CHARGED WITH EMBEZZLEMENT.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

WILLIMANTIC, Ct., June 29.—The case of Colonel Dwight Chaffee and Frederick M. Barrows, the latter of Hartford, who are held on charges alleges embezzlement and conspiracy in connection with the management of the now defunct Natchaug Silk company, came up before Judge Lyman in the police court here today. Judge Lyman found probable cause and bound the accused over to the September term of the Superior court for trial in $5000 bail, which was furnished.

ANOTHER BREAK

Harvard-Yale Race Again Postponed.

ACCIDENT TO YALE'S BOAT

Caused Delay in the Four Oared Race.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

NEW LONDON, June 29.—A new drawing for positions took place after noon today, resulting as follows:

Four cared—Yale west and in shore; Harvard east and incurrent.

Freshman—Yale, west and in shore and Harvard east and in-current.

Eight-oared—Harvard west and inshore and Yale east with current.

At 2.45 p. m. the stakeboats were being placed in position. The condition of the course has improved materially in the past two hours and at the time for starting the first contest, promises to be in very fair shape. Referee Melkelham announced that the courses drawn by the Yale and Harvard 'Varsity crews will not be changed by the postponement. In the 'Varsity race Harvard will have the west side and Yale the east. Harvard will have the current for the first two miles and Yale for the last two.

The railroad officials have arranged with the race committee to run the observation train up the east bank for the four oared and freshman races returning to the city to discharge passengers. Some delay may result in start of 'varsity race but the committee expects to start the race shortly after six o'clock.

The tide began to ebb at 2 o'clock at the finish line and at 3.20 it was running out fairly strong with a direct north wind to help it. The breeze was even stronger than it was this morning but being with the tide did not kick up such a rough sea. The boat lines were filled with yachts which the referees' boat had twice warned to get out of the course. The referees' boat, after a visit to Yale's quarters, dropped down to Red Top at 3.21. The observation train was then in position opposite the stake boats.

At 3.23 p. m. the Harvard four was called out and the referee started over the course for final inspection.

At the time set for starting the four oared race, the course was just rough enough to be only fair for feathering, but wind and tide favor the crews.

At 3.43 both four turned above their stake boats and rowed in the direction of their quarters after a few words had passed between the coxswains. Something in the Yale shell had been broken and the New Haven men wished to return to their boat house probably for repairs. Following an apparent agreement the Harvard men went to their boat house, after informing the referee's boat, which came up at this time, what had occurred. Referee Melkelham at once proceeded to Yale quarters.

WEDDING GUESTS

WERE FATALLY INJURED BY EXPLOSION OF CANNON.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

CHICAGO, June 29.—A special from Manistee, says:

At a German wedding on Oak Hill last night, a large crowd gathered to serenade a newly married couple. The outfit consisted of cow bells, horns and a small cannon. The cannon was loaded with an over-charge of powder and exploded, injuring three by-standers. Albert Gillum was struck on the head with two pieces of iron, and probably fatally injured.

VALUABLE SILVER DOLLAR.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

CHICAGO, June 29.—A special from Racine, Wis. says:

A. Altman, clerk in a leading dry goods house here a week ago, received a silver dollar in payment for goods which brought him $1000. The coin is dated 1804, and very valuable, there being only a few of that denomination in existence. Altman sent the coin to Chicago, experts pronouncing it genuine, and it was sold for $1000.

PAPER MILL BURNED.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., June 29.—A special from Carthage says:

W. P. Herring's paper mill, about four miles below this place, is on fire, and will probably be a total loss. The mill cost about $75,000.

END WAS SUDDEN

Indictment in the Becker Case Was Faulty

IT CONTAINED WRONG NAME

Of the Victim of the Crime.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

CHICAGO, June 29.—The trial of August Becker, charged with having murdered and then dismembered and boiled the remains of his wife in order to leave him free to marry Ida Sutterlin, a 17-year old girl with whom he had become infatuated, came to a sudden end today, when it was found that the indictment named Mrs. Becker as Elizabeth, when it should have been Theresa. The court at once nolle prossed the indictment. The jury had been sworn in, and the defence asked for the discharge of the prisoner on the ground that Becker had been placed in jeopardy, and therefore could not be tried again. The court denied the request, however, and a bench warrant was issued, and Becker re-arrested. A new indictment will be drawn up. The discovery that the indictment was faulty created somewhat of a sensation in the court room.

A GOOD HAUL

PICKPOCKETS RELIEVED ALFRED MAGGI, SUPT. OF STREETS OF CHELSEA.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

PALMER, June 29.—As Alfred Maggi, superintendent of streets at Chelsea, was boarding the 6.49 train for the east here last evening, his pocket was picked.

He soon noticed his loss and he had the conductor stop the train in the freight yard. He went back to the station and notified the Palmer police.

He says two men jostled him as he was boarding the train and one pulled him to one side. He thinks the pocket book was taken then.

It is not likely that the theives will be caught.

SURGEON BOYD

Preparing Report on Tuberculosis Congress

RESULTS WILL BE IMPORTANT.

Consumption Ranch Will be Erected.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—Surgeon J. C. Boyd, of the navy one of the delegates to the recent tuberculosis congress in Berlin, is preparing a report for the department on the work of the congress the results of which Mr. Boyd thinks, will be important. The chief question interesting the profession is the preparation of an effective serum to combat the disease. Dr. Behring, one of the most prominent of the European specialists, has attained a success in this direction, which has attracted the attention of the medical world.

The profession sees no reason why the development of a tuberculosis serum should not revolutionize the mortality rate in consumption as much as has the development of the anti-toxine of diphtheria. It now is assured that in its earlier stages the disease can be checked.

Preparations are now being made for the establishment of a consumptive ranch in the high and dry region of the southwest for the benefit of the merchant-marine.

STRICKEN DOWN.

Mr. Frederick S. Greer had a shock this morning at his residence in High street. He is 84 years of age, and for 46 years he was in the employ of Pearson Brothers. During all the time he never had a holiday. He has been living in retirement with his daughter, Mrs. Horace Knapp, for some time, but age has told upon him, and he will hardly rally from the attack he has had.

ROACH WILL AGAIN.

In the probate court this morning, Judge Lawton, presiding, the Mary Roach will case was called, John J. and William A. Hogan, and George F. Richardson appearing for the executor and William H. Bent for the contestants. This is the case in which $5000 was left to Rev. Michael O'Brien by Mary Roach, who died some time ago. The contestants are members of the Welch family in Pawtucketville.

People Who Trade With Us Find Us Very Accommodating

For one reason or another it is not always convenient to pay all cash for furniture, carpets or a range. Sometimes the purchase has to be made a little before the time one expected, or you have been "boarding out" and that takes about all the money you earn. (The difference between that and "keeping house" would make the weekly payments) or you don't want to take money out of the bank just then and lose the interest. Whatever the reason, come to us, pay about a third down and we'll accommodate you, and we won't charge you any more and no interest. Of course we prefer to sell for cash; but we want your trade either way.

Great Excitement Caused by Crime.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

MUSKEEGON, Mich., June 29.—Mayor James Balbirnie was assassinated at noon by J. W. Tayer, a disappointed office-seeker. Tayer shot Mayor Balbirnie while the latter was standing in the doorway of his store. The ball entered his breast above the nipple. After the shooting Balbirnie turned and ran up stairs to his living rooms and dropped in the hall. He expired 15 minutes later.

Tayer swallowed some carbolic acid and then turned the revolver upon himself and fired. The ball entered his left breast. He died at 1 o'clock.

FRENCH CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

BRUSSELS, June 29.—The storm of verbosity was renewed in the Chamber of Deputies today. The Socialists hurled anathemas at M. J. Van Den Peereboom, who endeavored to explain the action taken by the police yesterday, and the Socialists persistently insulted the Premier, reproaching him with being responsible for yesterday's conflicts between the people and the police.

Later it was announced that King Leopold had a long conference with M. Van Den Peereboom, Herrgem and Beernaert, the latter having been summoned from The Hague.

It was reported that Van Deb Peereboom will resign.

PENSIONS GRANTED.

RECEIVERS DISCHARGED.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

BALTIMORE, June 29.—Judge Morris in the United States District court, signed an order today discharging the receivers of the Baltimore and Ohio railway company and relegating the property back to the stockholders. The United States court will retain such control of the property as to enable the bondholders to re-establish the receivership in the event of default in interest payments.

Today's order is the final step in the re-organization and re-habilitation of the Baltimore and Ohio company.

Mr. Cowan will resume his duties as president and Mr. Murray those of first vice president and general manager on Saturday next.

HIGH SCHOOL NIGHT

Graduating Exercises With Attractive Program

JOHN J. ROGERS, the Valedictorian.

Harvey N. Shepard of Boston the Orator—Other Addresses—The Valedictory Delivered by John Jacob Rogers—The Graduates and Star Scholars—Two Presentations

The inclement weather last evening, while it might have threatened misfortune to the elaborate summer toilettes of the young ladies, and thereby caused temporary worriment, could not for long depress the spirits of the bright young graduates of the Lowell High school, who, as the class of '99, last evening, entered into the vast arena of life, finely prepared for the battle to come, and most auspiciously introduced to the great world.

It was graduating night at the High school, and all Lowell was astir, for High school graduations have long ago taken their place among Lowell's greatest of events. For days past there has been a mad hunt for the coveted tickets of admission, and when the hour for the affair drew near last evening, all roads led to the Opera House, the scene of the exercises, and at eight o'clock the capacity of the theatre was taxed.

The exercises were of a characteristically high order and the elaborate program was carried out with finished preparation, the inevitable nervousness of the young contributors to the exercises disappeared before the hearty applause of their enthusiastic friends. The members of the graduating class were seated upon the stage in well arranged tiers forming a most attractive picture, the beauty of which was enhanced by the graceful arrangement of flags and the national colors upon a white background, with stately palms hedging the front of the stage from the auditorium.

The exercises opened promptly at eight o'clock, and then the program was as follows:

THE PROGRAM.

1. March.
American Orchestra.
2. Overture "Tannhauser" ....Wagner
American Orchestra.
3. Chorus "Praise Ye the Father" ..... Gounod

Praise ye the Father,
His power is everlasting;
Praise ye the Father,
Give thanks for all his benefits;
Sing forth your praises,
Let ev'ry heart be joyful;
Praise ye the Father,
Great Ruler, kind and merciful!

Praise be to Him,
Who hath shown His mighty pow'r.
Let ev'ry voice sound His praise
With exulting strains of gladness!
Great is the Lord,
Let His name be praised forever;
Come ye forth with your hearts attuned to sing,
Arise, and praise ye the Father,
Glory to the Father!
To the great and mighty Ruler!
Glory to the Father,
Who alone hath the pow'r to save!
Loudly let the chorus swell!
Loudly let the tuneful anthems ring!
Love and joy be now in every thankful heart.
Oh, praise ye the Lord!

4. Salutatory. "The Three-Fold Destiny"
Ella Maude Coffin.

Bids us onward turn our gaze.

What the future holds is hidden;
None can lift the mystic veil.
We to do our best are bidden,
Calmy then to wait the end.

Heavenly Father, may thy blessing
On this waiting class descend,
And Thy love past all expressing,
Guide us till our task is done.

15. "America."
16. Finale, "The Thespian" ...Sousa
American Orchestra.

The literary portion of the program began with the salutatory, a thoughtful essay on "The Three-fold Destiny," delivered without manuscript by Miss Ella Maude Coffin. The lesson it imparted was that the graduates must not seek in distant places the duty of life that may be found close to their own door.

The salutatory was followed by the singing of "'Tis Morn," by Geibel, and then Principal Cyrus W. Irish, who was master of ceremonies, introduced as the speaker of the evening, Hon. Harvey N. Shepard of Boston.

Mr. Shepard spoke in part as follows:

"Of the privileges to speak, which have been given to me, there is none which I shall remember more gratefully than this. When I recall the many distinguished men who have made Lowell their home and when I look about upon the great industries which in less than three generations you have established here, I am glad to be permitted, even for an hour, to make one with you. More than all, I am glad to speak to you, young men and young women, who now are to step over the threshold from the life of preparation to the life of action. I rejoice in the enthusiasm and in the courage with which you look forward to the future.

"Soon the Twentieth Century will have begun. The first pages of its history will be written largely by you and by those like you in the future who now become graduates. It is a glorious opportunity.

"However brilliant the Nineteenth century is probably is as a tallow candle to the splendor of the sun of the Twentieth Century. It would be folly to indulge in prophecy but the achievements of the present are a sure warrant of the future. Into this arena you are to enter. Here you are to fight the battle of life. Envy will assail you, malice will molest you, and treachery will try to entrap you. Many a fond ideal you will find to be an illusion, will grow weary and at times almost disheartened. But be not cast down. However much noise petty and mean men may make, they are in the minority. The best men prevail in the end, and they will bid you a cordial welcome and help you on to victory. Do not join the ignoble mob ever swaying from one side to the other and ever ready to give the hemlock cup to whoever would be its teacher and leader, but make truth your guiding star, be of sincere convictions and have the courage to stand by your beliefs though the heavens should fall.

"You will take up different and many occupations, trades and professions. Choose carefully and then make the most of your choice but do not let it become your whole life.

A perfect machine is possible only because men work constantly at distinct parts. Their very narrowness of occupation tends to a like narrowness of mind.

"On the other hand, one should not look down upon his calling. If it be pursued merely as a grim necessity then man is a slave. We can find in it not only our own support but a satisfaction of the genuine need of another.

5. Chorus "'Tis Morn" ..Adam Geibel
'Tis morn and the shadows of the night are fled away
While the skylark sings at the break of day.

O'er the eastern hills now creeping,
Comes the sun, the God of day,
Waking nature from her sleeping,
Making all things bright and gay.

Come, while the skies are smiling,
Come ev'ry care beguiling,
Let us the hours be whiling,
In pleasure and peace away.

Come gather fragrant flowers,
Come then to woodland bowers,
Thus all the happy hours,
Shall be spent till the close of day.

National Hymn. Words by Anna E. King. Music by Julius Eichberg.

To thee, O country, great and free
With trusting hearts we cling;
Our voices tuned by joyous love,
Thy pow'r and praises sing.

Upon thy mighty, faithful heart,
We lay, we lay our burden down
Thou art the only friend who feels
Their weight without a frown.

For thee, we daily work and strive,
To thee we give our love,
For thee, with fervor deep, we pray,
To Him, who dwells above.

O God, preserve our Father-land
Let peace, let peace its rulers be
And let her happy kingdom stretch
From north to southmost sea!

Words by Helen Estelle Bowers. Music by Joseph Hayden German composer, 1732-1809.

Classmates, now the bond we sever
That has held our lives as one;
Sadly comes the thought that never
Can these happy hours return.

Though our hearts are filled with sorrow
As we clasp the parting hand,
Hope points out a bright tomorrow,

SULLIVAN'S DEATH

Jere. Sullivan Killed at Graniteville

HE WAS FORMERLY OF LOWELL.

The sad death of Jeremiah Sullivan who was killed at Graniteville greatly shocked the many Lowell friends of the young man. Sullivan was a former resident of this city where he spent most of his early days. He resided in Salem street about 16 years ago, when he went to Graniteville. He was about 28 years old and leaves besides a widow and two children, a sister and mother, both of whom reside in Graniteville and a brother Daniel, who resides on Cross street, this city.

Sullivan was foreman of the job on which the men were working at the time of the accident. He was one of the foremost citizens of the town. Sullivan's father was also the victim of an accident, having been killed by a horse about 12 years ago.

The body of Louis Caza, the young French-American who was killed at Graniteville yesterday was last night removed to this city by Undertaker Archambault who left for that place in company with the brother of the unfortunate man soon after the news of the sad accident reached the latter. The victim was 28 years old, a stone mason by trade and was unmarried. He was practically a native of this city, residing here nearly all his life. He lived at 737 Aiken street with his mother and brother Antoine, besides whom he leaves three other brothers, John of 121 Willie street this city, Joseph of Acholet, R. I., and Charles of Fall River; also a sister, Miss Marie of St. Anserset, Canada. The remains have been taken to the home of John Caza on Willie street, whence the funeral will take place.

The funeral services of Jeremiah Sullivan will be held tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock at St. Catherine's church. Rev. John J. Shaw will celebrate the mass and the bearers will be as follows: Joseph Wall, Frank L. Furbush, James O'Brien, William Wall, Henry J. Healy, and Joseph Johnson of Lowell.

The funeral of Louis Caza will take place tomorrow morning from St. Jean Baptiste church at 9 o'clock.

BURY WIRES

MEETING OF THE COMMITTEE LAST NIGHT.

The committee on electric wires, Aldermen Wilder, McNulty, and Chapin, met last night to discuss the order referred to them by the board of aldermen directing a report at the next meeting of the board upon the feasibility of placing all electric wires underground from City hall to Tower's corner. The committee will report an ordinance to that effect at the meeting of the board next week and the same will be referred to the committee on ordinances and legislation.

ANNUAL OUTING

OF THE BUILDERS' EXCHANGE TODAY.

The Builders are at it today, and when they get at it they do have a great time. This is the day of the annual outing of the Builders' Exchange at Mountain Rock, and after a lunch in their rooms they took the one o'clock special for the scene of the festivities. The outing promises to be one of the most enjoyable of all.

LINCOLN CLUB

TAME ELECTION OF OFFICERS LAST NIGHT.

The election of officers was the only interesting item of business at the regular meeting and that was tame, the following officers being elected without half trying: President, William H. Hounsell; first vice president, Alexander Mack Jr.; second vice president, John S. Stratton; financial secretary, Charles E. Tilton; recording secretary, James McDowell; treasurer, James Grimmell; board of trustees, Charles F. Varnum, Charles W. Bell and Charles C. McCue; auditing committee, John W. Tilton, Charles H. Noble and Chas. W. Bell; warden, John L. Stekelham.

James McDowell who had served for three years as president was tired of the office and retired.

ALL ABOARD! WHAT FOR?

Why the Grand Lawn Party this evening in aid of the Immaculate Conception convent. Where is it? Where is it? Why, it is at the end of the Nesmith street car line, didn't you know that before? No, I did not. Well, then, we will all go. There will be dancing in the evening on an elevated platform, and music will be furnished by the Cadet Band and orchestra. Refreshments of all kinds will be served. In the afternoon there will be all sorts of sports for the children only. All children are invited. Tickets for evening including dancing, 25c. Children's for afternoon only, 10 cents. Remember the date, June 29th, and place. If it is raining, it will be postponed to the following night.

ANOTHER BOUQUET

FOR MISS MACKENZIE OF THIS CITY.

The following notice is taken from the New York Dramatic Mirror:

"A captivating performance was the 'Constance' of May Mackenzie, a most graceful and winsome, comedy and brilliant little artist, whose scenes with the star were among the prettiest bits of ingenue work imaginable." On Friday last, Miss MacKenzie attended the commencement exercises at St. Agnes' convent, New York, as the guest of her uncle, Rev. Thomas Fulcher, D. D., of Bishop Owen's Episcopal church, Albany. At present, Miss Mackenzie is sojourning at Tarrytown, on the Hudson as the guest of Miss Frances Hibbons Heldt of Montana. Previous to her visit to Tarrytown Miss Mackenzie was at Staten Island as the guest of Mrs. J. Whitney King. Miss Mackenzie has several offers for next season which she is considering.

LADIES' HATS FOR SUMMER WEAR

Summer headgear for ladies' wear is certainly more stylish, appropriate, and comfortable this season than ever before, and it's less costly, too, than we've ever known it to be in all the long years of our experience. Our milliners trim more hats now than ever before, and it's all because they do it better and cheaper than others. It's the period between seasons at present, and in order to keep millinery artists at work, we have decided to give Lowell a series of millinery surprises this week. Come in and get our prices.

HEAD & SHAW, "THE MILLINERS,"

CYRUS W. IRISH, Principal of the High School.

HIGH SCHOOL NIGHT.

The laborer is worthy of his hire. But let it not become all nor even the principal part. Much more important than the conception of our work as bringing gain to us is the conception of it as a benefit to others.

"It depends upon ourselves to make our callings noble.

"You are to be the citizens of Lowell, and upon you by virtue of the training you have received, will depend largely its weal or woe. Especially then will depend upon you the condition of its schools. As you have received the best they can give your fellow citizens have a right to look to you for aid and counsel hereafter. There need be no fear that popular support will fail, for the primary and the grammar schools. All the children go to these and all the people recognize their good works. A few comparatively go to the high schools. They are not so widely known. Here is the danger if there be any. Let it be your part to stand by the higher education and to make it manifest that without it the secondary grades cannot be maintained to a proper standard. Let the charities and the social institutions of Lowell also be your care. It is very largely for you to determine whether they shall be kept generous and pure.

"Neither are we to forget that besides our city and our commonwealth our loyal duty belongs to our country. Never in the past has there been more urgent need for the careful consideration and deep devotion of all its people as now. Whether we shall continue to hold the Philippines and the other possessions of the Spanish war or not, it is evident our country has entered upon a new era of its history. Hitherto we have been sufficient unto ourselves and have kept aloof from the controversies of the world. Such isolation no longer is possible. We must bear hereafter our portion of the burden. Your fellow citizens have a right again to look to you for counsel and aid. As educated men and women it is your duty to give them. Do not be afraid to speak what you make think, whether it seems to be in accord with popular notions or not. And above all do not face the future in any spirit of pessimism, for there is one thing lower than a moral cowardice; that is the attitude of the grumbler who everywhere proclaims that all things go bad and yet never lends a hand to put them right.

"Many good citizens agree that these things are most desirable and ought to be attained but are discouraged by the political outlook and therefore have little confidence in their accomplishment. But they can find in the worst governed cities and states many instances of upright, faithful, generous and noble men. The politician and office seeker who serve only themselves will go to the wall in favor of the men who offer services for society. We have yet to require of our political leaders that they shall be brave enough to stand alone and to say No! to the projects of avarice or selfish ambition. If, in the old times, men despised the physical coward, so in the future moral cowardice will not be respected. If the strong man, afraid to use his strength when it is needed, is the worst sort of a coward, we shall not respect the man whose money power or selfish greed of gain or place takes away his manly independence and reduces him to the sneak. Nothing in history is more interesting or encouraging than to see how by inexorable justice every man goes to his own place.

"Men lightly think that the world worships brains, smartness and popularity, but this is not so. We always are trying experiments and there is the hope ever present behind the successful man that use and service will appear to justify his notoriety. No one envies the success of a bank burglar who escapes with his plunder. It is the success attained a hundred years ago by pirates and robbers. We must trust the people and remember that it is always safe to appeal not to their prejudices but to their sound judgment and good sense. Such confidence will be a sufficient support of an active and progressive democracy."

TWO PRESENTATIONS.

After the address, two very interesting presentations followed by Carl D. Buell, on behalf of the class of '89 and Samuel Fay Barrows, of the class of '99, each presenting the school with a large picture to be hung in the school hall. Mr. Barrows made an appropriate speech in presenting the picture to the High school.

"If the representation of any place can have power to inspire and uplift certainly it is this. Gentlemen of the committee, in behalf of the class of '99 I present to the Lowell High school as a token of our gratitude for the patience and kindness with which it has guided our youth and for the labor which it has expended in our behalf, a picture of the Roman Forum."

Mr. Frank K. Stearns of the school board accepted the gifts in behalf of the school.

"Discipline" was the subject of the valedictory delivered by John Jacob Rogers and it was undoubtedly one of the finest efforts ever heard at a High school graduation. The physical discipline which makes mental discipline possible and the mental discipline which makes the successful man, were most ably treated by the young valedictorian and he concluded his remarks to his classmates in the following beautiful lines:

"Together still
We've journeyed up the rough and toilsome hill.
Now, in the glory of this summer day,
We part, and each one goes his different way.
The way at times may dark and weary seem,
No ray of sunshine on our path may gleam,
But still, with honest purpose, toil we on.
And if our steps be upward, straight and true,
Far in the east a golden light shall dawn
And the bright smile of heaven come bursting through."

CARNEY MEDAL SCHOLARS.

The chorus sang "To Thee, O Country," and with very brief words, Supt. Arthur K. Whitcomb presented the Carney medals, the highest honor that the school can confer upon its pupils, to the following graduates:

John Jacob Rogers, Robert Faulkner, Richard Mack Lawton, Ella Maude Coffin, Anna Gertrude Riley, Lucy Marion Stevenson.

The following who had attained a rank of 90 or more received honorary mention:

Melvin Guy Rogers, Ralph Melville Bean, Wilfred Joseph Lincourt, Cornelius Anthony Savage, Loueva Maria Blanchard, Alice Lund Livingston, Laura Belle Conant, Mary Alice Maguire, Bertha May Sherburne, Frances W. Dalrymple, Christine Cameron, Harriet M. Emerson, Winnie D. Nelson, Mary L. James, Harriet B. Whitaker, Lillie S. Cutler, Anna G. Thomas, May F. Hadley, Mary Reilly.

Hon. Jeremiah Crowley, in presenting the diplomas, said to the graduates:

"It is a time-honored custom for the mayor to present the diplomas. It has been said tonight that you will meet slander and calumny in the world that you are entering. Set your mark high, and envy, malice slander, and calumny cannot harm you. Mind you that success in life is not attained easily. There is no royal road to fame or riches. You must toil and persevere in any walk of life. Resist temptation, be temperate avoid the glare of the saloon and there is no doubt of your success in the future."

The following are the graduates:

ONE GRAND UNION

Local French-American Benevolent Societies

MAY BE CONSOLIDATED SOON.

There is a movement on foot among the French-American benevolent organizations of this city to amalgamate.

The idea comes from the West, where nearly all the French organizations of a city have come together and formed one grand union. In Lowell there are several French-American societies which are all at present considering the advisability of the project which will be called to the attention of the delegates to a convention which is to be soon held at the call of President Thomas J. Goyette of L'Association Catholique. The date of this meeting of the representatives of the local French-American societies is yet undecided, but will doubtless be held in a short time, the majority of the interested parties, it is said, are in favor of the amalgamation. Should the Central union be elected it is proposed that it be named the "St. Jean Baptiste Society of America."

The idea of the union started forward at the national convention of French-American societies at Chicago in 1893 and was discussed at Holyoke last year. At the latter convention the Lowell delegates were greatly impressed with it.

The work in the interior of St. Joseph's church, which is now being carried on under direction of Contractor Phillias David will be finished about July 17, when the Ladies of St. Anne will begin a novena which will conclude July 26, the feast of their patron saint.

NEW ORDINANCE

Will Soon Govern Awards of City Contracts.

RESULT OF THE SUN'S AGITATION.

All Contracts to be Advertised.

NOTICE TO OWNERS OF UNLICENSED DOGS.

Make up of Fourth of July Parade.

On all sides are heard favorable comments upon Alderman Pierce's order for an ordinance providing for competition in all big city contracts in the future and the ordinance cannot be made operative any too soon to suit every honest taxpayer.

That a condition of affairs existed which allowed a head of a department or city official to give out a contract involving the expenditure of thousands or dollars without any competition or publicity was known only to a small portion of the public and when it became generally known through The Sun's successful agitation for a measure that would prevent snap jobs and contracts, there was much severe criticism of the city government for allowing such a state of affairs to exist.

This deplorable condition is another result of the new city charter which will certainly perpetuate the name of the board of trade if nothing else does. In the old days when committees let out contracts there existed an ordinance which forbade the awarding of contracts over $200 without advertising bids and securing competition. But when the new charter came into effect, it took the power of making contracts from the committees and gave it to the heads of departments and the ordinance governing the committees became inoperative. No ordinance has been ever framed up to the present to take the place of the old one.

The sample ordinance introduced by Alderman Pierce Tuesday night was drafted in a hurry by City Solicitor Qua and is as follows:

Except as hereinafter provided, no contract for the construction, alteration or repair of any sewer, bridge, street way, building or structure, or the construction, manufacture or repair of any article or thing whatsoever, or for the performance of any specific portion of such construction, etc., which shall involve an expenditure of more than $200, shall be entered into by or on behalf of the city of Lowell, or be valid and binding upon the city, unless the officer or officers authorized by law to make such contract on behalf of the city, shall, at least two weeks prior to the date of the execution of such contract, give notice by public advertisement, in one or more newspapers, published in said Lowell, that it is the intention of such officer or officers, to make such contract and call for sealed proposals for the performance of the same, stating in said advertisement the limit of time within which such proposals will be received or unless the mayor shall before approving such contract certify in writing thereon, that in his opinion such notice and call were inexpedient and not for the best interest of the city.

The above doesn't quite suit either City Solicitor Qua or Alderman Petree and will be perfected before the next meeting.

The city clerk is out with an edict to the owners of unlicensed dogs and if you receive one you had better go down and settle lest some municipal Snarleyyow come along and "pinch" your pup or you.

The notice to dog owners reads as follows:

Dear Sir:

Your name appears upon the list of owners of keepers of dogs transmitted to this office by the Board of Assessors of Taxes. Your attention is called to the following extracts from the Public Statute:

Chap 102. Sec. 80.—"Every owner or keeper of a dog three months old or over, shall annually, on or before the thirtieth day of April, cause it to be registered, numbered, described and licensed for one year from the first day of the ensuing May, in the office of the clerk of the city wherein said dog is kept."

Sec. 87. "Whoever keeps a dog contrary to the provisions of this chapter shall forfeit fifteen dollars."

Sec. 90. "The mayor of each city and the chairman of the selectmen of each town, shall annually, within ten days from the first day of July, issue a warrant to one or more police officers or constables, directing them to proceed forthwith to kill or cause to be killed, all dogs within such city or town not licensed or collared according to the provisions of this chapter and to enter complaint against the owners or keepers thereof; and any person may and every police officer and constable shall, kill or cause to be killed, all such dogs whenever and wherever found."

CHAPTER 292. ACTS OF 1887.

"Any owner or keeper of a dog not duly licensed which becomes three months old after the thirtieth day of April in any year, shall, when it is three months old, cause it to be registered and licensed until the first day of the ensuing May."

You are hereby notified that warrants have been issued for proceeding against such dogs and the owners thereof as required by Section 91, Chapter 102 of the Public Statutes.

GIRARD P. DADMAN, City Clerk.

By tomorrow the Fourth of July tickets will be out and then the lives of the members of the committee will be made miserable. Sec. Crowley's job will be no sinecure for the ensuing several days, for the secretary is always landed first.

The makeup of the parade, on the reports made up to date, will be as follows:

Military division:
Company C, Sixth regiment.
Company G, Sixth regiment.
Company M, Ninth regiment.
Battalion High School Cadets.

NOT A GAME OF CHANCE.

Advertising is not a game of chance. It is a game of skill. The skill in advertising is to prepare good, attractive and truthful advertisements, and then place them where they will receive the widest publicity, for the least money.

This can be done only by using the papers with the largest circulation, in the field you wish to cover.

The Sun has a larger circulation than any two other papers in Lowell.

It is in every way

The garbage contract is ready for the mayor's signature. Will he sign it, or refuse to sign it? The masses are opposed to the contract. But of late, the interests of the masses have no weight with the mayor. Were it otherwise he would not have signed away $60,000 for smooth-paving without competition.

The decision of Judge Bond that citizens of Lowell have a right to manufacture native wines implies also the right to sell native wines. It is expected that a number of parties will embark in this industry, but those who imagine that they can run a speakeasy under the guise of a native wine manufactory will soon find their mistake.

The board of aldermen has voted to give the city laborers a half holiday on Saturday. For some time past, it has been asserted that this could not be done legally. If the city council wishes to give the city laborers a half holiday on Saturdays, there is no law which can prevent them. They can pay the city laborers an entire day's pay for half a day if they see fit, or they can decide that six hours' labor will constitute a day's work on Saturday, which would serve the same purpose. It would be just as well to grant the half holiday without any equivocation, because there is not much work done Saturday afternoon whether the laborers are supposed to work or not.

THE LIFE SENTENCES.

The life sentences imposed upon the two Vaughns and Dowd and Logue may be considered severe, but it is simply the extreme penalty of the law for the offences committed. The Vaughns went out with the intention of burglary, but well armed, so that in case of detection they would be able to make their escape. For the elder Vaughn, there is no sympathy, but for his younger brother, apparently led unsuspectingly into the crime, the sentence is very severe. As for Dowd and Logue, their crime was in reality more cold-blooded and therefore worse in the sight of the law than that of the Vaughns. If they did as Mr. Cover testified, they had fully determined to knock Mr. Cover senseless, perhaps to kill him outright and take whatever money they could find. They committed the assault but did not succeed in their scheme of robbery. The evidence against them rests wholly upon Mr. Cover's identification, and if he is mistaken, then the men have been wrongly convicted to serve life sentences at hard labor.

REMEDY FOR THE SMOOTH-PAVING JOBBERY.

It is gratifying to The Sun to learn that the smooth-paving abuses at city hall are likely to bring about an effective remedy. At the meeting of the aldermen on Tuesday night, Alderman Peirce introduced an ordinance providing for square and open competition in all contracts for labor and construction amounting to $100 which means that bids shall be called for and the contract given to the lowest bidder other things being equal. This will be aneffective remedy against any periodical raid upon the treasury such as has been made this year when $60,000 were voted away for smooth paving without calling for bids. Those who are in the habit of doing work for the city understand very thoroughly what it means to do a job without competition. It is the only kind of a city job which is worth getting, because when work is thrown open to competition, the bidding is so close that as a rule, the party who gets the contract has a very small margin of profit. This is as it should be, but it is not the manner in which the smooth-paving contracts have been awarded to Robert E. Crowley this year.

The Sun advocated a change in the city charter providing against the award of such contracts without throwing the work open to competition, but it appears that a well drawn ordinance such as that proposed by Alderman Peirce will serve the purpose equally as well, and therefore, we hope to see such an ordinance passed without delay so that no more smooth paving contracts can be given to the Boston Paving company at exorbitant prices.

THE TRUSTS AN ISSUE.

Attorney-General Griggs, who has been the defender of the trusts on the ground that there is no law to reach them, comes out and asserts that the trust issue is not a political one. On what ground he makes this assertion it is difficult to say, except perhaps he has learned that the republican party would rather have it so. Finding that the democratic party will make the trusts a strong political issue, the republicans thus early are beginning to speak in a perfunctory style against the trusts. The bosses will condemn the trusts on paper, and at the same time throw around them the fostering hand of the law and a protective tariff which, according to some of the greatest trust magnates in the country is the mother of all trusts. The defensive policy of the republican party will be easily seen through, and the efforts of the bosses to cloak the fact that as the republican party fosters the trusts, the trusts in turn furnish the boodle necessary to carry republican campaigns by debauching the voters. The people are beginning to see the light and will have their eyes opened still more next year.

A June bride has discovered two ways of making her wedding remark—attended to the altar by no less than 12 attended to the altar, by no less than 12 bridesmaids, who are to be dressed in costumes of white and apple-green, copied from an old picture; and, secondly, these dainty maidens are to be provided with huge bunches of tall white lilies, in lieu of the regulation shower bouquet or basket of flowers. The lilies, tied with white satin ribbon, will be arranged to almost form arches, and as the young bride enters the church her attendant maids (standing six on either side) will raise their flower wands and form arches through which she will pass.

He followed her into the garden, where
A rose bloomed sweet and red,
And he saw her stand beside it there
And gracefully bend her head;
She kissed the beautiful fragrant rose
And he heard her gentle sigh
Then he followed her upon his toes,
And his heart was beating high.
He stood where the maiden had stood beside
The beautiful blushing rose
And lovingly bent his head and sighed,
And he buried his mouth and nose
Among the petals so sweet, so rare,
That the fair maid's lips had pressed,
But a bumble bee that had just got there
Proceeded to do the rest.

It is said that if anyone causes trouble on a Lowell bound car from Lawrence, the conductor will step up to him, rest his hand on the disturber's shoulder and kindly ask him to be quiet. When Lowell is reached the man gets off, but is immediately taken into custody by the police. If he asks the cause of arrest, and if the policeman is good natured enough to tell, he will be informed he is arrested for disturbance. The prisoner will then wonder how the officer knew he had caused trouble. The secret is that a code of signs has been invented and the conductor marks with chalk on your coat what you have been doing. The policeman sees and understands; you do not see and do not understand. But you are under arrest. Here is another tip. Beware of asking questions of a car conductor going from Lawrence to Lowell. If you hold conversation with him while near the transfer station, and then turn to walk away, you stand a good chance of being arrested as a Lowell drunk. The policeman who are watching there take it for granted that you are drunk, too drunk to ride on the car, and accordingly, too drunk to be at large.

ANNUAL RECITAL

BY PUPILS OF MR. GEORGE F. WILLEY.

At Odd Fellows' Temple last evening, the annual recital of the Lowell Conservatory of Music was held before a very appreciative audience. Mr. Geo. F. Willey, former instructor of music in the public schools, is one of the oldest music teachers in Lowell and has brought many young musicians before the public at his recitals. Those who participated in the program of last evening were all warmly received and given the hearty commendation which their work merited. Diplomas were presented to two pupils by Director George F. Willey, Miss Albertine Boucher and Carrie Haskell Dawson being the recipients of the certificates for their proficiency on the pianoforte.

The exhibition of the pupils was interspersed with readings by Miss Annie Laura Cilley. The participants in the program were:

NO LICENSE

THE POLICE AND THE ENFORCEMENT OF THE LIQUOR LAWS.

That the police are doing their best to enforce the liquor laws no fair minded man can deny. Many voters voted yes last December because they did not believe the laws relative to the liquor traffic would be fairly and fully enforced if the city voted no, they preferring a license law to free rum, the same as we had in 1896. The police and the police commissioners have evidently taken hold of this matter in earnest and as a result there is no free rum in Lowell, not that there is no liquor sold in Lowell today; I do not mean that, but comparatively very little is sold. This is just right. As the people voted, so it was evidently the duty of both commissioners and police to see the law was fairly and fully enforced. That they are faithfully doing this our streets and the records of the police court show, for where before the 1st of May many drunken men and women could be met on the streets and on the electric cars now no such sights are seen. That the landlords' rent and the grocery bills are much more promptly paid is also very true. So, in fact, Lowell can say everything is doing well here under no license and if the next 10 months shall show up as well as the last two have, it's quite certain that the city votes yes again. Let the police continue their vigilance and they can rest assurred that the citizens are well pleased and will stand by them in their efforts to enforce liquor laws. To be sure the prosecution of the Mail was a sad mistake but mistakes, they say, happen in the best regulated families, and probably will not occur again. Let all laws be fully and fairly enforced is the proper thing to do.

DIAMOND DOTTINGS

NOTES OF LOCAL BASE BALLISTS OF INTEREST.

The game Saturday between the Mt. Washington team and the South Ends is causing great interest among the cranks and judging from the fast record of this team it will give the South Ends the best battle yet of any out of town team. Cook who played with the South Ends last Saturday will be with the Mt. Washingtons and play right field. Their pitcher must be a fine one when they play Cook in the field as he pitched nine ball for the South Ends.

Steve Mahoney, who caught several games for the Mathews two years ago is the manager and catcher of the Mt. Washington team, and a fine ball player he is.

The South Ends are out to win the rest of their games and will do their utmost to defeat Mt. Washington on next Saturday. The following players will most likely play in Saturday's game: Conners, and Roach, p; Dailey c; Thorne 1b; McVey, 2b; Reagan, ss; Qualey, lf, Roach 1o, and Kane rf. Game will be called at 3 o'clock.

Pitcher Cook of Dartmouth who played with the South Ends Saturday will oppose the Mathews in their game with the South Ends, July 1.

The next game in the Emerald-South End series will be played Saturday, July 15th. Criticism has been directed against the South End management for not pitching Moore last Saturday. It is said that Moore can blame no one but himself for not playing. His unwarrantable assumption to dictate matters led the management to dispense with his services.

The Mt. Washington team which comes to Lowell next Saturday is fast. Having several ex-New England league players with them they will certainly give the South Ends all they can attend to.

The Fourth of July game between the South Ends and Mathews for a purse of $75 is going to a dandy. Each team is limited to two out-of-town men and it is rumored that the Mathews will have an Eastern league battery.

There is a possibility that the South End-Emerald series will be increased to five games, as the interest is so great that the public desire to see the teams meet oftener than has been arranged for.

Jack Corcoran is playing wonderful ball for Waterbury, Conn. He has caught on with the fans in grand style and has a batting average of over 400.

The South End team has lost several of its best men in consequence of the latter having secured positions with league clubs. The team as it started out at the first of the season was a fine one and is today, but then such men as Flanagan, Merritt and Gallagher are greatly missed from the team.

"Billy" Connors will play with the South Ends in their game with the Mathews, Fourth of July.

It is probable that the next time the Emeralds play the South Ends, they will have on their list "Denny" Murphy of Mt. St. Mary's College and "Bob" Cauley, now with the Brocktons.

"Teddy" Fitz is a steady admirer of the rejuvenated Emeralds. He says they will take the next and if any more are played, all the other games.

TOMORROW AFTERNOON.

I have positively decided to dispose of my real estate on Fulton street without reserve at public auction.

THE ESTATE consists of a two-flat house, and 2700 square feet of land. Each house has five rooms, pantry, water closet, city water and sewerage. Each house is well laid out and arranged, has ample closet room and is in good condition, particularly the upper flat.

The lot has ample yard room for a garden, is fenced and level.

The property is numbered 59 Fulton street. The sale will take place Friday, June 30, 1899, at half past five o'clock in the afternoon. Sale rain or shine. No limit. $1000 can remain on bank mortgage at five per cent. interest. The rental is $15 a month and the flats are always in demand. I never owned a more desirable or more satisfactory parcel of renting property. I sell only for the best of reasons and can conscientiously recommend the estate to the most conservative buyers.

The purchaser must deposit with or secure to the auctioneers $175 as soon as the property is struck off.

A SCHOOL EXHIBIT

Entertained Their Parents and Friends at a Most Interesting Exhibition of a Year's Work in That Well Known Institution—Specimens of All Branches Displayed.

The annual exhibition of the work of the pupils of St. Patrick's parochial school, opened at the academy yesterday and continues today, a large number of proud parents and relatives viewing with great appreciation the fine results attained by their children. The schools of the good Sisters of Notre Dame are noted throughout the country for the completeness of their scope and the ability of their teachers, and St. Patrick's school is among the first of all.

The exhibit at the academy illustrates the studies taught in the different classes, from highest to the entrance class.

The exhibit of the first grade, composed of children from six to eight years of age are specimens of the now popular vertical writing, drawing and color work. The pupils of the next grade contribute specimens of their first writing in ink and drawing with lead pencil. Then there are specimens of sewing and knitting, two branches for which the school is widely noted. In this line the younger pupils are taught to sew with colored thread on white cloth that they may be taught to detect speedily many stitches. Lessons in music are also shown and one of the most interesting features of the exhibit is the following of the needle and music work through the different grades, a most remarkable progress being shown. The theory and practice of music are most strikingly exemplified and the specimens shown are neatness itself.

In the needle-work line the pupil advances from plain stitching and knitting through fancy work and dress-making, most desirable studies for young girls.

The art of map drawing which makes the study of geography more comprehensive, and the knowledge obtained more easily retained, begins in an early grade and continues to a finished stage.

The sixth grade presents the first specimen of book-keeping, and the illustration show that the graduate pupils of St. Patrick's is not only proficient in the fundamental theories of this most practicable branch of study, but is ever familiar with its higher and more difficult forms, even to banking.

Work in algebra, physical geography, history, literature and astronomy contributes no mean portion of the variety of exhibits and particularly fine among these are the exhibits of literary and historical work. Essays on and criticisms of different standard authors, each headed with a picture of the celebrity, discussed and a perusal of them shows the young essayists have not only given thought to their subjects, but are possessed of a style of composition seldom attained, except in institutions of the higher education. The historical papers are most striking for their up-to-dateness and some of the papers on the Spanish-American war would do credit to much older historians. In this department, too, on a large easel is a picture of Admiral George Dewey. Surrounding it are colored likenesses of Admiral Schley, Admiral Sampson, President McKinley, Secretary of War John D. Long and pictures of various battleships of the navy. Under Dewey's picture is a paper on "Our Navy." Sketches of Dewey, Sampson, Schley, McKinley, and Long are below the portraits, while sketches are given of the battleships.

Nearby is a group of flags of various countries. These are drawn in the correct colors and beneath each flag is a brief historical sketch of the country which it represents. The American flag occupies the centre of the exhibit.

And that discussed branch of learning which some of us can't help designating as a fin-de-siècle fad, the nature study, has found its way into the school, another evidence of the completeness of the curriculum of the school, as is evidenced by the various specimens of leaves, flowers, etc., neatly exhibited. In the higher grades of drawing the pupils exhibit very attractive designs for wall paper, done in colors.

The penmanship which appears more or less in nearly all the exhibits, is noticeable for its legibility and neatness and makes one of the most attractive exhibits of the vertical system to be found in Lowell.

But a scarcity of space prevents longer description of the exhibits, of which much more might be written without exaggeration. The whole is a collection of the work of the pupils done from time to time within the year and is therefor not specially prepared for the occasion. Suffice it to say the pupils are fortunate in having the best kind of teachers, who have co-operated with them in the work of education and return to their parents after the year's work having received as much advancement at St. Patrick's as may be obtained from any of the parishes of the great educational systems.

AGAINST LA BOURGOGNE

MME. RESAL SECURES $20,000 FOR THE LOSS OF HER HUSBAND.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

PARIS, June 29.—The action for damages brought by Mme. Resal, as a result of the loss of her husband by the sinking of the French line steamer La Bourgogne, in collision with the British ship Cromartyshire, July 4, 1898, off Sable island, N. S., has resulted in a verdict against the company of $20,000, the plaintiff at the same time being debarred from claiming any money lost with her husband, which may hereafter be discovered.

The court found the company responsible for the acts of the captain, who was declared to be at fault in not bringing his shop to a standstill after the collision, in losing time in launching the boats, and in not furnishing the passengers with lifebelts.

MESSAGE FROM SEA.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

SEATTLE, Wash., June 29. A bottle containing the following message was picked up on the beach between this city and Tacoma a few days ago and brought to Seattle last night:

"We are sinking in small boats. Patterson, S. S. Pelican."

The message bore no date. Patterson was first officer of the lost steamship Pelican. The message is thought to be a hoax.

HARVARD HONORED

Admiral Sampson, Gen. Wood and Others by Degrees

Pres. Eliot Announced Gifts Amounting to $1,250,000 During the Year—Jules Cambon, French Ambassador to the United States Also Present—Other Features.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

CAMBRIDGE, June 29.—Nine rapid-fire "rahs" for "Dr." Sampson.

Eighteen more for "Dr." Wood.

Harvard rendered its decision yesterday on the controversy as to whom the honors of the Santiago naval battle belonged and "everything came Admiral Sampson's way."

The only hero of commencement day who could claim a louder tribute of acclaim was General Leonard C. Wood, and so demonstrative did the scene in Memorial hall become at one time that the Rough Rider who never quailed from Mauser bullets or Cuban sanitation problems blushed with embarrassment and seemed fearful of raising his eyes from the strawberries piled in front of him as he delivered his address.

M. Jules Martin Cambon, the French ambassador, was another lion of the day who, created a doctor of laws in the morning, returned thanks in his native tongue at the banquet, speaking in French at the suggestion of the toastmaster, who assured him the graduates would understand him just as plainly as though he used the classical tongues.

Harvard did the graceful thing toward Yale by creating her president-elect, Arthur Twining Hadley, a doctor of laws; but he was unable to be present to respond for himself and the "Eli's."

THE GRADUATES DINNER.

The "graduates' dinner" in Memorial Hall was the crowning event of the week to the alumni—to the "old boys" as the poet Holmes styled them—to the "fellows" as Horace Davis, a '49er, addressed them. By classes they had tramped across the campus and under the trees.

Massed in the doorways, out of the rain, the undergraduates cheered class after class as they passed with the blue Harvard "rahs" followed by the year of the class and when some athletic hero of former generations was recognized he was singled out and cheered by name.

The heirs who looked down from the balconies could trace the generations of graduates by signs as unmistakable as those each man wore stencilled with the date of his graduation.

At the right hand of the toastmaster there sat in order, President Eliot, Ambassador Cambon, Alexander Agassiz, General Wood and other recipients of honorary degrees. At the left were Governor Wolcott, Admiral Sampson almost hidden behind a spreading palm, Bishop Lawrence and others, including Lieutenant-Governor Crane.

President Eliot in a speech announced the year's gifts to have amounted to $1,250,000.

A rousing welcome was accorded Admiral Sampson and General Wood when presented as speakers. They spoke upon war matters.

HONORARY DEGREES.

The honorary degrees had been conferred at the commencement exercises in Sanders theatre in the morning, as follows:

DOCTOR OF LAWS.

Jules Cambon, French ambassador to the United States.

Kentaro Kaneko, the distinguished Japanese noble.

William T. Sampson, rear admiral, U. S. N.

Major General Leonard A. Wood, of Rough Rider and Santiago fame.

Edward W. Hooper, formerly treasurer Harvard college.

Arthur T. Hadley, president-elect of Yale.

FATAL ACCIDENT

H. C. Hawthorne Was Instantly Killed

WILLIAM C. GIVAN SERIOUSLY INJURED.

In an Elevator Accident Yesterday.

THE HOISTING CHAIN PARTED

And Loaded Car Crushed Both Men.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

VINEYARD HAVEN, Mass., June 29.—News was received here from Cottage City this morning that Herbert C. Hawthorne was instantly killed and William C. Givan was seriously injured late last night by an elevator in Cornell & Mayhew's grocery store. The two young men, who were employed in the store, were raising heavy freight to the upper store room when the hoisting chain parted. The loaded car crushed both men to the floor, Cawthorn dying instantly. Given sustained several broken bones and numerous severe bruises but it is thought he will recover. Cawthorn was 17 years of age. He was son of Joseph J. Cawthorn, a Cottage street druggist.

DEATH PENALTY

Inflicted Upon a Self Confessed Murderer

JOS. HOLLINGER HANGED TODAY

Killed His Wife by Cutting Her Throat.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

HARRISBURG, Pa., June 29.—Joseph Hollinger, a self confessed murderer, was hanged today in the Dauphin county jail for the murder of his wife. Hollinger went to the gallows without fear and died without a struggle. He was an ignorant farmer about 55 years old and separated from his wife for several months.

Last winter he visited her at the farm of a neighbor and tried to persuade her to return home but she refused. This so enraged him that he knocked her down and then cut her throat with a pocket knife.

KILLED HER HUSBAND.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., June 29.—Mrs. Charles Kopp shot and killed her husband in the parlor of their residence in this city today. The only witness of the tragedy was their 16-year-old daughter. The couple had lived unhappily for some time. Mrs. Kopp was arrested. Jealousy of a woman to whom Kopp is said to have been attentive was the cause of the murder.

SHERIFF BOCHE

Fatally Injured in Battle With Highbinders

GANG OF CHINESE OPEN FIRE

One of the Chinese Was Killed.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

SAN JOSE, Cal., June 29.—In a battle with Highbinders in Chinatown, at midnight, Deputy Sheriff Boche was shot in the side and badly wounded. Sheriff Langford received word that six Highbinders were coming from San Francisco to kill Lee On Peen, president of the Hip Sing Tong, and with several deputies, was on the watch, when a gang of Chinese appeared and opened fire which was returned by the officers. Deputy Boche was hit at the first volley, and it is thought that one of the Chinese was killed, but his body has not been found. Four Highbinders were arrested.

MISS FISHER RECOVERING.

Miss Elva Fisher, for a long time a telephone operator at the Lowell Telephone Exchange, who has been seriously ill for several months at Princeton, Me., has so far recovered as to be able to leave for the seashore early next month. She is not forgotten by her former associates in the telephone office who from time to time send her flowers, magazines and many little tokens of affection which help to make life cheerful and show the recipient that though she is "far to sight, still to the memory dear." Miss Fisher while in Lowell was one of the most obliging and courteous of telephone operators and it is hoped by her legion of friends that before the snow flies her cheerful voice will again be heard saying: "What number, please?" and "Hello."

GLORIA

IS NOT A MEDICINE

A nice new woman often said
She wished the horrid men all dead,
She drank some GLORIA, then changed her mind,
Same as some other womankind.
And immediately published a personal ad.
For any old man that can be had.
Friends met with her and drank GLORIA there,
And voted the wicked men to spare;
All suggested the ad. to increase
Till everyone had a man apiece.
Then all drink GLORIA often as you can,
For it raises the value of fallen man.

HARVARD-YALE

Men Who Will Row in Big Race

EIGHTS ARE WELL BALANCED

Crews of Strong Young Men.

WILL STRUGGLE FOR SUPREMACY.

Contest Slated for 5.30 This Evening.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 29—This is regatta day. Harvard and Yale will introduce a novelty in the racing line in today's events. Heretofore, the custom has prevailed to hold the contests on different dates. This year, the freshmen eight, the four-oar crews and the Varsity eights will all settle their contests on the same day. Of course, the Varsity race is the big one and it is slated for 5.30 this afternoon. Below is given the make-up of the big crews:

NEW HAVEN, Con. June 29—The Yale eighth of this year is made up of well tried material, only two of the men, Neidecken, No. 7 and Brown, No. 5, being without previous varsity crew experience. Both, however, rowed with freshman crews, Brown having been captain of last year's eight. Of the other six men in the Varsity boat, two Williams, stroke and Greenleaf, bow, have rowed only one year previous with the big crew. The remainder have not only been among the Varsity men before, but also rowed in their class on the Freshman crew.

The statistics of the crew are as follows: W. B. Williams, stroke oar, is a member of the class of 1900. He came to Yale from De Lancey school. His home is at Haverford, Pa. He weighs 160 pounds, is 5 feet, 10 inches in height and 20 years of age. He was stroke of last year's Varsity crew and he also stroked the freshman crew.

J. H. Neidecken also in the class of 1900, he is No. 7 in the Varsity boat. He rowed No. 6 last year and No. 7 on the freshman crew. He is 21 years old, 6 feet, 1 1-2 inches in height and weighs 170 pounds. He prepared at St. Paul's school. Neidecken comes from Milwaukee.

Capt. Fred W. Allen, No. 6, rowed in the same position in the '97 and '98 Varsity boat. He weighs 180 pounds, is 21 years of age and 6 feet tall. He comes from Walpole, Mass., and he fitted at Andover Academy and will graduate next year.

W. Gordon Brown, who was captain of last year's freshman crew, rows No. 5. He is the heaviest man in the boat, weighing 190 pounds. He also is the tallest man in the boat, his height being 6 feet and 3 inches. He is 19 years of age. Brown's home is at Flushing, L. I.. He prepared at Gordon school. He is in the class of 1901.

R. P. Flint, '99 S. of Los Angeles, Cal., rows No. 4, which position also he he rowed on last year's Varsity crew and on the 1900 class crew. He prepared at Lawrenceville. His weight is 170 pounds, age, 22, height, 6 feet.

W. E. S. Griswold was No. 7 of the '97 University crew and he also rowed on the '96 freshman crew. He is No. 3 of this year's eight. He weighs 178 pounds, is 6 feet, 1 1-2 inches in height and 22 years of age. His home is at Erie, Pa. He prepared at Black Hall school and is a member of the Class of '99.

H. P. Wickes, No. 2, has had two year's experience at that position, having rowed there on last year's big crew and also on the 1900 freshman. He fitted at Andover and comes from New York City. He is a member of the class of 1900, is 20 years of age and 5 feet, 10 1-2 inches in height.

J. C. Greenleaf, '99, bow oar, was No. 7 on last year's University crew. He is 6 feet in height, 20 years of age and weighs 170 pounds. He came from Lawrence, N. Y. and fitted at Westminster school.

The substitutes, comprising the four oared crew include two previous Varsity crew men, Brock and Greenway, Cross, who was a substitute on last year's big crew and Mitchell of last year's freshman crew.

J. P. Brock, '99 comes from Lebanon, Pa. He rowed on No. 3 last year's Varsity crew and was captain of his freshman eight. He prepared at St. Paul's school. He is 20 years of age, weighs 175 pounds and is 5 feet 10 inches in height.

P. L. Mitchell rowed No. 7 on last year's freshman crew. He comes from Cincinnati and prepared at a university school. He is a member of the class of 1901, 19 years old, weight 165, height, 5 feet 11 inches.

J. C. Greenway rowed No. 4 on the '97 Varsity crew and was a substitute last year. He is a member of the class of 1900 and his home is home is at Hot Springs, Ark. He prepared at Andover. He is 22 years of age, weighs 158 height, 6 feet.

J. W. Cross was No. 5 on his freshman crew and a substitute on last year's Varsity eight. He prepared at Groton school and will graduate next year. He comes from New York. He is 21 years old, weighs 151 and is 6 feet in height.

THE HARVARD CREW.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 18—The Harvard Varsity crew of this year is made up of men who have had much rowing experience, although only two of them, Capt. Higginson and Harding, the bow oar, have been members of previous varsity eights. Higginson was No. 4 and Harding was No. 5 in last year's big crew, Sheafe No. 7, Bancroft No. 6, Wood No. 3 and Evans No. 2. All have had training on Weld crews, the prolific source of nearly all Harvard rowing material. Lawrence and Tilton were No. 5 and No. 4 respectively, have had good training with their class crews.

A summary of the varsity crew follows:

Francis Leo Higginson, Jr., 1900 of Boston, stroke and captain, prepared for college at Groton, where he captained one of the school crews. He was captain of his Freshman crew, rowing No. 6, and stroked the winning class crew in his Sophomore year. He rowed No. 4 in the varsity last year and No. 7 in the winning Junior class crew this spring. Age, 21; height, 6 ft. 1 inch; weight, 161 pounds.

Charles Minot Sheafe, 1 law, No7, of Seattle, Washington, prepared in Seattle, where he rowed on an athletic club crew. He rowed on the Weld crews last year and stroked the winning Law School Weld this spring. Age, 24; height, 6 ft 1 inch; weight, 169 pounds.

Hugh Bancroft, 1 Law, No. 6, of Cambridge, prepared at the Cambridge Latin School. He rowed 5 on the '98 class-crew in his senior year and 6 on the first Weld this spring. Age, 19; height, 6 ft. 2 1-2 inches, weight, 178 pounds.

James Lawrence, Jr., 1901, No. 5, comes from Groton, where he fitted for college. He has rowed on his class crew for two years, being captain this spring. Age, 21; height, 6 feet 2 inches; weight, 173 pounds.

Hewell Whiting Tilton, 1900, No. 4 of Cambridge, prepared at the Cambridge Latin School. He rowed No. 4 on his freshman crew and at No. 6 on his class crew this spring. Age, 20; height, 6 feet, 2 1-4 inches; weight, 177 pounds.

Clement Biddle Wood, 1 Law, No. 3, prepared at the DeLancel school, Philladelphia. During his last two years at college he rowed on the Weld Senior crew, and this spring he rowed No. 6 on the victorious Law school eight. Age, 23; height, 5 feet, 10 inches; weight, 174 pounds.

Dwight Durkee Evans, '01, No. 2, comes from St. Louis, where he fitted at Smith Academy. He has rowed two years on the Weld Junior crew, which he stroked this year at the Harlem regatta. Age, 20; height, 5 feet, 11 1-4 inches; weight, 159 pounds.

Charles Lewis Harding, 1900, bow, of Boston, prepared at Hopkinson's school. He stroked his Weld class crew and the Weld Junior crew in his sophomore year, and rowed at No. 5 on last year's varsity boat. Age, 20; height, 5 feet, 9 inches; weight, 164 pounds.

Lawrence Endicott, '01, substitute, of Boston, prepared at Noble's school and rowed on the B. A. A. Junior crew. He has rowed on his class crew for two years. Age, 20; height, 5 feet, 9 inches; weight, 150 pounds.

The averages of the crew as given above are as follows:

Age, 20 years, 3 months; height, 5 feet, 11 inches; weight, 165 pounds.

JUNE WEDDINGS

Many Couples Launched on Matrimonial Sea

THE STORMY NIGHT WAS DISCOURAGING

But Did Not Prevent the Work of Wedlock

There was a large number of weddings last night despite the rain. For an evening in June the weather was remarkably chill and dispiriting but it did not damp the ardor of the happy couples that had arranged to be united for better or for worse. The principal weddings were the following:

GALLIVAN—STATEN.

A nuptial mass was celebrated by Rev. W. George Mullin at St. Peter's church yesterday morning, the contracting parties being Patrick Gallivan of Williamstown, New Brunswick, and Miss Annie G. Staten of Lowell. The marriage ceremony was performed by the celebrant of the mass. Miss Lucy Staten, a sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and the best man was Richard Gallivan of Boston, a brother of the groom.

ROSCOE—IRWIN.

A very pretty wedding occurred yesterday afternoon at St. Peter's parochial residence, the contracting parties being Mr. Frank Roscoe, a popular young man of Belvidere, and Miss Nellie Irwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wayman of No. 17 Pearl street, a highly esteemed young lady of this parish. The bride was handsomely gowned in white organdie, and carried bride roses. She was attended by her cousin, Miss Sarah A. Townsend, who was gowned in figured organdie over Nile green silk, and carried pink roses. Mr. Frank Dockett was best man. Miss Mary Wayman was maid of honor. Rev. W. George Mullin performed the ceremony. The happy couple received many beautiful presents. Among them were the following: Chamber set, four rugs, water set and purse of money from the bride's mother, Mrs. Wayman; pair of blankets and purse of money from the bridegroom's parents; dinner set of 156 pieces from the bride's cousin, Mr. Charles F Townsend; pair of blankets, the bride's aunt, Mrs. Townsend; linen from Miss Sarah Townsend; cut glass fruit dish, Miss Mary Wayman; lamp, Miss Mary Roscoe; toilet set, Mrs. Hobart, Nashua, N. H.; wine set, Mr. and Mrs. Belanger; silver berry spoon, Miss Belanger; wine set and a smoking set, Miss Nellie Fitzgerald; silver spoons, Miss Kate and Thomas Fitzgerald; oak rocker, Mr. and Mrs. McCarthy; cut glass berry set, Mr. and Mrs. Coury; wine set, Mr. and Mrs. Mercier; picture, Mr. Thos. Gray, comforter, Mrs. Thos. Gray; cut glass fruit dish, Miss Sadie Quinlan; berry set, Mr. and Mrs. Belanger; lace draperies and table linen, Miss Mora Flynn; table linen, Mary Flanagan; curtains and table linen, Mrs. Goldenberg; cut glass and china, K. Townsend fancy brush, Mr. Joe Quinlan, Portsmouth, N. H.; spread, Mr. Fred Donnelly; glass dishes, Mary Flannery; marble clock and mirror, Mr. Chas. Wayman. The happy couple left on the 5.22 train for New York and other points. They will be at home after September 1st, '99.

BEEDE—DREW.

June 28 of this year will be remembered by many as the banner day of weddings in this city but among all the nuptial events of yesterday afternoon and evening which included in their principals, persons of nearly everyclass and condition none was happier or more brilliant than that of Mr. Fred M. Beede and Miss Hilda Lee Drew both of whom are well known and most estimable young residents of this city, who were united last evening by Rev. C. E. Fisher of the First Universalist church. The Episcopal double ring service was used.

The bride approached the altar upon the arm of her brother, Mr. Nathaniel Drew. They were awaited in the parlor by the groom and his best man, Mr. James H. Beede. The bridesmaids were Misses Cora Littlehale of Tyngsboro, Ella Kaler of Nashua, Katherine Bulkeley of Lawrence and Corinne Underhill of Boston. They were attired in blue and pink and wore short veils caught with solid gold brooches with amethysts, the gift of the bride. The flower girl was Gertrude Lane and the bearers of the rings was little Julia Burke. Both of the little girls were dressed in white.

The maid of honor, Miss Bessie Bulkeley, wore blue silk.

The ushers were Mr. Eugene G. Russell, Mr. Hawthorne Drew, Dr. Edward L. Farrington, Mr. Joseph Burns and Mr. James Wright, all of this city. The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. James H. Beede. The groom's favors to his ushers and best man were stick pins, crescents of pearls. The bride was assisted in receiving by her mother Dr. Drew, the groom's mother, Mrs. S. L. Beede, the groom's sister, Mrs. Eugene G. Russell and Mrs. William S. Butler of Boston, together with the bridesmaids and maid of honor.

A grand reception followed the ceremony. During the evening the happy couple left on a wedding tour. They are the recipients of a large collection of costly gifts. Mrs. Dr. Drew mother of the bride, presented them with a check and the gift of the groom's mother was a Haviland china tea set.

ILSLEY—CORLISS.

Mr. Alden B. Ilsley and Miss Lilla L. Corliss were married yesterday afternoon at the home of Rev. C. E. Fisher, 165 Branch street. The best man is a clerk of the city engineer's office and the bride, a former employe of the Hood company. The wedding was a quiet one and after the ceremony they left on a wedding tour which included the Hudson river district.

STUBBS—SUGDEN.

Mr. John Wiley Stubbs of Cambridge and Miss Amy Sugden of Lowell were united in marriage on Wednesday morning, June 28th, at 10 o'clock by Rev. George F. Kenngott at his residence, 296 Liberty street. They will make their home in Cambridge.

MANNING—HEALEY.

Mr. Daniel Manning and Miss Agnes F. Healey were united in marriage yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the parochial residence of St. Peter's parish. The contracting parties are both well known and esteemed. They were attended by Albert Weston and Miss Agatha Healey. Rev. M. Ronan performed the ceremony. The wedding was private. After the ceremony supper was served to relatives at the home of the bride's parents, 68 Tyler street. Mr. and Mrs. Manning then left on their wedding tour.

BEATTY—CLUNE.

Mr. John J. Beatty and Miss Nellie Clune approached Hymen's altar last evening. The former is the well known and popular treasurer of the Burke Temperance Institute. The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. W. George Mullin at 5.15 o'clock last evening at the parochial resident of St. Peter's church. The bride was attended by his sister, Miss Elizabeth Clune and John White was best man. A reception was attended by many out-of-town friends at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Adam Graves, 39 Lawrence avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Beatty left on a late train for an extended wedding tour. They were the recipients of numerous presents. They will be at home to their friends at 12 Ross avenue, in Pawtucketville, after July 25.

McCARTHY—HEALEY.

The marriage of Mr. Robert F. McCarthy and Miss Ruby A. Healey, both of Graniteville, took place at North Chelmsford parsonage yesterday afternoon, Rev. John J. Shaw officiating. Mr. Frank Healey, a brother of the bride was best man and Miss Katherine Harrington was bridesmaid. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. McCarthy left on a honeymoon to be spent in Boston and vicinity. They received many presents. The happy couple are well known in Lowell.

The bride was formerly of Lowell and has recently been the first assistant in the high school at Hudson, Mass.

NOT VERACIOUS.

The Kicker—Don't you see that sign, "No Smoking Here?"
The Kicked—Yes, it isn't strictly truthful, though. I'm smoking, you know.

FUNERALS.

KNOX—The funeral of Annette Clare Knox was held yesterday afternoon. Prayers were held at the house on Middlesex street and services were held at the Branch Street tabernacle at 2 o'clock. Rev. Asa R. Dilts officiated and appropriate selections were sung by Mrs. C. W. Clark, Miss Barclay, D. A. Floyd and Mr. Midgeley. The bearers were Messrs. D. A. Floyd, Midgeley, Pickering and Stephens. Interment was in the Edson cemetery, under the direction of J. A. Weinbeck.

HASTINGS—The funeral services of Angelina Hastings will take place Saturday afternoon at two o'clock from her late home, 1055 Bridge street. Friends invited.

FOR CONGRESS

PICKED FOR ELECTION BY ILLINOIS DEMOCRATS.

The Rev. Father George D. Heldmann, who has been picked out by the democrats of the Second Illinois district as the only man who can beat Congressman Lorimer, is pastor of St. Paul's Roman Catholic church, Chicago. His acceptance of the nomination waits on the consent of Archbishop Feehan. He was born in 1844 in Chicago, educated for the priesthood at St. Mary's Seminary and has been parish priest at St. Paul's since 1888. He has done much to build up the parish, built a new church and several parish buildings. He has a strong hold on the hearts of his parishioners, is of German extraction, and was one of the chairmen of the mass meeting in protest against a British-American alliance. It is a strong German district with a big republican majority to overcome. Says Father Heldman: "I have always been a democrat, and there is no law, ecclestical or civil, which prevents the election of a Catholic priest to the office of congressman.

"It is not of my own volition I may enter the race for a seat in the United States congress," he says. "All creeds and denominations, irrespective of party, are urging me to make the race. I have paid no serious attention to their appeals, but the movement is spreading. I shall allow the thing to develop itself.

"Sending a priest to the Legislature is not without a precedent. One was elected to the upper house in Detroit not many years ago.

"If I should be elected I do not see how it will interfere with my church duties. A preacher can do his people much good in the national congress—especially the class which is so poorly represented as this district is by Mr. Lorimer. I have always believed that were I in congress, I could do more for the people in this district than has been accomplished before. If it happens that I become a candidate, it will not be as a reformer, but as a representative of the people, to give them what they have been asking for.

"If I shall have to be disconnected from my parish duties, in becoming a candidate, I will drop the proposition, as my life is consecrated to the cause of the church, but I believe I can run without the duties of my parish being interfered with. I shall make no move, however, until I get permission from Archbishop Feehan, who is my superior."

THE TRAMP PROBLEM.

The Wisdom of the Great Captains on the Subject Worth About 30 Cents.

At the request of the general manager of a large railroad company, Mr. Josiah Flynt, the tramp expert, spent two months recently in investigating the company's efforts to put a stop to the stealing of rides. He found that of all the roads in America this one had the worst reputation among the "hoboes." Mr. Flynt says:

"Can the tramps be driven off the railroads? It was to satisfy my own curiosity in regard to this question and to find out how successful my employer, the general manager, had been in his attempt to answer it in the affirmative that I undertook the investigation which I have described. Previous to his efforts to keep tramps off railroads, it had been thought, as he has stated, that it was cheaper to put up with them, nuisance though they were, than to pay the bills which a crusade against them would occasion. It has at last been demonstrated, however, that tramps can be refused free transportation by one of our greatest railroads, with a saving of expense to the company and with great benefit to the community, and the time has come when the public is justified in demanding that all railroads take a similar stand in regard to this evil.

"If all the railroad companies would agree upon concerted action against tramps, in a few years the following very satisfactory results would be achieved: First, very few tramps, if any, would try to beat their way on trains. Second, an appreciable number of them would give up tramping entirely, because their present railroad privileges are to many the main attractions of the life. Third, a few would try to become professional criminals again, partly out of revenge and partly because tramping on the turnpikes would be too disagreeable, and fourth, a large number would take to the highways, where some might be made to do farm work and where all would at least be in touch with farm life. The reader may take exception to the third possibility and think that great harm would come of an increase in the professional criminal class; but, as I have said, tramps are really discouraged criminals, and a return to the old life, of which they made a failure, would land them in the penitentiary.

"It is probably impossible ever entirely to eliminate the vagrant element in a nation's life, and no such hope is held out in connection with the reform advocated in this article. But this much is certain—had all the railroads been as close to tramps during my first excursions into Holland as one of them has recently become, one man at least would not have attempted any free riding and would not have found so many tramps to study."—Century Magazine.

Ruskin Co-operative Colony.

Next August Ruskin will celebrate its fifth anniversary. During these years many members have come and gone. Over 40 have had their money returned to them. We now have on our roll cash shares of stock representing $49,500. The original capital was seventeen thousand and odd dollars, making a total of $65,500 cash. With this sum we have fed, clothed and housed on an average 230 people for five years; have taken care of our sick and buried our dead; have made costly mistakes, one of which made us practically throw away over a year and a half's work (we refer to our first settling at Old Ruskin and moving here); yet with all our blunders, with all our expenses, with the losses and misfortunes that necessarily go with a new organization, the sworn statement of our officers on the 1st of January show that we have property worth $94,000. In the five years every land note was paid before due, and every bill for merchandise has been discounted. These are the facts, and we ask our readers if it is not an infamous outrage that an injunction should be sworn out and a receiver be appointed under such conditions.—Coming Nation.

AT TEWKSBURY

An Extremely Pathetic Case in Almshouse

IMPORTANT MEETING OF CHURCH SOCIETY

Rev. J. Herbert Yeoman Receives a Call.

TO PASTORATE OF CENTRE CHURCH.

Is a Nephew of Undertaker J. B. Currier.

Thomas E. Kelliher of Lynn has been committed to the State Almshouse at Tewksbury. This announcement in itself would not arouse any pity or interest, were it not for the fact that the victim is a well known young man of Lynn, popular among his acquaintances, and at one time had a bright future. Young Kelliher is not only a charge upon the state, but he also suffers from total blindness and a general impairment of health, and those who are acquainted with him state that he probably will not live very long. His case is extremely pathetic, as his present condition is the result of a lovers' quarrel.

Young Kelliher formerly kept company with an attractive looking girl in Lynn, named Susie Denehy. They were very fond of each other, and it was said that the Denehy girl was jealous of him, though it is stated that she had no reason to entertain the slightest suspicion against him. One evening, about 10 o'clock, over a year ago, Kelliher called upon his fiance. Instantly there was a quarrel, it is said, the girl calling him to account for not calling earlier. Explanations followed. The couple were seated in the parlor of the Denehy house, an electric light some distance away furnishing a dim light in the room.

It is said that the girl refused to accept Kelliher's explanation, and instead, seized a bottle of vitriol and dashed it into Kelliher's face. The victim was taken to the hospital, and the assailant to police headquarters.

Kelliher refused to testify against his assailant, though the government prosecuted the charge, and it was finally dropped by the marriage of the pair, the Rev. Fr. Harrington performing the ceremony.

A short time after the wedding Kelliher began acting strangely, and he would probably have been sent to Danvers Insane Asylum then had not his wife interfered.

For some time the couple lived together, but of late Kelliher had been lodging at the police station.

The officials there, finding they could no longer keep him, turned him over to the overseers of the poor, and they transferred him to the state almshouse.

TEWKSBURY TOWN TOPICS.

The Head's Farm base ball team will play the North Tewksbury team at the North Village, July 4.

Miss Nettie Pike and her cousin, Miss Millie Knapp of Piermont, N. H., enjoyed yesterday at Long Pond, sketching the "lily beds," and brought home some very excellent specimens of pond lilies.

Dr. Rumney, of the Tewksbury almshouse, who plays with the almshouse team, was at one time the crack catcher for the Dartmouth University base ball team. He is very popular with the residents of this town, and also well liked by the inmates of the almshouse.

Cannon crackers and firecrackers exploded at different parts of the Centre Village last evening shows that "Young America" is up and doing and getting into training for the glorious Fourth.

Miss Stella Morrill attended the Beede-Drew nuptials at Lowell last evening.

Billy Button has discarded his whiskers, received a Johnny Breed hair cut and is now reported studying ventriloquism.

The Sun is "catching on" in this town. Mr. James Fairgrieve has of late been increasing his order and today orders five additional copies of The Sun to be sent daily to his store. Verily, "Jim" knows a good thing when he gets it, and so do the people of Tewksbury. Bear in mind—politics or no politics—The Sun is a newspaper for the people. Motto: The news all the time—news that is news, at first hands.

Miss Carrie Dawson attended the recital of Mr. George F. Willey's pupils at Lowell last evening.

"Joe" Duffy of the Centre Village is organizing a team which will contain Lowell players, to compete against the almshouse ball team.

Monday evening it was voted by the Congregational church society to extend a call to Rev. J. Herbert Yeoman of Wareham, to become the pastor of the church. The other candidate was Rev. Mr. Washburn of Brookline. The first ballot was an informal one, resulting in 12 votes for Rev. Mr. Yeoman, 3 for Rev. Mr. Washburn and 2 blanks. The formal ballot was 15 votes favoring Mr. Yeoman, and 2 blanks. The letter announcing the decision of the society has been sent Rev. Mr. Yeoman, and a reply is waited. The latter is a nephew of Undertaker J. B. Currier of Lowell and preached at both services at the Centre church Sunday.

During Rev. Mr. Yeoman's stay in Tewksbury over Sunday he was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Enoch Foster.

A pretty June wedding was solemnized Tuesday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. R. Rockwood Rice of Tewksbury, when their daughter, Miss Nellie J. Rice, was united in marriage to Mr. Paul B. Smith of J. A. Weinbeck's undertaking establishment. The ceremony was performed under an arch of evergreen and ferns in the presence of only the immediate relatives and friends of the contracting parties. The bride was attended by Miss Enid F. Tucker and Mr. Ralph P. Burt officiated in the capacity of best man. The bride was charmingly attired in India mulle, and carried bride's roses, while the bridesmaid wore a becoming costume of Swiss mousseline. At the conclusion of the ceremony a wedding supper was served by Alexander Cameron, and an opportunity was given to inspect the many handsome and useful presents. After a brief honeymoon they will take up their residence on Richmond street, where they will be at home to their friends after July 10. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Herbert A. Pasho of Boston.

NORTH CHELMSFORD

RECEPTION TO REV. ROBERT W. DUNBAR AND BRIDE.

The members of the North Chelmsford Congregational church gave a reception to their pastor, Rev. Robert W. Dunbar and his wife last night, Mr. and Mrs. Dunbar having been married a week ago in Portland. There was a large attendance in spite of the unpropitious weather and the affair although as informal as possible, was none the less enjoyable. The platform was covered with potted plants and ferns and this, together with the decorations by the ladies of the church, gave the place an attractive appearance.

The reception was held from 7.30 o'clock to 9. Rev. and Mrs. Dunbar being assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Holt and Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Sheldon. At nine o'clock Mr. Arthur F. Salmon called to order and introduced Mrs. Frederick Malleiieu, who in a neat little speech presented Mr. Dunbar with an easy chair as a gift from the members of the senior Christian Endeavor society. Rev. Mr. Dunbar responded in a few happy words.

Afterwards the young belles served refreshments, the remainder of the evening being devoted to a social time which everybody enjoyed.

The committee to whom is due the credit of making the affair so pleasant was composed of Mrs. Arthur Salmon, Mrs. Charles Scribner, Mrs. Howard Whittemore, Mrs. George Merrill, Mrs. Fred Culley. The young ladies who served refreshments were: Miss Daisy Ripley, Miss Belle Adams, Miss Bessie Moore, Miss Clara Wright, Miss Florence Shaw, Miss Hattie Hall, Miss Bertha Swain, Miss Annie Wright, Miss Mary Brown, Miss Ethel Rangel, Miss Belle Smith, Miss Nellie Truby, Miss Addie Overlock, Miss Addie Hyde and Mrs. Viola Mitchell. The ushers were: Arthur F. Salmon, E. H. Shaw, Preston Piggott, H. C. Trombly, A. C. Mitchell, and Edward Durant. An orchestra of seven pieces under the direction of Mrs. D. E. Dudley gave several pleasant selection during the evening. Pastor Dunbar and wife will reside at the Congregational parsonage on School street. During the past few weeks the exterior of his residence has undergone some repairing and is now in excellent condition.

Four new weaving looms have been added to those already in use by the Success Worsted company. This new increase to those already in use makes seventeen weaving looms that the company will soon have in operation. Mr. Walter A. Leigh, the manager and treasurer of the company, is a well known and popular young man of North Chelmsford.

The combing room base ball team of George C. Moore's mills are anxious to participate in a base ball game with the wool sorting team of the same mill. As there are some good ball players in the two teams a game between them would be quite exciting. Should the wool sorters wish to accept the challenge of the combing room team it is quite possible that the game will be played within two weeks.

The selection of the umpire will be decided by John J. Brennan, manager of the combing room team and John McTague, manager of the wool sorters.

It is expected that there will be another tug of war between the wool carders and wool sorters of George C. Moore's mill. There is a strong rivalry between these two tug-of-war teams and although the wool sorters came out victorious the first time that they met, the carders feel confident that if another tug of war can be arranged before long that they can defeat their strong opponents.

STORES BEING PUT IN.

Several building improvements are being made on Middlesex street. The Glidden block is to have another entrance between the main door and the Traders' bank entrance and further up the street, stores are taking the place of tenements in several places.

HARVARD - YALE

Men Who Will Row in Big Race

EIGHTS ARE WELL BALANCED

Crews of Strong Young Men.

WILL STRUGGLE FOR SUPREMACY.

Contest Slated for 5.30 This Evening.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 29—This is regatta day. Harvard and Yale will introduce a novelty in the racing line in today's events. Heretofore, the custom has prevailed to hold the contests on different dates. This year, the freshmen eight, the four-oar crews and the 'Varsity eights will all settle their contests on the same day. Of course, the Varsity race is the big one and it is slated for 5.30 this afternoon. Below is given the make-up of the big crews:

NEW HAVEN, Conn. June 29—The Yale eighth of this year is made up of well tried material, only two of the men, Neidecken, No. 7 and Brown, No. 5, being without previous varsity crew experience. Both, however, rowed with freshman crews, Brown having been captain of last year's eight. Of the other six men in the Varsity boat, two Williams, stroke and Greenleaf, bow, have rowed only one year previous with the big crew. The remainder have not only been among the Varsity men before, but also rowed in their class on the Freshman crew.

The statistics of the crew are as follows: W. B. Williams, stroke oar, is a member of the class of 1900. He came to Yale from De Lancey school. His home is at Haverford, Pa. He weighs 160 pounds, is 5 feet, 10 inches in height and 20 years of age. He was stroke of last year's Varsity crew and he also stroked the freshman crew.

J. H. Neidecken also in the class of 1900, he is No. 7 in the Varsity boat. He rowed No. 5 last year and No. 7 on the freshman crew. He is 21 years old, 6 feet, 1 1-2 inches in height and weighs 170 pounds. He prepared at St. Paul's school. Neidecken comes from Milwaukee.

Capt. Fred W. Allen, No. 6, rowed in the same position in the '97 and '98 Varsity boat. He weighs 180 pounds, is 21 years of age and 6 feet tall. He comes from Walpole, Mass., and he fitted at Andover Academy and will graduate next year.

W. Gordon Brown, who was captain of last year's freshman crew, rows No. 5. He is the heaviest man in the boat, weighing 190 pounds. He also is the tallest man in the boat, his height being 6 feet and 3 inches. He is 19 years of age. Brown's home is at Flushing, L. I.. He prepared at Gordon school. He is in the class of 1901.

R. P. Flint, '99 S. of Los Angeles, Cal., rows No. 4, which position also he he rowed on last year's Varsity crew and on the 1900 class crew. He prepared at Lawrenceville. His weight is 170 pounds, age, 22, height, 6 feet.

W. E. S. Griswold was No. 7 of the '97 University crew and he also rowed on the '96 freshman crew. He is No. 3 of this year's eight. He weighs 173 pounds, is 6 feet, 1 1-2 inches in height and 22 years of age. His home is at Erie, Pa. He prepared at Black Hall school and is a member of the Class of '99.

H. P. Wickes, No. 2, has had two year's experience at that position, having rowed there on last year's big crew and also on the 1900 freshman. He fitted at Andover and comes from New York City. He is a member of the class of 1900, is 20 years of age and 5 feet, 10 1-2 inches in height.

J. C. Greenleaf, '99, bow oar, was No. 7 on last year's University crew. He is 6 feet in height, 20 years of age and weighs 170 pounds. He came from Lawrence, N. Y. and fitted at Westminister school.

The substitutes, comprising the four oared crew include two preylous Varsity crew men, Brock and Greenway, Cross, who was a substitute on last year's big crew and Mitchell of last year's freshman crew.

J. P. Brock, '99 comes from Lebanon, Pa. He rowed on No. 3 last year's Varsity crew and was captain of his freshman eight. He prepared at St. Paul's school. He is 20 years of age, weighs 175 pounds and is 5 feet 10 inches in height.

P. L. Mitchell rowed No. 7 on last year's freshman crew. He comes from Cincinnati and prepared at a university school. He is a member of the class of 1901, 19 years old, weight 165, height, 6 feet 11 inches.

J. C. Greenway rowed No. 4 on the '97 Varsity crew and was a substitute last year. He is a member of the class of 1900 and his home is home is at Hot Springs, Ark. He prepared at Andover. He is 22 years of age, weighs 158 height, 6 feet.

J. W. Cross was No. 5 on his freshman crew and a substitute on last year's Varsity eight. He prepared at Groton school and will graduate next year. He comes from New York. He is 21 years old, weighs 181 and is 6 feet in height.

THE HARVARD CREW.

By Associated Press to The Sun.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 18—The Harvard Varsity crew of this year is made up of men who have had much rowing experience, although only two of them, Capt. Higginson and Harding, the bow oar, have been members of previous varsity eights. Higginson was No. 4 and Harding was No. 5 in last year's big crew, Shenfe No. 7, Bancroft No. 6, Wood No. 3 and Evans No. 2. All have had training on Weld crews, the prolific source of nearly all Harvard rowing material. Lawrence and Tilton were No. 5 and No. 4 respectively, have had good training with their class crews.

A summary of the varsity crew follows:

Francis Lee Higginson, Jr., 1900 of Boston, stroke and captain, prepared for college at Groton, where he captained one of the school crews. He was captain of his Freshman crew, rowing No. 6, and stroked the winning class crew in his Sophomore year. He rowed No. 4 in the varsity last year and No. 7 in the winning junior class crew this spring. Age, 21; height, 6 ft. 1 inch; weight, 161 pounds.

Charles Minot Sheafe, 1 law, No7, of Seattle, Washington, prepared in Seattle, where he rowed on an athletic club crew. He rowed on the Weld crews last year and stroked the winning Law School Weld this spring. Age, 21; height, 6 ft 4 inch; weight, 169 pounds.

Hugh Bancroft, 1 Law, No. 6, of Cambridge, prepared at the Cambridge Latin School. He rowed 5 on the '98 class crew in his senior year and 6 on the first Weld this spring. Age, 10; height, 6 ft. 2 1-2 inches, weight, 178 pounds.

JUNE WEDDINGS

Many Couples Launched on Matrimonial Sea

THE STORMY NIGHT WAS DISCOURAGING

But Did Not Prevent the Work of Wedlock

There was a large number of weddings last night despite the rain. For an evening in June the weather was remarkably chill and dispiriting but it did not damp the ardor of the happy couples that had arranged to be united for better or for worse. The principal weddings were the following:

GALLIVAN—STATEN.

A nuptial mass was celebrated by Rev. W. George Mullin at St. Peter's church yesterday morning, the contracting parties being Patrick Gallivan of Williamstown, New Brunswick, and Miss Annie G. Staten of Lowell. The marriage ceremony was performed by the celebrant of the mass. Miss Lucy Staten, a sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and the best man was Richard Gallivan of Boston, a brother of the groom.

ROSCOE—IRWIN.

A very pretty wedding occurred yesterday afternoon at St. Peter's parochial residence, the contracting parties being Mr. Frank Roscoe, a popular young man of Belvidere, and Miss Nellie Irwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wayman of No. 17 Pearl street, a highly esteemed young lady of this parish. The bride was handsomely gowned in white organdie, and carried bride roses. She was attended by her cousin, Miss Sarah A. Townsend, who was gowned in figured organdie over Nile green silk, and carried pink roses. Mr. Frank Dockett was best man. Miss Mary Wayman was maid of honor. Rev. W. George Mullin performed the ceremony. The happy couple received many beautiful presents. Among them were the following: Chamber set, four rugs, water set and purse of money from the bride's mother, Mrs. Wayman; pair of blankets and purse of money from the bridegroom's parents; dinner set of 156 pieces from the bride's cousin, Mr. Charles F. Townsend; pair of blankets, the bride's aunt, Mrs. Townsend; linen from Miss Sarah Townsend; cut glass fruit dish, Miss Mary Wayman; lamp, Miss Mary Roscoe; toilet set, Mrs. Hobart, Nashua, N. H.; wine set, Mr. and Mrs. Belanger; silver berry spoon, Miss Belanger; wine set and a smoking set, Miss Nellie Fitzgerald; silver spoons, Miss Kate and Thomas Fitzgerald; oak rocker, Mr. and Mrs. McCarthy; cut glass berry set, Mr. and Mrs. Carey; wine set, Mr. and Mrs. Mercier; picture, Mr. Thos. Gray; comforter, Mrs. Thos. Gray; cut glass fruit dish, Miss Sadie Quinlan; berry set, Mr. and Mrs. Belanger; lace draperies and table linen, Miss Mora Flynn; table linen, Mary Flanagan; curtains and table linen, Mrs. Goldenberg; cut glass and china, K. Townsend fancy brush, Mr. Joe Quinlan, Portsmouth, N. H.; spread, Mr. Fred Donnelly; glass dishes, Mary Flannery; marble clock and mirror, Mr. Chas. Wayman. The happy couple left on the 6.22 train for New York and other points. They will be at home after September 1st, '99.

BEEDE—DREW.

June 28 of this year will be remembered by many as the banner day of weddings in this city but among all the nuptial events of yesterday afternoon and evening which included in their principals, persons of nearly every class and condition none was happier or more brilliant than that of Mr. Fred M. Beede and Miss Hilda Lee Drew both of whom are well known and most estimable young residents of this city, who were united last evening by Rev. C. E. Fisher of the First Universalist church. The Episcopal double ring service was used.

The bride approached the altar upon the arm of her brother, Mr. Nathaniel Drew. They were awaited in the parlor by the groom and his best man, Mr. James H. Beede. The bridesmaids were Misses Cora Littlehale of Tyngsboro, Ella Kaler of Nashua, Katherine Bulkeley of Lawrence and Corinne Underhill of Boston. They were attired in blue and pink and were short veils caught with gold gold brooches with amethysts, the gift of the bride. The flower girl was Gertrude Lane and the bearers of the rings was Belle Julia Burke. Both of the little girls were dressed in white.

The maid of honor, Miss Bessie Bulkeley, wore blue silk.

The ushers were Mr. Eugene G. Russell, Mr. Hawthorne Drew, Dr. Edward L. Farrington, Mr. Joseph Harris and Mr. James Wright, all of this city. The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. James H. Beede. The groom's favors to his ushers and best man were stick pins, crescents of pearls. The bride was assisted in receiving by her mother Dr. Drew, the groom's mother, Mrs. S. L. Beede, the groom's sister, Mrs. Eugene G. Russell and Mrs. William S. Butler of Boston, together with the bridesmaids and maid of honor.

A grand reception followed the ceremony. During the evening the happy couple left on a wedding tour. They are the recipients of a large collection of costly gifts. Mrs. Dr. Drew mother of the bride, presented them with a check and the gift of the groom's mother was a Haviland china tea set.

ILSLEY—CORLISS.

Mr. Alden B. Ilsley and Miss Lilla L. Corliss were married yesterday afternoon at the home of Rev. C. E. Fisher, 165 Branch street. The best man is a clerk of the city engineer's office and the bride, a former employe of the Hood company. The wedding was a quiet one and after the ceremony they left on a wedding tour which included the Hudson river district.

the people in this district than has been accomplished before. If it happens that I become a candidate, it will not be as a reformer, but as a representative of the people, to give them what they have been asking for.

"If I shall have to be disconnected from my parish duties, in becoming a candidate, I will drop the proposition, as my life is consecrated to the cause of the church, but I believe I can run without the duties of my parish being interfered with. I shall make no move, however, until I get permission from Archbishop Feehan, who is my superior."

THE TRAMP PROBLEM.

The Wisdom of the Great Captains on the Subject Worth About 30 Cents.

At the request of the general manager of a large railroad company, Mr. Josiah Flynt, the tramp expert, spent two months recently in investigating the company's efforts to put a stop to the stealing of rides. He found that of all the roads in America this one had the worst reputation among the "hobos." Mr. Flynt says:

"Can the tramps be driven off the railroads? It was to satisfy my own curiosity in regard to this question and to find out how successful my employer, the general manager, had been in his attempt to answer it in the affirmative that I undertook the investigation which I have described. Previous to his efforts to keep tramps off railroads, it had been thought, as he has stated, that it was cheaper to put up with them, nuisance though they were, than to pay the bills which a crusade against them would occasion. It has at last been demonstrated, however, that tramps can be refused free transportation by one of our greatest railroads, with a saving of expense to the company and with great benefit to the community, and the time has come when the public is justified in demanding that all railroads take a similar stand in regard to this evil.

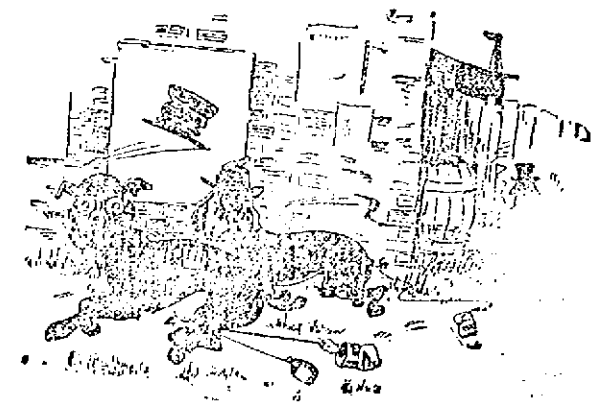

"If all the railroad companies would agree upon concerted action against tramps, in a few years the following very satisfactory results would be achieved: First, very few tramps, if any, would try to beat their way on trains. Second, an appreciable number of them would give up tramping entirely, because their present railroad privileges are to many the main attractions of the life. Third, a few would try to become professional criminals again, partly out of revenge and partly because tramping on the turnpikes would be too disagreeable, and fourth, a large number would take to the highways, where some might be made to do farm work and where all would at least be in touch with farm life. The reader may take exception to the third possibility and think that great harm would come of an increase in the professional criminal class; but, as I have said, tramps are really discouraged criminals, and a return to the old life, of which they made a failure, would land them in the penitentiary.

"It is probably impossible ever entirely to eliminate the vagrant element in a nation's life, and no such hope is held out in connection with the reform advocated in this article. But this much is certain—had all the railroads been as close to tramps during my first excursions into Holland as one of them has recently become, one man at least would not have attempted any free riding and would not have found so many tramps to study."—Century Magazine.

Ruskin Co-operative Colony.

Next August Ruskin will celebrate its fifth anniversary. During these years many members have come and gone. Over 400 have had their money returned to them. We now have on our roll cash shares of stock representing $40,500. The original capital was seventeen thousand and odd dollars, making a total of $60,500 cash. With this sum we have fed, clothed and housed on an average 200 people for five years; have taken care of our sick and buried our dead; have made costly mistakes—one of which made us practically throw away over a year and a half's work (we refer to our first settling at Old Ruskin and moving here); yet with all our blunders, with all our expenses, with the losses and misfortunes that necessarily go with a new organization, the sworn statement of our officers on the 1st of January show that we have property worth $94,000. In the five years every land note was paid before due, and every bill for merchandise has been discounted. These are the facts, and we ask our readers if it is not an infamous outrage that an injunction should be sworn out and a receiver be appointed under such conditions.—Coming Nation.

AT TEWKSBURY

An Extremely Pathetic Case in Almshouse

IMPORTANT MEETING OF CHURCH SOCIETY

Rev. J. Herbert Yeoman Receives a Call.

TO PASTORATE OF CENTRE CHURCH.

Is a Nephew of Undertaker J. B. Currier.

Thomas E. Kelliher of Lynn has been committed to the State Almshouse at Tewksbury. This announcement in itself would not arouse any pity or interest, were it not for the fact that the victim is a well known young man of Lynn, popular among his acquaintances, and at one time had a bright future. Young Kelliher is not only a charge upon the state, but he also suffers from total blindness and a general impairment of health, and those who are acquainted with him state that he probably will not live very long. His case is extremely pathetic, as his present condition is the result of a lovers' quarrel.

Young Kelliher formerly kept company with an attractive looking girl in Lynn, named Susie Denehy. They were very fond of each other, and it was said that the Denehy girl was jealous of him, though it is stated that she had no reason to entertain the slightest suspicion against him. One evening, about 10 o'clock, over a year ago, Kelliher called upon his fiance. Instantly there was a quarrel, it is said, the girl calling him to account for not calling earlier. Explanations followed. The couple were seated in the parlor of the Denehy house, an electric light some distance away furnishing a dim light in the room.

It is said that the girl refused to accept Kelliher's explanation, and instead, seized a bottle of vitriol and dashed it into Kelliher's face. The victim was taken to the hospital, and the assailant to police headquarters.

Kelliher refused to testify against his assailant, though the government prosecuted the charge, and it was finally dropped by the marriage of the pair, the Rev. Fr. Harrington performing the ceremony.

A short time after the wedding Kelliher began acting strangely, and he would probably have been sent to Danvers Insane Asylum then had not his wife interfered.

For some time the couple lived together, but of late Kelliher had been lodging at the police station.

The officials there, finding they could no longer keep him, turned him over to the overseers of the poor, and they transferred him to the state almshouse.

TEWKSBURY TOWN TOPICS.

The Hood's Farm base ball team will play the North Tewksbury team at the North Village, July 4.

Miss Nettie Pike and her cousin, Miss Millie Knapp of Piermont, N. H., enjoyed yesterday at Long Pond, sketching the "lily beds," and brought home some very excellent specimens of pond lilies.

Dr. Ranney, of the Tewksbury almshouse, who plays with the almshouse team, was at one time the crack catcher for the Dartmouth University base ball team. He is very popular with the residents of this town, and also well liked by the inmates of the almshouse.

Cannon crackers and firecrackers exploded at different parts of the Centre Village last evening shows that "Young America" is up and doing and getting into training for the glorious Fourth.

Miss Stella Morrill attended the Beede-Drew nuptials at Lowell last evening.

Billy Button has discarded his whiskers, received a Johnny Breed hair cut and is now reported studying ventriloquism.

The Sun is "catching on" in this town. Mr. James Fairgrieve has of late been increasing his order and today orders five additional copies of The Sun to be sent daily to his store. Verily, "Jim" knows a good thing when he gets it, and so do the people of Tewksbury. Bear in mind—politics or no politics—The Sun is a newspaper for the people. Motto: The news all the time—news that is news, at first hands.

Miss Carrie Dawson attended the recital of Mr. George F. Willey's pupils at Lowell last evening.

"Joe" Duffy of the Centre Village, is organizing a team which will contain Lowell players, to compete against the almshouse ball team.

Monday evening it was voted by the Congregational church society to extend a call to Rev. J. Herbert Yeoman of Wareham, to become the pastor of the church. The other candidate was Rev. Mr. Washburn of Brookline. The first ballot was an informal one, resulting in 12 votes for Rev. Mr. Yeoman, 3 for Rev. Mr. Washburn and 2 blanks. The formal ballot was 15 votes favoring Mr. Yeoman, and 2 blanks. The letter announcing the decision of the society has been sent Rev. Mr. Yeoman and a reply is waited. The latter is a nephew of Undertaker J. B. Currier of Lowell and preached at both services at the Centre church Sunday.

During Rev. Mr. Yeoman's stay in Tewksbury over Sunday he was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Enoch Foster.

A pretty June wedding was solemnized Tuesday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. R. Rockwood Rice of Tewksbury, when their daughter, Miss Nellie J. Rice, was united in marriage to Mr. Paul B. Smith of J. A. Weinbeck's undertaking establishment. The ceremony was performed under an arch of evergreen and ferns in the presence of only the immediate relatives and friends of the contracting parties. The bride was attended by Miss Enid F. Tucker and Mr. Ralph P. Burt officiated in the capacity of best man. The bride was charmingly attired in India mulle, and carried bride's roses, while the bridesmaid wore a becoming costume of Swiss mousseline. At the conclusion of the ceremony a wedding supper was served by Alexander Cameron, and an opportunity was given to inspect the many handsome and useful presents. After a brief honeymoon they will take up their residence on Richmond street, where they will be at home to their friends after July 10. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Herbert A. Pasho of Boston.

NORTH CHELMSFORD

RECEPTION TO REV. ROBERT W. DUNBAR AND BRIDE.

The members of the North Chelmsford Congregational church gave a reception to their pastor, Rev. Robert W. Dunbar and his wife last night, Mr. and Mrs. Dunbar having been married a week ago in Portland. There was a large attendance in spite of the unpropitious weather and the affair although as informal as possible, was none the less enjoyable. The platform was covered with potted plants and ferns and this, together with the decorations by the ladies of the church, gave the place an attractive appearance.

The reception was held from 7.30 o'clock to 9. Rev. and Mrs. Dunbar being assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Holt and Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Sheldon. At nine o'clock Mr. Arthur F. Salmon called to order and introduced Mrs. Frederick Malleffett, who in a neat little speech presented Mr. Dunbar with an easy chair as a gift from the members of the senior Christian Endeavor society. Rev. Mr. Dunbar responded in a few happy words.

Afterwards the young ladies served refreshments, the remainder of the evening being devoted to a social time which everybody enjoyed.

The committee to whom is due the credit of making the affair so pleasant was composed of Mrs. Arthur Salmon, Mrs. Charles Scribner, Mrs. Howard Whittemore, Mrs. George Merrill, Mrs. Fred Culley. The young ladies who served refreshments were: Miss Daisy Ripley, Miss Belle Adams, Miss Bessie Moore, Miss Clara Wright, Miss Florence Shaw, Miss Hattie Hall, Miss Bertha Swain, Miss Annie Wright, Miss Mary Brown, Miss Ethel Rangel, Miss Belle Smith, Miss Nellie Troby, Miss Addie Overlock, Miss Addie Hyde and Mrs. Viola Mitchell. The ushers were: Arthur F. Salmon, E. H. Shaw, Preston Piggott, H. C. Trombly, A. C. Mitchell, and Edward Durant. An orchestra of seven pieces under the direction of Mrs. D. E. Dudley gave several pleasant selections during the evening. Pastor Dunbar and wife will reside at the Congregational parsonage on School street. During the past few weeks the exterior of his residence has undergone some repairing and is now in excellent condition.

Four new weaving looms have been added to those already in use by the Success Worsted company. This new increase to those already in use makes seventeen weaving looms that the company will soon have in operation. Mr. Walter A. Leigh, the manager and treasurer of the company, is a well known and popular young man of North Chelmsford.

The combing room base ball team of George C. Moore's mills are anxious to participate in a base ball game with the wool sorting team of the same mill. As there are some good ball players in the two teams a game between them would be quite exciting. Should the wool sorters wish to accept the challenge of the combing room team it is quite possible that the game will be played within two weeks.

The selection of the umpire will be decided by John J. Brennan, manager of the combing room team and John McTague, manager of the wool sorters.

It is expected that there will be another tug of war between the wool carders and wool sorters of George C. Moore's mill. There is a strong rivalry between these two tug-of-war teams and although the wool sorters came out victorious the first time that they met, the carders feel confident that if another tug of war can be arranged before long that, they can defeat their strong opponents.

STORES BEING PUT IN.

Several building improvements are being made on Middlesex street. The Glidden block is to have another entrance between the main door and the Traders' bank entrance and further up the street, stores are taking the place of tenements in several places.

MOHAIR PLUSH CO.

ADDING ANOTHER NEW BUILDING TO ITS PLANT.

BOXING GOSSIP.

The bill which Manager Desmond will offer at the Nutone club on the night before the Fourth, from present indications will amply make up for the disappointment of the last meeting. Of course, the "yellow" work of Patsy Hennessy at the last meeting was not the fault of the club, but to guard against a repetition of it in the future Manager Desmond states that henceforth he will allow none but boxers who box to appear before the Nutone and will use more than ordinary care in selecting attractions.

The principal attraction of the night before the Fourth will be a 15-round contest, and perhaps 20, between Morris Rosenberg of Boston and John Dinsdale of Worcester, two of the cleverest men in the business. Rosenberg and Dinsdale will undoubtedly put up a good go. They have met some of the best men in the country in their class and are known from one end of the country to the other. There was some dispute as to the referee of the contest, but both men at last are satisfied to have Luke Burke, the referee of the club, officiate.

The preliminaries on this occasion will be of the most interesting kind to Lowell followers of the sport. The first one will be an eight-round go between Billy Gardner, who needs no introduction in this city, and Prof. Gagnon, late manager of the Hudson Athletic club, the meteoric career of which is well remembered. Prof. Gagnon has developed into a boxer within the past year and considers himself able to go up against the redoubtable Gardner. He boxes at 120 pounds and keeps himself in condition all the time. Gagnon resembles Fitzsimmons in the ring, although he boxes somewhat differently. He has not had much of an experience but has had a draw with Billy Chisholm and a draw with another prominent lightweight. Gardner has already posted his guarantee and Gagnon writes The Sun that he will be on hand in a day. Gagnon says he weighs 121 now and never felt better in his life. He is training daily at Hudson, and being under the tutelage of first class boxers, he is improving rapidly every day. While he may not be able to "give the gaff" as well as some, he certainly can take it. Gardner evidently expects a clinch, for he goes up against Kid Lavigne on the Fourth of July evening, the night after taking on Gagnon. Billy's long list of consecutive victories have made him quite confident of his prowess.

It was intended to have Young Sharkey go on with Fitzpatrick of Newton for eight rounds on the night of July 3, and it was thought that everything had been arranged, but Fitzpatrick, who lost once to Sharkey, is a trifle shy about meeting him again and has sent word that he will not go on with Sharkey, but would like to take on Bob Montgomery, the colored boxer, who received a drubbing from George Gardner at Manchester, some months ago. To fill out the program in place of Sharkey and Fitzpatrick, Manager Desmond takes pleasure in announcing that the only two "real thing" boxers of the city, Tom McLaughlin, the Roscommon champion, and John Dion, the pride of the P. A. C., have fixed it up to go 8 rounds again on that night for the purpose of deciding the supremacy and with a good bet on the side.

Since the last meeting, the P. A. C. boys have been guying Dion because he did not make short work of McLaughlin, and as a result John has been training faithfully and will make the Roscommon champion hustle for 8 rounds on that night. McLaughlin on the other hand, can see himself improving every day and while he expected to take on bigger game, he says he is willing to give Dion another show, just to convince him that he is not in his class.

Several prominent boxing managers have written Manager Desmond, asking for opportunities to appear before the club, but Manager Desmond does not give any encouragement to any of them until he has first looked them up. He intends to give nothing but first class, legitimate and orderly exhibitions.

The Falling Leaves Give Warning of Winter

So the falling of the hair tells of the approach of age and declining power.

No matter how barren the tree nor how leafless it may seem, you confidently expect leaves again. And why?

Because there is life at the roots.

So you need not worry about the falling of your hair, the threatened departure of youth and beauty. And why?

Because if there is a spark of life remaining in the roots of the hair will arouse it into healthy activity. The hair ceases to come out: it begins to grow: and the glory of your youth is restored to you.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

We have a book on the Hair and its Diseases. It is free.

The Best Advice Free.

If you do not obtain all the benefits you expected from the use of the Vigor, write the doctor about it. Probably there is some difficulty with your general system which may be easily removed. Address,

PHILIP MURPHY.

MICHAEL REGAN.

SKETCH OF THE ACCIDENT AT THE COAL SHED OF THE LOWELL GAS COMPANY AS DESCRIBED BY AN EYE WITNESS.

TWO WERE KILLED

At the Lowell Gas Works Yesterday Afternoon.

Were Buried Under a Load of Coal Hurled From a Dump Car—Michael Regan and Philip Murphy the Victims.

A sad accident occurred yesterday afternoon at the gas company's works on School street.

A coal car was to be dumped, and after some vain attempts to dump it, it was decided to have the men get into the car and shovel out the coal.

Michael Regan, a strapping big fellow, and Philip Murphy, were selected for the purpose, and after they had shovelled for a while, the car suddenly tipped over, throwing the men underneath, and burying them under the coal. Help was promptly given, but before the unfortunate men could be extracted, Regan was dead and Murphy unconscious. It is doubtful if the latter recovers from his injuries.

Regan resided at 31 D street in Centralville, and Murphy at 43 Wright street, Pawtucketville. The accident caused much excitement around the locality, and soon a large crowd had gathered on the scene.

Later—Murphy died soon after the accident and both bodies were taken charge of by Undertaker Molloy.

The scene of the accident is the large covered coal pocket of the company, which takes up over an acre of ground. It is divided into vaults and will hold 12,000 tons of coal when filled. The coal cars are run up to it on trestles and unloaded as desired. It is a dark, dusty place, resembling the shaft of a mine, and the men working in it are as black as their surroundings from the time they start to work until they finish. As each car is dumped, there follows a roar and great clouds of dust which for a time entirely envelopes the men.

It was in one of these vaults that the accident occurred. One of the coal cars failed to dump and the men were sent to unload it.

Supt. Farnham of the gaslight company, said that these dump cars have been used since 1849. The cars known as "shovelers" are not favored now to any great extent. These cars have an appliance known as rockers and these are held by couplings. When the car is ready to be unloaded, the couplings are slipped and the car tilts enough to dump the contents.

In some manner, the rocker on this particular car which contained about four tons, became broken and Regan and Murphy were ordered by Foreman Peters to get into it and shovel out the contents.

He instructed them, he claims, to shovel from the upper side, but the men, having shovelled about the cars for years, took the easier way and worked from the lower side. As a result, when the car was about half emptied, the weight on one side caused it to tilt over. But the couplings not being unfastened so as to permit the car to dump, there was no relief for the strain on one side of the car and as a result the great weight lifted the car off the tracks, caused it, with its load of coal and unfortunate crew to topple over into the pit 10 feet below, the men being crushed between the stone wall and the car and buried under the great pile of coal.

A force of about 20 men went speedily to work on the debris and in about half an hour had succeeded in extricating the victims of the accident.

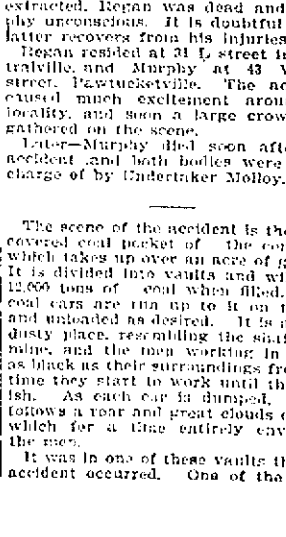

Regan had been instantly killed and Murphy died a few minutes after being taken from the pile. Murphy's head was horribly mangled.

Regan was 25 years of age and married. He is survived by two brothers, Martin and Thomas, and one sister, who resides in Pennsylvania. Murphy was 50 years of age and was also married. Besides his wife he leaves four children, John A., Cornelius, Abbie T., and Sadie A. Murphy; also two brothers, Michael and Patrick M., the latter being the fireman at the Whittier Cotton mills; and two sisters, Mary Powers and Maggie Murphy.

Regan had been employed by the company for about six years and Murphy for over 20 years.

Superintendent George W. Farnham said he had been connected with the gas company since 1852 and in all those years had never heard or seen anything to compare with the sad affair. In speaking of the men, Mr. Farnham said they were both good, reliable men.

The gaslight company did all in its power for the men and notified their families and the press of the accident as soon as possible after it happened.

AT SACRED HEART

Closing Exercises of the School Pupils

EXECELLENT PROGRAM WELL RENDERED

Address by Rev. Fr. Joyce O. M. I.

The closing exercises of the pupils of the school of the Sacred Heart parish were held yesterday afternoon in the school hall and were largely attended by the parents and friends. The stage was tastefully decorated with the Stars and Stripes. One feature of the exercises was the marching on and off the stage by the pupils to the tune, "Marching Through Georgia." Among the Oblate Fathers present were Rev. William D. Joyce, O.M.I., Rev. John P. Reynolds, O.M.I., Rev. D. Cagnon, O.M.I., Rev. Fr. Campos, O.M.I., Rev. Fr. McRory, O.M.I., Rev. Lawrence Tighe, O. M. I., Rev. D. Sullivan, O. M. I., and Rev John J. Duffy, O. M. I.

The program was as follows:

Opening hymn, "O Sacred Heart;" dialogue, "When Papa Was a Little Boy"; song, "The Cobbler;" coon song, "The Chicken's Mistake;" dialogue, "The Peace Maker;" song, "My First Music Lesson;" recitation, "What I Can Do;" instrumental trio; recitation, "The Birds' Picnic;" vacation song, dialogue, "Sick Dolls;" dialogue, "Boys' Complaint;" song, "Chiming Bells," proclamation of reports and distribution of prizes.

The program was exceedingly well rendered, considering the age of the pupils who were quite young and reflects much credit on the work of the instructors. In some numbers as many as 50 pupils appeared.

Rev. Fr. Reynolds introduced Rev. William D. Joyce, O.M.I., first pastor of the parish.

Fr. Joyce returned thanks for the honor conferred upon him and congratulated the pupils upon the good work demonstrated. He referred to his connection with the parish in 1851. He remained about one year and stated that it was always a pleasure for him to meet his old parishioners.

He described the parochial school as a great blessing. Such a school is needed in these days, he said. The good results attained by the Sisters are recognized by the parishioners and the good effect produced on the pupils of the school has its effect upon their associates who do not attend the parochial school. The Immaculate Conception school is not sufficiently large to accommodate the pupils. The reverend gentleman expressed the belief that the attendance at the Sacred Heart school would be largely increased in the future.

Continuing to speak of the parochial school, Fr. Joyce stated that the pupils of such school had in addition to the secular knowledge obtained in other schools a moral and religious training which would be of service during life. One of the chief troubles in this country today is that the mind is trained and the hearts neglected. The result is that many people have no moral training and are willing to do wrong provided they are not found out. The parochial school seeks to teach pupils the necessity of religion and morals and the training received bears good fruit in later years.

Premiums were distributed at the close, when the standing of each pupil was read.
